SAORSTAT EIREANN.

IN THE COURT OF THE RAILWAY TRIBUNAL.

RAILWAYS ACT, 1924.

STANDARD CHARGES—MINIMUM DISTANCES TO BE CHARGED FOR; MINIMUM CHARGES; MILEAGE GRADATIONS; FORMS OF SCHEDULES.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Court of the Railway Tribunal will sit at the Council Chamber, City Hall, Dublin, at 11.30 a.m., on Tuesday, the 17th day of November, 1925, to consider the proposals of the Great Southern Railways Company and objections lodged thereto in respect of:

(1) Minimum Distances to be charged for and Minimum Charges to be made under Section 45 of the Railways Act, 1924.
(2) Forms of Schedules under the Fifth Schedule of the said Act.
(3) Mileage Gradations in respect of Schedules under the Fifth Schedule of the said Act.

Dated this 2nd day of November, 1925. JOHN O'BRIEN, Registrar of the Railway Tribunal, 3 Upper Castle Yard, Dublin. 47/H 1262. W.H.Co.

SAORSTAT EIREANN. IN THE COURT OF THE RAILWAY TRIBUNAL. RAILWAYS ACT, 1924. PROPOSED NEW CLASSIFICATION OF GOODS.

NOTICE is hereby given that, in pursuance of Section 26 of the Railways Act, 1924, the Court of the Railway Tribunal will sit at the Council Chamber, City Hall, Dublin, at 11 a.m., on Wednesday, the 18th day of November, 1925, to consider the proposed Classification of Merchandise, as submitted by the Great Southern Railways Company and the objections lodged thereto.

Dated this 2nd day of November, 1925. JOHN O'BRIEN, Registrar of the Railway Tribunal, 3 Upper Castle Yard, Dublin. 47/H1266. W.H.Co.

STATUTORY NOTICE TO CREDITORS. In the Goods of JAMES INGLIS, late of 64 Upper Leeson street, in the County of Dublin, Esquire, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the Statute 22nd and 23rd Vic., cap. 35, all persons claiming to be creditors, or otherwise to have any claim or demand against the estate and assets of the said James Inglis, Deceased, who died on the 28th day of August, 1925, are hereby required, on or before the 20th day of December, 1925, to furnish (in writing) the full particulars of such claims or demands to the undersigned Solicitor for the Executors, to whom Probate of the Will and Codicils of the said Deceased were granted forth of the High Court of Justice, Saorstat Eireann, the Principal Registry, on the 23rd day of October, 1925.

And Notice is hereby further given that after the said 20th day of December, the said Executors will proceed to distribute the assets of said Deceased, having regard only to the claims and demands of which notice and particulars shall have been given as above required.

Dated this 9th day of November, 1925. BAKER, RINGWOOD and GORDON, Solicitors for the said Executors, 5 Clare street, Dublin.

SPECIAL FINAL NOTICE TO CREDITORS. SAORSTAT EIREANN. IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE—IN BANKRUPTCY. In the Matter of MICHAEL HOLOHAN, of Irishtown, Co. Kilkenny, Grocer and Spirit Merchant, a Bankrupt.

In the OLD BANKRUPTCY MATTER, in which the adjudication took place as far back as 21st JANUARY, 1908, it is the desire of the friends of the Bankrupt to pay the balance of 20/- in the £ still owing to the creditors. Owing to the destruction of all papers and documents in the Four Courts there is difficulty in ascertaining the creditors. Advertisements have already been issued and some claims received, but it is believed that there are still many creditors who have not sent in claims. This FINAL NOTICE is, therefore, given, and if neglected no provision can be made for persons who do not respond hereto. Claims should be sent to the undersigned Official Assignee not later than the 1st DECEMBER, 1925. A. G. HOLLINSHEAD, Official Assignee, Law Courts, The Castle, Dublin. Dated this 6th day of November, 1925. EDWIN M. LLOYD, Solicitor, 116 St. Stephen's Green, Dublin.

HOW I CURED MY RHEUMATISM.

SOME GOOD ADVICE BY C. S. TURNER, FORMERLY OF THE R.A.M.C.

Like stomach, liver or kidney disorders, and in fact most other bodily ills, rheumatism results simply from accumulations of impurities in the system. Call these germs, microbes, bacilli, toxins, uric acid or anything you like, but they are all impurities and form the primary cause of organic disease. I used to think the only way to stop rheumatic pain was to drug the nerves and vital organs into partial insensibility by taking opiates and narcotic drugs, or rubbing on liniments. But I know better than to recommend such purely temporary expedients now. Instead, take a level teaspoonful of refined Alkia Saltrates in water every second morning, before breakfast, and notice how quickly it dissolves and permanently clears out of your system all disease-causing impurities and painful uric acid deposits or sharp crystals in stiff joints and sore muscles. There is nothing better to cleanse and regulate a torpid liver or to flush out clogged kidneys. You can get some of this inexpensive standard compound from any chemist, and I have personally proved that it cures even the most severe case of rheumatism within a few days.—C. S. T.

Typical specimen of uric acid crystals, highly magnified. No wonder they hurt.

WOMAN AND HER HOME.

SIGHT.

"I thank my God that I can see
The blossom on the maple tree."

WITH a bright smile Mrs. Jordon quoted the words to herself as she shut the garden gate and retraced her steps to where her husband had told her the maple was, this morning, aflame with autumnal colouring.

With a sigh of satisfaction she gathered a few of the smaller leaves and pinned them against the soft grey of her pretty frock.

"That little poem on 'Trees in Canada,'" she said, "is one of the most delightful that The Observer has ever published. What a happy thought it was of the late owner of this little garden to plant the maple here. Ah, well, I must not linger, the day is all too short for all I have to do before John and the children come home."

The day was all too short, but with the assistance of her little maid of all work Mrs. Jordon got through it up to time. The belongings of big folk and the belongings of little folk repaired and dusted; tempting meals arranged and cooked; flowers indoors and outdoors attended to their best advantage; the spaniel's wounded paw tenderly dressed with due consideration for a spaniel's injured feelings; cat and birds provided with their several comforts, and last, but not least, a pretty little basket of violets gathered, packed, and sent to one to whom Life had been too prodigal of withered joys.

Four o'clock found Mrs. Jordon in her gay little drawingroom, with her knitting in hand and her busy brain at work on the happiest finish to the happiest of little stories, that was of her weekly contribution to a small periodical for work-a-day women, to whom bright-tempered thoughts were a real relief in their often-times harassed lives.

"My own life is so happy," Mrs. Jordon would say, "that it is never difficult to weave a little of my own good fortune into my little tales for other women."

To-day, with the memory of the maple aflame with beauty in her own garden and the lilt of the little poem—

"I thank my God that I can see
The blossom on the maple tree."

in her mind, the joyous ending to her story was easier than ever to conceive.

So engrossed that she did not notice the passing of the hour until the room grew a trifle chilly—

Had she delayed too long? She had missed the striking of the clock.

Putting aside her knitting she rang the little bell on the table by her side. She must ask Mary the time.

For Mrs. Jordon was blind.

FOR THE COOK.

HAY BOX COOKERY.

The idea of this method of cookery comes from Norway, where the Hay Box is much used.

It is to be recommended for business people who are from home all day, as they can thus come back to a nourishing meal, well cooked, and requiring only to be reheated.

TO PREPARE A HAY BOX.

A strong wooden box is required, an old trunk, or a sugar box obtained from the grocer would do. The lid should be fastened with hinges, and have a clasp in front. The cracks must all be filled in with putty, and the whole lined inside with brown paper or newspaper. The lid should also be lined. Another lining of flannel should then be added, and packed tightly with hay. A mattress of flannel, filled with hay, should be made for the top. The hay may be used loose or may be enclosed in pillows of black muslin.

SUITABLE FOODS.

All foods which may be cooked by boiling or stewing.

METHODS OF USING.

1. Prepare food in the usual way.
2. Use short-handled pots if possible.
3. Bring food to boiling point and cook well for a few minutes.
4. Take pan off, being careful that no live sparks adhere.
5. Wrap in paper or flannel, and transfer as quickly as possible to Hay Box.
6. Pack hay well round and cover. Place on mattress, fasten lid, and leave for several hours.
7. Take pan out, and reheat contents.

POINTS TO REMEMBER.

There should be at least six inches of hay at the bottom of the box.

The pan should be almost full to retain heat better.

Start cooking thoroughly on the fire.

Transfer pan to box as quickly as possible to prevent cooling.

Keep the lid tightly on to retain steam.

Always reheat food after removal from Hay Box.

This method of cookery takes about twice as long as the ordinary methods, but food does not spoil if left longer.

PORRIDGE.

Bring to boil, cook five to seven minutes, cook in Hay Box three to four hours or overnight.

IRISH STEW.

Simmer for half an hour, cook in Hay Box four to five hours.

POTATOES.

Boil two or three minutes, cook in Hay Box two hours.

BOILED BEEF.

Cook gently one hour, then in Hay Box five hours.

RICE OR ANY OTHER GRAINS.

Place milk and rice in pan, bring to boil, and cook slowly for five minutes. Cook in Hay Box four to five hours.

VEAL MOULD.

Ingredients.—One pound of cold meat, quarter pound boiled potatoes, four rashers of bacon, a dessertspoonful lemon juice, a piece lemon rind, one egg, salt, pepper, mustard, a little butter and milk.

Method.—Put the veal and the lean part of the bacon through a mincer. Rub the potatoes through a sieve, mash them with about half an ounce of butter and a tablespoonful of milk. Mix with the meat, add a good seasoning of salt and pepper, a little mustard (if liked), the lemon juice and the rind finely chopped. Moisten with the well-beaten egg, and mould it with the hands into an oval shape. Cover with the fat bacon (cut in narrow strips), and bake until brown in a quick oven. Serve hot.

MOCK DUCK.

Ingredients.—One and a half pounds lean steak, one Spanish onion, quarter teaspoonful sage, four ounces breadcrumbs, one egg, salt, pepper, half pint good brown stock, one rasher fat bacon, quarter pound dripping, one ounce butter, one teaspoonful flour.

Method.—Peel and chop the onion, put in a basin, cover with boiling water, and leave for five minutes, then strain, pressing all the water out. Add to the onion the breadcrumbs, salt, pepper, chopped sage, and bind with beaten egg.

Spread this forcemeat on the steak, roll up and tie into shape. Melt the dripping in a baking dish, when hot put in the "duck," with the rasher of bacon over it. Bake three-quarters of an hour in a moderate oven, basting frequently. Remove the bacon when the meat is nearly done to brown it well. Place on a hot dish, pour all the fat from the tin, pour in the stock, add butter and flour kneaded together, and stir until it has boiled. Pour over the "duck."

DOMESTIC SERVANT KILLED.

CORK POLICE SEARCHING FOR MOTOR CAR.

The Cork Civic Guards are searching for a motor car which knocked down and killed in Clontarf street, Cork, on last Friday night, a domestic servant, Kate Russell (45), who resided at 2 King's terrace, Lower road, Cork, and is a native of Templemore, Tipperary.

It appears that the deceased had been sent on a message shortly before she met her death. The evening was wet and stormy and few people were about.

At the inquest, which was opened on last Saturday and adjourned till next Saturday, it was stated that the woman's sight and hearing were good, but she was a bit weak-minded.

Mr. Matthew Fitzpatrick stated that a motor car passed him, travelling in the direction of Clontarf street, and going at about eight miles per hour. As the car was going on to the bridge he heard what he thought was a boy shout: "Oh, I'm killed!" The shouting continued as the car passed him over the bridge. Witness thought that the shouting came from inside the car, and that it was conveying someone to the infirmary. There were two men in the car, one driving and the other sitting beside him.

At the junction of Oliver Plunkett street and Clontarf street two men called him to show him a woman lying on the railway tracks in the centre of the road, unconscious, and bleeding from the head.

The inquiry, as stated, was adjourned.

ESCAPED LUNATIC RECAPTURED.

At four o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. J. Daly, Main street, Letterkenny, called at the police barracks there, and reported that a patient from the Mental Hospital had broken into his house. The patient was nearly naked and in possession of an iron bar. Detectives arrived and brought the man back to the asylum. He was very violent.

It transpired that the patient had jumped from a three-storey building, and then climbed the boundary wall.

The hospital committee yesterday commended the detectives for their action.

SLUMP IN OSTRICH FEATHERS.

Lovely ostrich feather fans can now be bought for a few half-crowns, and even sumptuous opera cloaks lined with feathers cost no more in shillings than they cost in pounds a year or two ago.

The reason is that the lovely plumes have disappeared from women's hats. No one now uses ostrich fans, and feather trimmings are strictly taboo.

Ostrich farmers in South Africa are killing off their birds and making what small profit they can from the skins, which are in vogue at present for leather goods and shoes.

Exports are now reckoned in thousands instead of millions, and the only consolation to the South African authorities is that there have been slumps in the ostrich feather trade before followed by booms.

FILM VERSION OF NATIONAL PILGRIMAGE.

At La Scala Theatre last night there was a large gathering of Ministers and officials of the Government to witness the exhibition of the film of the Irish National Pilgrimage to Rome. Those present included President Cosgrave and Mrs. Cosgrave, and party; Mr. Kevin O'Higgins, Minister for Justice, and party; Mr. J. J. Walsh, Minister for Posts and Telegraphs, and party; General Eoin O'Duffy, Chief Commissioner of the Civic Guard; Mr. Seumas Murphy, City Commissioner, and party; Mr. P. J. Hernon, City Commissioner, and party; Mr. Montgomery, film censor, and Mrs. Montgomery; and the Secretary and Committee of the Catholic Truth Society of Ireland were also present.

The film is a very realistic delineation of the movements of the pilgrims in Rome, and contains many features that will interest Dublin people. There are a couple of splendid scenes showing the Pope at the reception and Benediction of the pilgrims. Such objects of world-wide interest as St. Peter's, the old Roman Forum and the leaning tower of Pisa are well produced. The film is the work of Mr. Gordon Lewis, of Pathé Frères, who was specially retained by the management of La Scala to do the work.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW AT "THE MOORINGS."

The tenth annual exhibition of chrysanthemums, organised by Mr. and Mrs. John Good, at "The Moorings," Merrion road, in aid of Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, opens to-day, and will be continued during the week. The exhibits will be open from 3 to 6 p.m. each day, and it is hoped that they will be widely patronised, as all the proceeds will be devoted to the hospital funds.

YESTERDAY'S CASES IN THE COURTS.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY TO STEAL.

VERDICT SET ASIDE.

(BEFORE THE CHIEF JUSTICE, MR. JUSTICE SULLIVAN AND MR. JUSTICE HANNA.)

In the Court of Criminal Appeal, Mr. Martin Maguire, K.C., with whom was Mr. Sherry (instructed by Mr. James A. Scott), on behalf of Edward Conway, Spring Garden street, Dublin, appealed from a verdict at the Dublin Circuit Court, on the 30th July, before Judge Dromgoole and a jury, finding his client guilty on two counts of an indictment—one of conspiring with three others to steal grain from the stores of the Merchants' Warehousing Co., and one of receiving two tons of wheat, the property of the Merchants' Warehousing Co., knowing it to have been stolen. Counsel said that at the close of the case for the prosecution he applied, on behalf of the accused, for a direction that there was no evidence capable of being submitted to the jury on any of the charges against Conway, and he now submitted, on the evidence, of which he gave a summary, that there was no case against him on any of the counts.

Mr. Bewley (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor), who appeared for the Attorney-General, the respondent, said that he took it that the only question was, whether there was any evidence to go to the jury. The jury was entitled to take into consideration any suspicious circumstances, and he thought that the Court was bound to come to the conclusion that there was ample evidence on which a jury could convict.

The Court came to the conclusion that there was no evidence that the wheat found in the yard of the accused man was wheat stolen from the stores of the Merchants' Warehousing Company, and was of opinion that both counts failed.

The verdict accordingly was set aside.

CIVIL BILL OFFICER'S OFFENCE.

LEAVE TO APPEAL REFUSED.

James Sheehy, a civil bill officer, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 18 calendar months' hard labour, at the Circuit Court, Cork, applied for leave to appeal. He was not professionally represented.

Sheehy was convicted on an indictment of falsely pretending that he was authorised to collect and receive payments on the part of the Irish Land Commission.

Mr. Bewley opposed any reduction of the sentence.

The Chief Justice said that there could be no more heinous offence than that an executive officer of the court should act like a highwayman towards the citizens for whom he was supposed to act. The Court refused the application.

SENTENCE ON HOUSE-BREAKER.

APPEAL REJECTED.

George Bestier applied for leave to appeal against a sentence of five years penal servitude on a charge of housebreaking. The prisoner was not represented by counsel.

He was tried by Judge Kenny at Cork in October last. In his application the prisoner stated that consideration ought to be given to him, as this was his first offence in Ireland and he was willing to leave the country at his own expense on his discharge. He had given every assistance to the Civic Guard, and all the property that he was charged with stealing was restored, so that no one would be at a loss.

Mr. Bewley opposed the application.

The Chief Justice said that he thought the only regret that the Court had was that they were compelled to retain the prisoner so long in this country.

The application was refused.

KIDNAPPED AND IMPRISONED.

CORK SOLICITOR'S ACTION.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE MEREDITH.)

The hearing was resumed of the adjourned application on behalf of the defendants in the case of Carroll v. O'Brien and others for an order striking out various portions of the plaintiff's statement of claim on the ground of irrelevancy and of being contrary to the rules of Court, and extending the time for delivering a defence by Maurice O'Brien, the first-named defendant, he being absent in America.

The plaintiff was Anthony Carroll, solicitor, Fermoy, and the defendants were Maurice O'Brien, Maurice Madden, Patrick Donovan, Thomas Donovan, Anne Donovan, Timothy Donovan, junr., Matthias J. Donovan, John Madden, and James Walsh.

It appeared that the plaintiff was Crown Solicitor for the East Riding of Cork for many years, and afterwards State Solicitor up to December, 1922, part of his duty being to act as solicitor to the Irish Land Commission. In his statement of claim the plaintiff alleged that he had suffered damage on account of each of the defendants having, with others, unlawfully conspired to intimidate, kidnap, falsely arrest and imprison him, and by threats and menaces robbed him of £550. In April, 1922, the plaintiff was at the Mallow Quarter Sessions, having a number of civil bills for the Land Commission for the recovery of arrears of annuities. On the same evening it was stated, he was decoyed into the hall of his residence by Maurice O'Brien under the pretence of making a payment to the Land Commission. Two other men entered the hall, revolvers were produced, and the plaintiff was arrested and taken away in a motor car. While he was imprisoned in a cottage Maurice O'Brien and Maurice Madden came in and said to him: "You have been tried, found guilty and ordered to be shot. Have you anything to say? The charge is that you have been robbing the people through the Land Commission and you are the enemy of the country."

The plaintiff, under pressure, and in order to save his life, agreed to pay a fine of £550. He now claimed £5,000 damages for conspiracy, false imprisonment, assault and trespass, and for the trover and conversion of the £550.

Mr. Geoghegan, K.C., and Mr. G. Gavan Duffy (instructed by Messrs. Crowley, Bolger and Cusack) appeared for the defendants in support of the application; and Mr. Wood, K.C., and Mr. Rearden (instructed by Mr. E. Carroll), for the plaintiff, in opposition to it.

Mr. Justice Meredith adjourned the application for a week.

A CO. DUBLIN QUARRY.

INJUNCTION AGAINST COUNTY COUNCIL.

In the case of McKeon v. the Dublin County Council an application was made on behalf of the plaintiff, James McKeon, of Corballis House, Cloghran, Co. Dublin, for an interlocutory injunction, pending the trial of the action, restraining the County Council of Dublin and their contractors, Messrs. Grainger Bros., Holywood, County Dowa, from working a quarry at Cloghran, Co. Dublin, in such a manner as to injure or endanger the property of the plaintiff or the persons or lives of the plaintiff and the members of his family.

Mr. Dockrell, K.C., who, with Mr. Newett (instructed by Messrs. Wm. Shannon and Co.) appeared for the plaintiff, stated that this quarry, which was acquired by the County Council and given free of charge to Messrs. Grainger Bros. to be worked by them for the purpose of carrying on an extensive road contract, had been worked in a manner endangering the plaintiff's cattle and the lives of the members of his family. The defendants had been communicated with in reference to the matter again and again, and while they promised to do all that they could to prevent what had been complained of, they had done nothing whatever. The plaintiff, whose child, aged four years, had narrowly escaped serious injury, had a large farm of about 220 acres adjoining the quarry.

Mr. W. G. Shannon, K.C., who, with Mr. Fallon (instructed by Mr. T. Early) appeared for the County Council, stated that his clients had really no control over the situation at all, the quarry having been handed over for the purposes of the contract to Messrs. Grainger Bros., who, he understood, had closed down the quarry for the time being. This had thrown over 80 men out of employment. According to the contract, Messrs. Grainger Bros. were to work the quarry in an economical, effective and proper manner to the satisfaction of the County Surveyor. The contractors had given an undertaking to that effect. The County Council relied on their undertaking, and they could do no more than that.

Mr. Walker (instructed by Messrs. Milward, Jones and Sharpe), for the contractors, said that they resided out of the jurisdiction, and that though the writ in the action had been issued they had not been served with it, or with a notice of the present application. They were, however, willing to give an undertaking not to work the quarry in a dangerous or improper manner, of course, pending the trial.

Mr. Justice Meredith granted an interlocutory injunction against the County Council, who, he said, had a perfect right to see that the provisions of the contract with respect to the working of the quarry were properly carried out. He reserved the question of costs, with liberty to apply.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT.

EMBEZZLEMENT AND HOUSEBREAKING.

MANY SENTENCES.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE O'SHAUGHNESSY.)

William McLean, found guilty of having, while armed, robbed Michael Gleeson, treasurer of the Amalgamated House and Shop Painters' Union, of £46 at Belvidere place, Dublin, on the 24th October, 1924, was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude.

John Nolan, Richard Dalton and John Reynolds were each sentenced to three years' penal servitude for having assaulted and robbed Jane Ronan, postmistress of Ballytig Post Office, Co. Longford. They stole some jewellery and a quantity of shop goods.

Five years' penal servitude was the sentence imposed on Patrick J. Cullen, who pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of £5,800 while in the employment of Messrs. Hampton, Leedom and Co., Dublin.

Mr. Joseph O'Connor, K.C., in an appeal for leniency, said that Cullen was an ex-officer of the British Army, who had been mentioned in despatches and was awarded the Military Cross during the Great War. He spent the money he embezzled foolishly by opening a riding establishment near the Phœnix Park, and appeared to have become affected by the moral laxity prevailing after 1922.

Mr. Carrigan remarked that a large number of cheques had been forged.

The Judge, in passing sentence, said that he was dealing very leniently with the prisoner, adding that he had to protect the public.

Convicted of rescuing, while armed, a prisoner named Patrick Ryan, of Newtown, Enniscorthy, from the custody of the Civic Guards at Pallas East Railway Station, and of forcibly taking possession of a motor car, David Reck, Enniscorthy, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, with hard labour, from the date of arrest (July 15th).

His Lordship remarked that the prisoner appeared to be one of those gentlemen who worshipped the revolver, and used it to terrorise an unarmed police force.

Patrick Ryan, who was rescued on the occasion, was also sentenced to two years' imprisonment, with hard labour, from the 20th May. Ryan, said his lordship, had been convicted of attempting to drive out of his employment a decent, hard-working man named Waters, who had lived in Enniscorthy for years. Ryan's arguments were threatening letters and the revolver, and both of which were going to be put a stop to.

James Tobin, a Dublin boy, found guilty of house-breaking at 16 Clare street and 3 Molesworth lane, where he stole books and fountain pens, was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, the sentence not to take effect if he kept the peace. The judge expressed the hope that prisoner would avail of the opportunity to grow up a decent, self-respecting citizen.

Joseph Martin (Longford), who pleaded guilty to shooting at and wounding Patrick Farrell, was bound over to come up for sentence of eighteen months' imprisonment, with hard labour, if called upon, and to pay £20 compensation to Farrell.

Mr. Carrigan, Senior State Counsel, said that the case arose out of greed for land.

His Lordship expressed appreciation of the advice Mr. W. J. Gleeson (instructed by Mr. Kenny, Longford) had given his client to plead guilty, and said it enabled him to take a lenient view of the case.

John Joseph Gilligan, Limerick, found guilty of an indecent assault on a married woman, was sent to prison for two years, with hard labour.

SALE OF SALMON IN CLOSE SEASON

CORK HOTEL MENUS TO BE INSPECTED.

"Seven illegal nets were taken in the Cork district during the past fortnight, and salmon is hawked round the private houses of the suburbs and hotels of the city," said the Secretary of the Cork Board of Fishery Conservators in a report presented on Saturday. "I have had the railway stations, boats and markets closely watched, but no salmon was sent away. Therefore, all the fish was bought privately by householders."

On the suggestion of the Chairman it was agreed to empower the Secretary to inspect the menus at hotels when he considered it necessary, in order to assist in tracing those who bought the salmon during the close season.

He also suggested that a letter should be sent to the authorities asking that, as the spawning season had arrived, active sergeants should be placed in charge of the Civic Guards at all rivers in which spawning was done.

THE DECLARATION OF ALLEGIANCE.

3/- A WEEK RENT COLLECTOR TO SIGN.

At the meeting of the Fermoy Urban Council a letter was read from the Minister for Local Government enclosing a form of queries respecting the appointment of Mr. David O'Callaghan as rent collector. The form is to be returned when signed, together with a statement as to whether Mr. O'Callaghan had signed the declaration required by the Local Government Act.

Mr. G. Power proposed that he should not sign the declaration. It was a most ridiculous thing for a paltry 3s. a week to ask a man to sign such a document. He said that they had an official of over 25 years' service without any charge or complaint against him, and some official in Dublin required him to sign a declaration of allegiance on account of getting 3s. per week.

The Chairman (Mr. T. Daly) said that he did not see why there should be any discussion at all, as they had a Government, and they should abide by its laws.

Mr. G. Power proposed that the Council protest against Section 71 of the Act, which enforced a political test by a declaration of allegiance to the Free State.

Mr. W. Power proposed a direct amendment. Politics, he said, should be left out of the Council altogether. The Government was established, and the Council were carrying out their orders at every meeting, and if they did not want to there was no necessity for them to attend the meetings.

Mr. Ryan seconded the amendment. It was altogether a matter for the official, and he did not think that Mr. O'Callaghan had any objection.

After the amendment was declared carried, the Clerk handed the declaration to Mr. O'Callaghan, and said that he could now do what he wished.

RINGSEND BRIDGE.

REBUILDING SUGGESTED.

At a meeting last night of the Pembroke Urban Council a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. M'Entee, Britain, Maguire, and Beckett, was appointed to consider the question of rebuilding and widening Ringsend Bridge.

The matter arose on a suggestion of Mr. Maguire that the Clerk should be instructed to apply for sanction to a loan for the purpose. Mr. Maguire stated that the bridge was so narrow that it constituted a regular death trap as far as traffic was concerned. An approximate estimate by the Surveyor in April, 1922, gave the probable cost of the work at £10,000.

THE TRAMWAY CARS.

It was decided, in the interests of public health, to ask the Dublin United Tramways Company to provide covered cars on the route from Nelson Pillar to Sandymount Tower.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

JUDGMENT IN THE METROPOLE CASE.

ALL SUMMONSES DISMISSED.

(BEFORE MR. C. P. CUSSEN.)

At the sitting of the Court the Justice gave his decision in the case in which Percy Fairfax, an assistant chef in the Metropole Restaurant, summoned Francis O'Rourke and Patrick J. Wall, directors of the restaurant, and Sergeant Mark Byrne, detective officer, for assault, dismissing all the summonses.

The case made by the complainant was that on the 5th October, when he went to get paid off—his services being dispensed with—at the secretary's office he was assaulted by the defendants. He had previously complained about the quality of the meat that was to be cooked.

Defendants' case was that the complainant received the injuries while attempting to get through the window of the office, and that they had to restrain him.

The Justice said that the volume of evidence tendered on behalf of all parties, except Sergeant Byrne, showed that they regarded the charge as of supreme importance. The three first-named defendants, from their evidence and the observations of their counsel, appeared to present the proposition that the Transport Union had deliberately planted Fairfax in the Metropole to give trouble. He could not find an iota of evidence to justify such a proposition against a body who were no parties to these proceedings and regretted that such a charge had been made. The only connection that the union had with Fairfax appeared from the evidence of Mr. Charles Ridgeway, a trade union official, who said Fairfax asked for his aid in getting evidence.

CONDITION OF THE MEAT.

Referring to the meat, which Fairfax contended was bad, the Justice said that it had no bearing on the case, save as regarded a possible motive for the assaults Fairfax said had been committed. So much had been made of this particular matter that he thought it necessary and desirable to state emphatically that no evidence had been produced on which any court could hold that the meat was bad. Fairfax was not justified in suggesting, as he undoubtedly intended, that the termination of his employment was in any way due to his complaint about this meat. He (the Justice) believed that when he made the complaint he knew that he was going.

The facts proved by the evidence were that Fairfax entered the employment as larder chef on September 21st, and he accepted the evidence of Mrs. Delasure as to the terms and conditions of employment. He could not believe Fairfax's account of the hiring. From the start Fairfax was not satisfied with the hours, and friction between him and Cranny added to his dissatisfaction. Cranny's statement that he believed Fairfax left the doors of the refrigerator open to turn the meat bad was quite ridiculous. The directors had before the end of September decided not to retain Fairfax in their employment. Fairfax, he (the Justice) believed, knew this, and he considered it was, partly at least, the cause of his complaint about the meat. He complained on the 5th October to Mrs. Delasure and at the City Hall as to the quality of the meat, and inspectors visited the restaurant at 10.30 on that day, and there was no evidence to show there was anything wrong.

COMPANY'S POSITION.

At 1.30 p.m. Fairfax had an interview with the Secretary, who said that Fairfax gave notice, and applied for an extra week's wages if he went at once. It was to be regretted that the Secretary did not feel entitled to at once pay what Fairfax demanded. At 5 p.m. Fairfax renewed his demand, adding—"If I get the money I'll return to England the following morning, and, if not, I'll remain and give evidence in a possible meat prosecution." From that time it became impossible for the company to give Fairfax any more than what he was entitled to by law; and to comply with the demand the company would have placed themselves in a false position, and the directors acted rightly in refusing. He believed Fairfax went into the hall to create a scene.

Referring to what took place in the Secretary's office, he said that it was to be regretted that Sergeant Byrne did not show Fairfax his warrant, and that he allowed O'Rourke and Wall to be present while interrogating Fairfax.

Reviewing the evidence given by Fairfax and the defendants, he said that he believed Fairfax while in the room was in fear, but five witnesses contradicted the complainant's story. There was an absence of any possible motive for the alleged assault, and the numerous and serious inaccuracies in Fairfax's evidence—he did not care to use a stronger term—he did not think it necessary to detail.

"LOST HIS HEAD."

He believed that Fairfax completely lost his head and forgot he was in a civilised country, where law and order was observed, and behaved like a madman—rushed first to one window and then to another, and, as he admitted, went through a pane of glass and cut himself badly. The defendants restrained Fairfax. To hold that the defendants assaulted him would be absurd, and he believed that Mr. Wall's account of what occurred in the hall was the correct one.

He dismissed all the summonses, and wished to make it clear that Sergeant Byrne believed that the complainant knew who he (Sergeant Byrne) was.

DISREGARDED GUARD'S SIGNAL.

TAXI DRIVER'S LICENCE ENDORSED.

Thomas J. Ramsey, a taxicab driver, was fined £1 for driving his car in a manner dangerous to the public; 10s. for failing to stop when signalled by a Guard, and was cautioned for disregarding the Guard's signal. The defendant was driving from Stephen's Green to Grafton street at a speed of between 15 and 20 miles an hour, and a pony and cart had to be turned the wrong side to avoid an accident.

In addition to the fine, the defendant's licence was initialled by the Justice.

ALLEGED FORGERY.

ACCUSED REMANDED IN CUSTODY.

(BEFORE MR. LITTLE.)

James McDermott, alias James L. McDermot, of no fixed address, described as an electrician, was remanded in custody for a week, on the charge of obtaining from the Munster and Leinster Bank, Dame street, £89 12s., by means of a worthless cheque.

Mr. Kean Hurley, cashier at the Dame street Branch of the Munster and Leinster Bank, gave evidence that the cheque (produced), which was drawn for £89 12s. in favour of J. Efferson, by the Overseas Trade Syndicate, and endorsed by J. Efferson, of 75 Merrion square, was presented to him for payment on October 16th. The cheque came out of a book issued to a Mr. Mellet, who was a customer of the bank. The number on the cheque, as it now appeared, was 477,101, but the real number was 477,191. The latter number would be out of a cheque book issued to a Mr. James McDermott. The cheque appeared to be initialled by a Mr. James Murphy, an official of the bank, before presentation. He cashed the cheque for the prisoner.

Detective Officer Durkin, who arrested the accused, said that he found on his person a cheque book on the National Bank, College Green, and two cheques—one for £38 15s., drawn in the name of J. B. Stack, and payable to J. L. McDermott, and the other for £38 2s. 6d., drawn in favour of Michael Russell.

Mr. Arthur Kieran, sub-manager, Dorset street Branch of the Munster and Leinster Bank, said that the accused had an account at his branch of the bank. The cheque for £89 12s. would be out of the cheque book issued to defendant, whose account was overdrawn by about £20 on the 16th October last.

Detective Inspector O'Connell said that when he charged the defendant he denied all knowledge of the matter.

RATHMINES-PEMBROKE TRAM SERVICE.

A correspondent suggests that the Dublin Tramways Company should run the Kenilworth and Lansdowne cars to the Royal Dublin Society's Blackrock road entrance. This, he says, would be a great boon to residents in Ranelagh, Leeson Park, Rathmines and Rathgar who attend the Royal Dublin Society's recitals. Such persons at present have to walk from the stopping place at Pembroke road, a walk which takes ten minutes.

DUBLIN CIRCUIT COURT

APPLICATION FOR HOTEL LICENCE.

JUDGE POSTPONES DECISION.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE DROMGOOLE.)

An application was made on behalf of the Hotel Russell, St. Stephen's Green, for a hotel licence.

Mr. Victor Serigney, manager of the hotel; Mr. E. M. Hewitt, agent for American Express Company, and Mr. John P. O'Brien, Secretary of the Irish Tourists' Association, gave evidence in support of the application.

It was stated in the evidence that the trade of this hotel was suffering by reason of the fact that no licence was attached to it. A sum of £2,000 had recently been expended in having improvements carried out. It was also stated that tourists avoided a hotel of this description because of its being without a licence. The purchase of a licence attached to a house in Kevin street had been practically completed with a view to its extinction.

Mr. Vincent Rice, K.C. (for the Licensed Grocers' and Vintners Association), opposing the application, said that a similar application on behalf of this hotel had been refused a year ago.

The application was allowed to stand for a week, the Judge stating that he would consider it favourably on the purchase being completed with a view to the extinction of an existing licence in Kevin street.

CONVICTIONS AFFIRMED.

MOTORISTS' APPEALS FAIL.

Charles E. McCauley, 15 Longford terrace, Monkstown, appealed against a decision of Mr. Collins, District Justice, fining him £5 for driving a motor car at the rate of thirty miles an hour at Rock road, Williamstown, on the 13th May last.

Evidence was given by the police in support of the case.

The appellant gave evidence that on the occasion in question he was driving a Ford car; that he was aware of the fact that the police were "timing" the speed, and that, as a matter of fact, he was not driving at a greater rate than from eighteen to twenty miles an hour. He was unable to attend the hearing at the District Court.

The Judge said that, having regard to the police evidence, he was satisfied that the speed was excessive, and he affirmed the conviction.

Cecil Moore Dobbs, Winton Lodge, Monkstown, appealed from a decision of Mr. Collins fining him 21s. for failing to stop a motor car which he was driving at Rock road, Booterstown, on the 8th June, when signalled to do so by the police.

The conviction was affirmed.

DARTRY ROAD INCIDENT.

Mrs. O. M. Sheehan, 74 Marlborough road, Donnybrook, appealed against a decision of Mr. Collins fining her £5 for, as alleged, recklessly driving a motor car along Dartry road on the 6th June last.

Denis Murray, telegraph messenger, said that as he was riding a motor cycle in Dartry road on the evening in question the appellant's car approached from the Milltown direction, struck against the front wheel, and threw him on to the roadway, his foot being injured.

The appellant said that she was driving the car at a moderate rate on second gear. Another car was following her which wanted to pass her car out, and created a din by continually sounding its horn. The witness sounded her horn. The motor cyclist came out at Orwell Park and struck against the left running board of her car. Witness was driving at about eight miles an hour, and she did not hear the motor cyclist sound his horn.

The Judge affirmed the conviction.

APPEAL ADJOURNED.

John J. Reddy, 52 Dawson street, appealed against a decision of Mr. Collins fining him £6 for driving at a speed dangerous to the public at the corner of Northumberland road at Haddington road on the 11th of August last.

Mr. F. Monks (instructed by Messrs. Murphy and Malling) said that he held a watching brief for the Irish Motorists' Union, of which the appellant was a member.

Mr. Justice Dromgoole explained that the Association had no more rights or privileges in the matter than any member of the outside public who came into court and could not be recognised as parties to the case, though he was glad to see Mr. Monks.

Guard Mulvihill gave evidence in support of the prosecution.

Mr. Reddy said that, as an expert, on an average he gave instructions to between fifty and one hundred persons each year in the driving of motors. He had special knowledge of the subject, and was well acquainted with the regulations. He altogether traversed the statements on which the prosecution was founded.

The case was adjourned until this morning.

HARE KILLED BY DOGS.

CORK COURSING CLUB PROSECUTION.

Jeremiah Cronin, 85 High street; John Beecher, 4 Park Owen, and George Atkinson, 76 Hibernian Buildings, were, at the Cork District Court yesterday, summoned at the suit of Mr. George Hutchinson, honorary secretary of the Cork Southern Coursing Club, for having, on Sunday, September 27th, at Rathmacullig, entered on the lands of Timothy O'Connell to look for hares, being provided with dogs, and not being duly authorised to enter such lands.

Mr. H. P. F. Donegan, solicitor (for the prosecution), said that on September 27th the gamekeeper, Edward Cunningham, saw the defendants on the lands of Mr. O'Connell. He heard a hare scream, the dogs having pounced on her in the farm, and when he (gamekeeper) came on the scene each of the three men endeavoured to catch a dog. The hare killed was a young one, and the stocking of those lands had cost the club £30, most of the hares put down being put on the lands adjoining this particular farm. The public were invited to come and see the coursing with this club every Sunday, but those men, who contributed nothing, went there for the purpose of brutally killing the hares.

For the defence, Jeremiah Cronin said that he, with the other defendants, was going through the lands to get to the Glen for the purpose of hunting rabbits. They had with them a ferret, two terriers, and a half-bred pomeranian. They had been hunting the Glen before and had never been stopped. They had passed through the lands once before, but never hunted it for hares. On this occasion the dogs jumped on the hare; they did their best to save her. They were more than sorry and apologised to the gamekeeper. The hare was still alive when the gamekeeper came up, and it was he (the gamekeeper) killed her.

Mr. Donegan—Is it not strange we find you where the hares were laid down? What is the value of a dead hare to you?

Witness—You would not get much for it.

The other defendants corroborated.

The case was adjourned for a week.

MOTOR CYCLING ACCIDENT.

YOUNG MAN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS.

Two shop assistants from Navan on Sunday night found Mr. Thomas Higgins, a teacher of Irish, lying unconscious on the Navan road, and took him to the Meath County Infirmary. He was suffering from a severe wound on the head. At noon yesterday he had not recovered consciousness, and grave doubts were entertained of his recovery. Mr. Higgins had been riding a motor cycle, and it is not clear whether he collided with a wayside object or with another vehicle.

A WILD GOOSE CHASE.

AVIATOR CHARGED WITH BRINGING DOWN BIRD.

Lieutenant F. C. Nelson, of the United States Army Air Service, has been arrested on a charge of driving, killing, and capturing a Canadian goose from, and with the aid of, an aeroplane.

Nelson was flying with a passenger on October 31 last year, when, it is alleged, he drove his aeroplane into a flock of geese, the propeller knocking one of the birds to the ground. It is further stated that a landing was made to recover the goose, during which the machine was damaged.

Lady Peel, more familiarly known to playgoers as the famous Revue Artiste of the London and New York "Charlot Revues," writes:—

"IT is quite true to say that Phosferine helps me to do that "little bit more," with the pace and zest which pleases the public. As one must work hard at being successful, and it needs a lot of unsparing and unflagging effort to keep it up, Phosferine always makes me feel sure that my stock of energy is well on the right side. I am sure that even the most overworked man or woman will in a short time agree with me that Phosferine makes the pressure of work less serious, and the enjoyment of leisure more frequent." IMPORTED BICYCLES.

FALSE TRADE DESCRIPTIONS.

At the monthly Council meeting of the Irish Industrial Development Association (incorporated) Messrs. A. Cox and Co., solicitors, wrote informing the Council that a conviction had been obtained in the case brought by the Association (acting through their inspector) against Dublin cycle merchants for wrongfully marking bicycles not of Irish manufacture with a false trade description, and for selling a bicycle with such false label attached. A fine of £2 and £50 costs were imposed by the District Justice.

Messrs. P. Pierce and Co., Ltd., Wexford, in a letter to the Association, stated that "the Irish cycle manufacturers here suffered grievous injury by imported machines being marked with local titles suggestive of Irish origin, and we believe that the efforts of your Association will check this irregularity, to the advantage of genuine Irish manufacturers."

LAID 54,000 BRICKS.

Every brick and stone used in the construction of the war memorial just unveiled at Coalville was laid by Mr. Bruce Dennis and his son, of Ashby road; who are employed by a local firm of builders. The memorial is a clock tower nearly 70ft. high, and in it are 54,000 bricks besides the stonework.

BRITISH and FOREIGN PATENTS have been ACQUIRED in connection with a PROCESS and PLANT for the FURTHER-DRYING by ARTIFICIAL HEAT of PEATS that have been to a great extent air-dried, and other materials.
THESE PATENTS are FOR SALE in the first place to British Firms, and failing these to Firms Abroad. Terms and Conditions will be given to any large Firm of Boilermakers or Engineers in Great Britain who make direct inquiry. No information or demonstrations will be given to Company Promoters, Solicitors, Law Agents, or Accountants, or other Agents. Information in the form of Certified Reports by Competent Authorities is available for production to approved inquirers; and Demonstrations will be given on acceptance by intending buyers of the terms and conditions that are required.
The Plant has also been adapted for the Evaporation of Liquids and for the Generation of Steam. One great objection in all modern steam boilers is that the end plate at the back of the boiler becomes coated with sediment owing to the low temperatures experienced. By firing from both ends of the boiler simultaneously and by having uniform heating at most parts of the boiler, great economies can be effected in the evaporation of liquids and therefore in steam raising. It is expected that the steam boiler types of plant will be particularly adaptable for yachts and vessels attending harbour officials and Admiralty dockyards.
Boilermakers and Engineers are referred to the published reports of the Fuel Research Board about the Peat Areas that are presently being worked and Potential Areas in all the Counties of the Northern Hemisphere.
No application for Shares of this Company will be considered, and no transfer of existing Shares will be permitted.

IRISH LITERARY SOCIETY, LONDON.

The Irish Literary Society will give a dinner on Monday, November 30, at the Florence Restaurant, Rupert street, London, W., to Mr. W. B. Yeats, one of the founders of the Society. The programme of the autumn session includes a lecture on "Memories of an Irish Boyhood," by Mr. Con. O'Leary, at Caxton Hall, Westminster, on Saturday evening, November 21; a lecture on "Richard Brinsley Sheridan," by Mr. R. A. King, President of the Society, at Caxton Hall on Thursday, December 3; and on Saturday, December 19, also at Caxton Hall, Lord Morris will lecture on "Ireland's best-known Bard."

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1925.

IRELAND.

Yesterday a party of armed men seized the Ypres film, which was about to be shown in the Masterpiece Cinema, Dublin, and carried it off. Another party took away the film of the Prince of Wales's tour from a Kingstown picture house, and a third party raided the offices of the Legion of ex-Servicemen in Dawson street, Dublin.—(Page 5.)

Irish dairying was the subject of an address delivered at the Rotary Club meeting in Dublin yesterday by Mr. Denis Hegarty, General Secretary of the Irish Creamery Managers' Association.—(Page 6.)

Judgment was given in the Metropole case yesterday, when all the summonses were dismissed.—(Page 3.)

The Belfast Corporation have applied to the Local Government Board of Northern Ireland for sanction to a loan of £250,000 to make advances under the Small Dwellings Acquisition Acts.—(Page 6.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

Mr. Chamberlain expressed the view in London last night that no statesman could shoulder the responsibility of rejecting the Locarno Pact.—(Page 5.)

ABROAD.

M. Painlevé's financial proposals are being whittled down.—(Page 5.)

SPORTING.

At Lincoln yesterday Box Hill won the Great Tom Plate.—(Page 8.)

At Cheltenham Elson won the Cheltenham Handicap Steeplechase.—(Page 8.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were quiet. Rubber Shares were easier. United Havanas were a strong spot.—(Page 9.)

Loan conditions in Lombard street were comfortable, and overnight advances were made at 4 per cent. down to 3½ per cent. Discount rates showed very little change.—(Page 9.)

Dublin market was quiet. Guinness Shares touched 74. Courtaulds fell to 145s. 9d., and Dublin Distillers Preference lost 7s. 6d. at 42s. 6d.—(Page 9.)

France's Problem.

The adjournment of the French Chamber until to-day has given M. Painlevé a short breathing space in which to assemble his forces for the final fight over his finance proposals; but there seems now to be no chance of his being able to pass his Bill through both Houses before Thursday, when the balance sheet of the Bank of France is due to appear. His scheme has failed. It represents an attempt to compromise between the Caillaux programme, which was rejected summarily by the Cartel des Gauches, and the Socialist demand, formulated by M. Leon Blum, for a capital levy and a moratorium. Like many other compromises, this scheme has done nothing to please either side. The parties of the Right condemn it on the ground that the Premier has tried to commit them to a capital levy under the slight camouflage of a "national contribution"; the Socialists will not have it because it imposes burdens on rich and poor alike, whereas, of course, their aim is to mulct the wealthy alone. If M. Painlevé modifies his plans to suit the Socialists, his Bill will pass the Chamber, but will be thrown out by the Senate, in which case the deadlock that led to the fall of the Herriot Government will repeat itself. If he tries to placate the Right, his Bill will be rejected by the Chamber. The Premier, therefore, is on the horns of a dilemma, and there is very little hope of his Government's survival, whatever he may decide to do to-day. This time there is no obvious successor. M. Briand is too old a hand to want to pull the chestnuts out of such a hot fire; M. Herriot is a sick man and M. Caillaux is out of the question. For the moment the crisis seems to be insoluble, but there always is the hope in France that the hour will bring forth the man.

There is nothing very novel about M. Painlevé's proposals. He has tried to raise an annual increase of income of six milliards of francs for a period of fourteen years, to be devoted entirely to the cancellation of the floating debt. To that end he suggests a poll tax on all adults, native and alien, a super-tax on salaries above 50,000 francs a year, a luxury tax on all "unproductive wealth," such as art collections, jewellery, books and the like above the capital value of £500, and, finally, the much discussed "national contribution." The idea is that every owner of wealth or capital above a certain fixed sum shall be assessed for this tax, and shall be expected to pay his quota over a period of fourteen years in annual instalments. A very liberal discount, however, will be granted for spot cash, and M. Painlevé apparently believed, when he proposed the tax, that advantage would be taken of this inducement by a large number of property owners. To tide over the immediate demands of the financial situation, the Premier proposes to secure liberal advances from the Bank of France to be repaid by the yield of his new taxes; and he stated frankly on Sunday that further inflation would be unavoidable. This admission determined the Socialists' attitude; for they will not have inflation at any price. Already the currency has been swollen to such an extent that the floating debt has reached an appalling figure, and the value of the franc is sinking steadily. The Socialists argue that the only hope of financial salvation lies in the consolidation of all the many short term debts which various Governments have incurred. They regard a capital levy as the surest and the speediest way out of the difficulty, and in their present temper they are not likely to compromise their maximum demand.

The call for a "National Union Government" is becoming more and more insistent throughout the Republic. The people, whose eyes now have been opened to the gravity of the country's plight, are sick of political intrigue and self-seeking. They hold that the present crisis, in many ways, is no less acute than the crisis of 1914, and believe that political differences ought to be sunk in an effort to pull France back from the edge of the financial abyss. Where is the man to lead such a Government? The present chieftains of French politics are committed irrevocably to their several policies, and distrust one another profoundly. None of them seems to be capable of uniting the nation in a great effort, or of persuading the people to make the necessary sacrifices to save themselves and their country from ruin. There is an old man in a cottage in La Vendée who might succeed where all the others have failed; but Georges Clemenceau, although his prestige is unimpaired, has turned his back on the hurry and bustle of political life. He did his great work in the war, and he is tired. Yet his is the only name that suggests itself; for, with the exception of M. Briand, the statesmen of France to-day seem to be of a poor stature. In the great crises of 1870 and 1914 the French people did not hesitate to give all that they had to save their country from destruction. Now no armed foe confronts them; but they are threatened with a fate even more humiliating than a military defeat. National bankruptcy is an ugly term, but it is perilously close to France to-day. The nation's credit can be saved only by immediate action, regardless of personal consequences and dictated solely by the paramount interests of France.

Armistice Day.

To-morrow the seventh anniversary of Armistice Day will be celebrated everywhere, and nowhere with finer fervour and solemnity than in the City of Dublin. There are many in the Free State who have not accepted the peace with England, and some of these—as we hope, a very small minority—are ready to discharge their rancour upon the memories of the Irish soldiers who fell in the Great War. These people insist that to-morrow's ceremony in Dublin will be a political demonstration—of course, it will be nothing of the kind—and, since they cannot prevent it, they are trying to spoil it. The ex-Service men have at least one legitimate grievance against the Free State Government, which has banned the observance of Armistice Day in College Green. Some people, it is evident, are planning to inflame the grievance with a policy of pin-pricks. Their notion seems to be that, if a serious strain can be put upon the tempers of the thousands of old soldiers who will assemble to-morrow in St. Stephen's Green, any trifling incident—a student's hilarity, for instance—may provoke a disorder which would suffice to mar the dignity of the day. We are entirely confident that such hopes, if they exist, will be defeated. The Irish ex-Service men have a strict discipline in their bones. The nerves which stood the test of the Salient and of Suvla Bay will not be shaken by taunts at home. The ceremonial programme will be observed to the letter, and the word of command will be as potent as it was on the fields of Flanders. The men's sense of restraint and responsibility will be shared by all who will support them in the great act of remembrance and homage. So will this Armistice Day be made worthy of the gallant dead, of their living comrades and of the capital of Ireland.

Irish Food Prices.

During the coming session of the Oireachtas the people of the Irish Free State will expect President Cosgrave's Government to find means to bring down the cost of living. The people of Ireland are poorer than the people of England; yet for almost every one of the prime necessaries of life they have to pay higher prices. Prices in the Free State are even higher than in Northern Ireland. First of all of human needs is bread. To-day, while a housewife in Dublin expends ten shillings and sixpence on bread, her sister in Belfast spends only nine shillings and sixpence, while their cousin in London can obtain the same quantity of bread for her household for eight shillings or even less. It needed recommendations by the British Government's Food Commission to induce the English bakers three weeks ago to bring the price of the loaf down by a penny to its present figure. The bakers of Dublin were expected at least to follow suit forthwith; for it was well known that they could afford to bring bread prices nearer to the English level. They hesitated until public indignation found voice, and then they were constrained to remit one farthing in the price of the half-quartern loaf. Clearly it is the duty of the Free State Government to take action at least as drastic as that taken by Mr. Baldwin's Government. Milk prices are almost, if not quite, as anomalous as bread prices. From the main streets of both Dublin and Belfast men can see the green pastures of the hills—so near is the urban centre to the countryside. Clearly, milk should be cheaper in Irish cities than in London, which requires supplies brought from remote distances. To-day, however, milk is dearer in Belfast than in London, and dearer in Dublin than in Belfast. The discrepancy between prices in the two Irish capitals is indefensible. It cannot be dearer to produce milk in the agricultural counties around Dublin than in Antrim and Down. If the Belfast housewife pays sixpence when the Dublin housewife pays sevenpence, the cause is to be found in the vigorous action of a co-operative society in Belfast, which supplied milk in sealed bottles and offered it at a penny less than dairymen selling milk in the old-fashioned cans and jugs. Potatoes are sold in Belfast for twopence or threepence a stone less than in Dublin, and apples at half the Dublin price. Coal is seven shillings a ton dearer in Dublin than in London, but the Belfast householder can get it at London rates. Thus in the prime elements of food and in fuel the Dublin public is subjected to unjustifiable charges. If the producers and the shopkeepers will not, or cannot, lower their prices, a Commission on prices should be established by the Government; and it should be at work before the hardships of the winter tell yet more cruelly upon the hungry and the shivering children of our land.

American Wealth.

The standard of living in the United States to-day, says Mr. Herbert Hoover, is the highest in the country's history, and, therefore, the highest that the world has known. "Our national savings," Mr. Hoover declared, "are accumulating at an unparalleled rate." Production and consumption are more rapid than ever; wages have risen to a much higher level than the cost of living; there is little unemployment, and both management and labour show a steady growth in efficiency, assisted by ever new developments of mechanical invention. The chief features of the industrial situation in the past year were a further growth in the manufacture of motor cars, and works of building and construction which represented a total investment of £1,200,000,000. America's material comforts exceed anything that is enjoyed in the Old World. New York surpasses Paris as Paris surpasses London. The ancient world saw civilisation which, in some respects, offered ampler amenities than even American opulence; but the luxuries of Rome were enjoyed only by the patrician caste and were bought at the cost of chattel slavery. It is but few of humankind that can live, said the sad poet of the age—so inseparable seemed the ease of the few from the enslavement of the many. Modern civilisation has found a substitute for human serfdom; it has made chattel slaves of the forces of nature. Nevertheless, we find American visitors envying us our easy-going habits and declaring that all the dizzy magnificence of Broadway has less charm than our backward and old-fashioned city between the hills and the sea.

HOUSING IN HOLLAND.

(By R. M. FOX.)

Ireland is not the only country that is suffering from a housing shortage, and, perhaps, one of the most hardly pressed countries in this respect is Holland. In Holland the solution of the housing problem is further complicated by land shortage. A fight is always going on to win more land from the sea. The greater part of Amsterdam, the capital, is built over a swamp, on wooden piles driven into the mud, and often the canals wash against the house walls. To gaze along a row and to see them leaning slightly, owing to a subsidence of the foundations, helps to give a drunken appearance to the street. I have seen the foundations of a house being built in what looked like a pool of water between two other houses.

As land is so scarce, the people are driven to the queerest straits in economising it. Blocks of high flats are being constructed everywhere, and the streets are so narrow that a rule of the road is enforced for pedestrians by sword-clad police. Stairs are very steep, and it is impossible to get bulky furniture up that way. Every house has, therefore, an iron girder jutting out from the gable, with a hook and chain attached, like a crane. With this, furniture may be hoisted up or let down, to and from the windows.

In the early morning all these windows are decorated with bed-clothes, hung out to air, or else carpets are being vigorously shaken, while the fronts of the houses are washed with pails and hose-pipes of water drawn from the canals in the middle of the street. It is dangerous to be out in the narrow streets then.

If a visitor calls to see the upstairs people, a rope is jerked in response to his ring and the door flies open. Then a voice coming from a far-away region demands name and business, and, if inquiries are answered satisfactorily, the visitor may be bidden to come up. It is too far for the occupier to come down in response to chance knocks. This custom has enabled a gang of ingenious burglars to carry out a series of robberies in the city. Their method was to ring, wait till the rope was pulled and the door opened, make inquiries and then pretend to go away. In reality they slipped inside and slammed the door to deceive those upstairs who could not see them. Then they would hide till all was quiet before carrying out their theft.

Besides the flat system, which has been enthusiastically taken up in Amsterdam, another way of coping with the housing shortage is for families to live in house-boats on the canals. There are whole streets of them now. A parallel would be for people to live in grand barges moored along the Liffey. Some of these house-boats are models of comfort. I visited one, in a row of others like it, which had gas and water supplied in pipes from the shore. It was divided into six neat, comfortably furnished rooms, and when the window curtains were drawn it seemed just like living on land. At the end was a garden containing a mass of gay flowers in pots. A little tea-table and chairs were placed here, and we had our tea "on the lawn." Such are some of the ways in which Holland is coping with its shortage of land and houses.

CARL ROSA OPERA COMPANY.

"CAVALLERIA RUSTICANA" AND "PAGLIACCI."

Last night "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" were repeated by the Carl Rosa Opera Company at the Gaiety Theatre, Dublin. The cast was virtually the same as on the previous occasion, Miss Beatrice Miranda again distinguishing herself in the exacting characters of "Santuzza" and "Nedda." Mr. John Perry repeated his very good performances of Turiddu in "Cavalleria" and Canio in "Pagliacci." In the latter opera a change was made in the cast, the Tonio on this occasion being Mr. Flintoff Moore, who has so often distinguished himself in that part. He was greatly applauded for his singing of the "Prologue." His make-up, however, was somewhat aggressively grotesque. It should be mentioned that in the first-named opera a change was also made as regards the part of Alfio, which was interpreted very effectively by Mr. Leslie Jones, who subsequently was the Sylvia in "Pagliacci."

The orchestra was conducted by Mr. Thomas Maguire, and the chorus deserve special recognition for their fine singing of the "Easter Hymn."

LONDON THEATRES.

"LULLABY" AT THE GLOBE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Monday.

Mr. Edward Knoblock's new play "Lullaby" would make an excellent film, but it has too many changes and too many fragmentary episodes to hold one's attention on the stage. The play tells the story of Madelon, a French peasant. Starting in Normandy, the pretty girl of sixteen is betrayed, and, after that unfortunate beginning, experiences the hardest of bad luck. Her subsequent lovers either get taken to prison or, through circumstances over which they have no control, are forced to leave her. At last the wretched woman is sent to prison for twenty years, having been wrongfully accused of shooting a drunken sailor.

This affecting story is told by an old woman to a young girl about to enter the gilded portals of the palaces of vice; but youth never yet heeded experience, and so, I am afraid, the moral of this play, which is dedicated to "the woman men have forgotten," was lost on the girl. Miss Margaret Bannerman was very good, indeed, in most of the thirteen scenes. She was natural and sweet in the early scenes, and in the end we see her as the old hag of seventy. Miss Constance Burleigh, Miss Marjorie Day, Mr. Francis Lister and Mr. Herbert Grimwood were all excellent. Miss Violet Farebrother, of all the artists in the cast, was most naturally in the picture.

"CHARLOT'S REVUE."

The November issue of "Charlot's Revue" is one of the best and jolliest shows in town. It has many new songs, dances and sketches, and one clever new artist in the person of Mr. Cyril Richard. The three stars, Miss Maisie Gay, Mr. Edmund Gwenn and Miss Dorothy Dickson—I put them in order of merit—remain the mainstay of the revue.

Of the new sketches, "Off the Lines," by H. C. G. Stevens and Ronald Jeans, is distinctly ingenious and easily the best. It is most amusing and has an original idea, "Fate," in which the audience are invited to collaborate with the author, Ronald Jeans, is a bright and brainy little sketch which, it is contended, can be played in a hundred different ways.

Miss Maisie Gay is as delightful as ever in everything she does. Whether as Nurse Doodah in "The Ministering Angel," the ludicrous tourist in "Follow Mister Cook," or the irate wife in "The Permanent Wave," she stimulates and amuses because of her great artistry and intelligence. Mr. Edmund Gwenn is a tower of strength and contributes many neat little character studies, while Miss Dorothy Dickson dances as daintily as ever. The November issue is far and away the best edition of the revue yet presented.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The King will arrive at Elveden Hall to-morrow afternoon, and on the conclusion of his visit to the Earl of Iveagh will go to York Cottage, Sandringham, where the Queen will join him for a short stay. It is probable that His Majesty will shoot some of the coverts at Sandringham next week.

The Prince of Wales spent the week-end in London. On Thursday night he will be present at the ball in the Albert Hall, which has been organised by the Duchess of Sutherland and an influential committee, in aid of the Royal Northern Hospital, of which His Royal Highness is President.

Princess Mary was entertained at luncheon by Lady Kathleen Pilkington at Chevet Park, when she visited the Girls' High School at Wakefield on speech day, and distributed the prizes and certificates before a very large gathering. Princess Marie Louise will return to London to-day from Dunham Massey Hall, where she spent the week-end with the Countess of Stanford. To-morrow Princess Beatrice will open the sale of the Working Ladies' Guild, which, by the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Saxton Noble, will be held in their house in Knightsbridge.

The Duke and Duchess of Roxburghe have left Floors Castle, Kelso, for London, and will be in residence in Carlton House terrace for some time. The Earl and Countess of Ancaster will arrive to-day at Eresby House, from Grimsthorpe Castle, where they have been entertaining a large house party. The Earl and Countess of Plymouth will leave St. Fagan's Castle, Cardiff, this week for London. Lord and Lady Loch and their daughters have arrived in London for the winter. Lord Radstock has returned from Canada, and is making a short stay in London.

Lord and Lady Robert Innes Kerr, who have been paying visits in Ireland, have returned to England. Lord Bellew has returned to Jenkinstown from Dublin, where he had been staying for a fortnight. Sir Plunket Barton has returned to London from Dublin. The Earl of Granard arrived at Castle Forbes last Saturday, and will stay for a few weeks. The Countess of Granard and her children will return shortly from America.

The Earl of Balfour has returned to London from Whittingehame. The Earl of Derby has returned to Knowsley Park, but will shortly pay another brief visit to Paris, where he is giving sittings for his portrait to Sir William Orpen, R.H.A. Lord Glentanar has arrived in London from Scotland, and has joined his mother, Lady Glentanar, in Hill street.

Mdlle Eve Curie will make her début as a pianiste in Paris to-day, where she will give a recital in the Salle des Agricultures. She is the younger daughter of M. Curie, the discoverer of radium, and was intended for the medical profession, but her love of music prevailed.

A marriage is arranged, and will take place early in January, between Dr. Richard Counihan, son of the late Dr. J. F. Counihan, Kilrush, and Enid, daughter of Mr. W. J. Glynn, D.L., and Mrs. Glynn, Pella House, Kilrush, Co. Clare.

A marriage has been arranged, and will shortly take place, between Andrew Fox, Harmony Hall, Westmeath, and Madeleine, second daughter of the late Henry Egan, The Hall, Tullamore.

Lady Dockrell, owing to serious illness, is unable to attend the funeral to-day in London of her brother, the late William John Shannon, M.A.

Mr. Kevin A. Harrington has removed from "Derreen," Lindsay road, Glasnevin, to 33 North Frederick street.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference. — A depression centred some distance North-West of Ireland appears to be moving south-south-east and filling up. Winds will become very light over most of Great Britain, with widespread frost and a good deal of fog. Further snow showers will occur in the North of Scotland, and rain or sleet showers in our South-West districts.

N.W., N.E. and S.E. Ireland.—Wind mainly between north-west and north, light or moderate; variable sky; local sleet showers; visibility mainly good; cold.

S.W. Ireland.—Wind west to north-west or variable, fresh at times locally; variable sky; some showers of rain, hail or sleet; perhaps local thunder; visibility good; cold.

S.W. Seaboard, Mouth of Channel to South-West Ireland.—Wind north-west, moderate; local sleet showers, fine intervals; visibility good; sea moderate.

Irish Sea and St. George's Channel; N.W. Seaboard. — Wind north-west to north, light or moderate; local sleet showers, fine intervals; visibility mainly good; sea slight.

FOR REMEMBRANCE.

THE GRAVES AT GALLIPOLI.

The following extracts are from a letter of a naval officer who visited Gallipoli some weeks ago:—

The Fleet being in these waters, opportunity is being taken to send parties of officers and men to visit Gallipoli, and on Saturday last I was detailed for this duty, taking a party of about 150 from Lemnos to Gallipoli. I naturally took advantage of the opportunity and landed, having particularly in mind the fact that amongst the many heroes who lay there was ——. We landed at Cape Helles, and there one was indeed thrilled. I was amazed as I walked over the ground—line after line of trenches, miles of them, just as they were. I suppose, ten years ago, only that grass and scrub and that sort of thing was growing in most of them. I had never done any land warfare—mine was all on the sea—and this was the first time I had been on the battlefield.

With the aid of even a very small amount of imagination one got some idea of it all—the horrors of it, the heroism and suffering and sacrifice, all around even now after years of tidying up by the war graves people, the Turks, etc. All around are pieces of shattered shell, shrapnel, bullets and all sorts of weapons, while in not a few places one finds human bones fractured and broken, telling their terrible tales. All was peaceful and quiet, but what must it have been in those days? For four hours I was ashore there, and four wonderful hours they were. I wish I could describe it all; I wish I could keep well in mind the feelings that possessed one; but it was just wonderful to stand there where such wonderful deeds had been done and to feel a sort of kinship with those who had done them.

THE CEMETERIES.

In the four hours we were landed we could not go far, but more than that time could be expended usefully in the space we covered. The War Graves Commission seem to have done very well, indeed. The little cemeteries dotted all over the peninsula are really very simple, but very beautiful in their simplicity. They have enclosed a rectangular space with low white walls and a very British-looking wood gate. At the upper end is a raised platform, as it were, and a large white cross on a built up plain background. The enclosed space is quite flat and turfed, and all very neatly and beautifully kept. Distributed in several rows at either end and in odd places scattered around, in a very effective manner, and not covering the whole space with the regularity of a cheque board, are small stones with the names of those who are buried, or who are believed to be buried, underneath. These tablets are not upright, like the ordinary headstone, but are laid with a slight angle on blocks of concrete that are fixed in the ground. The whole is very simple and effective and induces a spirit of reverence.

WHERE DUBLINS AND MUNSTERS SLEEP.

The particular one I entered was an eminently Irish one. It was "V" Beach, and I am sure 90 to 95 per cent. of those buried there were Dublin Fusiliers or Munster Fusiliers. What a tremendous thrill there was as one stood bareheaded and read Ryan, Kelly, Keogh, name after name that was familiar, scores of them—not those I knew, of course, but standing there one honoured them every one, those whom one knew and those who were unknown to one. On the most prominent point in Cape Helles is erected a very fine monument, a tall, square sectional column, as it were, a blunt obelisk, on a large square base. On a tablet at the base is an inscription stating that it is "In Honoured Memory" of those who fell but have no known grave. It is placed where it can be seen for many, many miles by ships approaching from all directions, and is a very striking monument. On tablets around it are inscribed the names of ships and units engaged in the Gallipoli campaign.

We embarked our party at three o'clock, the Turk very carefully watching operations, and then we steamed along the coast to Anzac and Suvla Bays. At each place we went close in and stopped engines for five minutes. It was an experience I would not have missed for anything. At Anzac we could count at least ten of these cemeteries, and how that stimulated the imagination and brought vividly to one the wonderful picture—the splendid, surpassing heroism of it all, with, perhaps, one dark thought of the feebleness, to use no stronger word, of the generalship. I was glad, indeed, that I was able to stand on that soil and, raising my hat, do honour to all the heroes, and particularly to a dear old comrade.

A FILM OF THE WEEK.

"GRAUSTARK" AT THE GRAND CENTRAL.

No form of novel or of film entertainment makes so great an appeal to the public as does one of a pseudo-historical character, in which the inventive genius of the author weaves forceful stories, replete with plot and counter-plot, round the lives of those in high places. It is not surprising, then, to find a very ready audience for filmed editions of Mr. George Barr McCutcheon's books. But when there is added to the dramatisation of a popular novel the personality of Miss Norma Talmadge, there is an irresistible combination.

These are the elements that go to the success of the "Graustark," under which name Mr. McCutcheon's novel is filmed. The story, familiar to so many, deals with the affairs of the Princess Yvette, of the Kingdom of Graustark. In the interests of her country her aged father, Ferdinand, wishes her to wed the prince of a neighbouring State, but the little winged god wishes it to be otherwise, and so arranges that Yvette becomes infatuated with a young American during a trip to New York. A romantic story of love and intrigue is developed before the surprising dénouement is reached. Miss Norma Talmadge is so widely known for her many and varied character impersonations that her audiences have come to expect a very high standard of her. There is no lowering of that quality in her study of the Princess Yvette. Her control of mannerism and her facial control are all perfectly natural, and she carries the part as to the manner born. She receives very able assistance from Eugene O'Brien, who plays the part of the American lover, Mr. Lorry, and from Marc McDermott, who, in the character of the scheming Prince Gabriel of Axphain, again carries off honours as a master villain. One must admire the quietly effective way in which this actor gets through everything he does. He must be among the film's most popular villains, and never has one carried the rôle with more ease and grace.

The other parts are capably filled, and one can find little fault in that respect; but the photographic effects yesterday were not always so clear as they might have been. In the closer studies there was a blurring of outline that irritated one, but they were minor drawbacks in an otherwise good picture.

The film is being shown at the Grand Central Cinema.

The lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides. The chair will be taken by the Archbishop of Dublin, Visitor of Alexandra College.

LONDON LETTER.

THE LORD MAYOR'S SHOW.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,

MONDAY NIGHT.

The Lord Mayor's Show to-day was quite a dignified and interesting proceeding. It was unusually long, and seemed to the waiting crowds to be unusually late; for it was much after the hour fixed that it passed up Fleet street in several patches. The day, though very cold, was brilliantly fine, and the sunlight added greatly to the gaiety and colour of the occasion. The crowds were immense, and in open spaces, like Ludgate Circus and the bottom of Queen Victoria street, it seemed like a sea of heads with the procession trickling through. The overseas touches in the Show were greatly appreciated, and probably the person who received the warmest cheers after the Lord Mayor was the man, dressed as Father Christmas, but wearing a big white Stetson hat over his white hair, who drove the car laden with the Empire pudding. One feature of the Show, which passed almost unrecognised, was the wonderful mechanical cow, Daisy, of the Australian dairy section at Wembley. She switched her tail and turned her head without cessation, but, charmed she never so wisely, she failed to secure a greeting.

Remembrance

The pilgrimage begun yesterday to the Cenotaph and the tomb of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey continued to-day, and in both spots huge banks of flowers already have been accumulated. The general celebration of yesterday as Remembrance Day probably means that the Sunday nearest Armistice Day in future will be devoted to Services similar to those held yesterday in so many places. On Armistice Day further efforts are to be made to secure absolute peace during the silence, and, as an aid, the London General Omnibus Company have ordered all their drivers to stop their engines during the silence, while the Royal Automobile Club desires that all motorists shall draw up and stop their engines.

"Dora."

A determined attack on D.O.R.A., which it is hoped by the attackers may be a final one, is to be made on Monday next. The opportunity will be provided by the inclusion in the Expiring Laws Continuance Bill of the Shops (Early Closing) Act, 1920, and the amending measure of 1921 on the same subject. Sir William Bull, M.P., says that the London members already have discussed whether it is not time to have this measure amended or removed. The view of these members is that, while nothing should be done to prejudice the interests of shop assistants in any way, all the stupid anomalies which have crept in since the war could be swept away without detracting from the real value of the measure. The Government takes the view that the 1920 Act shall be re-enacted without amendment, but, if pressure of a sufficiently strong character is brought to bear, it may consent to a change.

Early Closing.

Captain Larmin, the Secretary of the Early Closing Association, adopts a rather minatory attitude on the Act when he says that matters would be all right if people would only think. If they cannot buy cigarettes after eight o'clock, what does it matter? They should learn to provide themselves with them earlier. A woman knows, as a rule, when she can buy what is needed for the house, because she has taken the trouble to find out and remember. A man should do the same. It is this attitude which is so strongly resented by many citizens. London is a great city, and people frequently find themselves many miles from their homes and deprived of an opportunity to purchase things that they really need.

Foot-and-Mouth Disease.

Full post bags have been arriving at the offices of the Ministry of Agriculture lately, and many of the communications refer to plans for a campaign against foot-and-mouth disease. All the suggestions are being carefully noted, and where the letters give promise of adding to the knowledge of the officials of the Department investigations are made. So far, however, few new suggestions have been put forward, most of the letters referring to phases of the disease which already have been fully investigated, and no efficient alternative has yet been discovered to the policy of slaughter of affected animals and others known to have been in contact.

The Prince and Masonry.

The Prince of Wales, who already is a Provincial Grand Master, no inconsiderable honour in the Masonic world, has consented to be installed Master of the Masonic Lodge connected with his college at Oxford. This will be the second time that the Prince has acted as Master of a Lodge. It is a rule that, when a Prince of Royal blood becomes Master of a Lodge, he may appoint a deputy to rule in his stead. The Duke of Connaught follows this practice, but it is probable that the Prince of Wales will prefer to do the ruling himself, since he takes his Masonic duties quite seriously.

Civilian War Victims.

Some months ago Mr. Churchill stated that nothing more would be done to recoup those unfortunate people who had been sufferers by enemy air raids during the war. Many were relieved by the Commission set up to distribute money voted by the Government, but the available funds were exhausted long before all the applicants had been examined, while the amounts paid were very meagre. The attitude assumed by the authorities is a little difficult to understand, since it is provided in the Treaty of Versailles that the civilian sufferers are to be paid out of the special payments made by Germany for the purpose. The announcement made by Mr. Churchill, however, started a movement to secure justice for the victims, and some three hundred members of Parliament have signed a round robin calling the attention of the Government to their desire that there shall be a change of policy. A memorial signed by the heads and the members of the councils of many of the great cities where there are sufferers from the raids, as well as by many public bodies, urging the adopting of the suggestion, is to be presented to the Prime Minister when complete.

Cambridge's Motor Ban

Cambridge University regulations concerning the use of motor cars are not popular among those affected by them, but motorists passing through the City of Cambridge during the past few days have noticed a marked improvement in the traffic conditions of the narrow streets, which were generally in an acute stage of congestion. It is an open secret that freshmen are evading the regulation by keeping their cars and motor cycles in small garages in the outlying villages, to which they proceed by cycle or other means; but they are not bringing them to the town, and to that extent the regulation is having a good effect, though that was not the purpose for which it was introduced.

THE NORTHERN HIGH COURTS.

The Governor of Northern Ireland has made the following assignments of business in the High Court of Justice:—

To Right Hon. William Moore, Lord Chief Justice, the control and direction of the Probate and Matrimonial business.

To Hon. Mr. Justice Wilson, the control and direction of the Admiralty business.

To Right Hon. Mr. Justice Brown, the control and direction of the Bankruptcy business.

POLL TAX KILLED.

WHITTLING DOWN M. PAINLEVE'S PROPOSALS.

LOTTERY PLANS.

MANY SCHEMES TO BOLSTER UP THE FRANC.

NO CAPITAL LEVY.

From "The Times" Correspondent.

PARIS, Monday.

M. Painlevé's hapless Finance Bill, which was to have been debated in the Chamber to-day, is being gradually buried under a hopeless confusion of arguments and theories adduced by politicians of all parties in Committee.

It is impossible to see what will emerge out of the welter. Only one thing is certain, and that is that, whenever the bill comes before the Chamber, there will not be much left of its original form.

The Finance Committee of the Chamber met twice to-day, and discussed it once in the morning and once in the afternoon.

M. Painlevé and M. Georges Bonnet, the Minister for the Budget, both appeared before the Committee in the morning, and answered questions put by members with regard to the details of the bill.

In the afternoon the Committee got as far as dealing with the bill article by article, and made a beginning by rejecting the poll tax of 20 francs, which is the first item in M. Painlevé's extraordinary contribution.

From that they passed to discussion of a scheme for a capital levy, proposed by the Socialists.

Eventually they adjourned until to-morrow. The date on which the bill will be debated in the Chamber is thus postponed, at least for another day.

LOTTERY PLANS.

The franc will certainly not collapse for want of ideas of how to save it. Fresh schemes are being produced all the time. There have been various forms of capital levy suggested, several plans based on a lottery, and there are innumerable proposals for lightening the national debt either by forced consolidation of the short-term bonds, or by postponing their repayment, or by reducing the interest on them.

The main issue lies between inflation and forced consolidation; for it is quite clear that, if inflation is to be avoided, the repayment of short-term bonds will have to be suspended for a time.

The majority of the Finance Committee voted against any form of inflation, but it is highly doubtful whether they will find it possible to realise this laudable hope.

NO CAPITAL LEVY.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

The Finance Committee of the Chamber adopted in principle, by twelve votes against nil, the proposed extraordinary taxation on all real and personal estate, and rejected a Socialist motion proposing a capital levy in the form of State participation in all forms of wealth.

M. PAINLEVE'S PROPOSALS.

M. Painlevé declared that the proposed National Sinking Fund would not have the power to issue bonds, but would merely be entitled to renew existing bonds. He further said that he was absolutely opposed to the consolidation of Treasury Bonds and bills falling due in less than a year.

The total requirements of the Treasury up to the end of December amounted to 5,060 millions of francs, including 2,690 millions of the redemption of bonds falling due on December 8. The increase in the monetary circulation would total 2,690 millions in the form of advances to the sinking fund that would have to be paid back to the Banque de France, as the receipts from the proposed national contribution came in.

M. Painlevé emphasised once again that a slight temporary increase in the monetary circulation between now and the end of the year was inevitable.

M. Auriol daclared that the Socialists were still hostile to a policy of inflation.

M. Painlevé replied that he was prepared to welcome any suggestions that would fall within the lines of his programme. He criticised the various systems put forward for a levy on capital, and reiterated that he could not associate himself with this scheme.

M. Leon Blum, who followed, told the Committee that he would this afternoon put them in a position to choose definitely between the system of consolidation and that of inflation.

THE LEFT WING'S ATTITUDE.

PARIS, Monday.

An important meeting was held in the Chamber this afternoon by the Radical Socialist group. In the course of the discussion M. Franklin Bouillion upheld the necessity of forming a National Coalition Ministry. M. Dumesnil, a former Cabinet Minister, replied that the Cartel had the responsibility for the direction of affairs, and was not prepared to give it up. The Conference closed by deciding to accept M. Painlevé's proposals as a basis for discussion, and not to create any difficulty for the Government.

TEN MINISTERS IN AS MANY YEARS.

LORD BLEDISLOE AND BRITISH AGRICULTURE.

Speaking at Gloucester yesterday, Lord Bledisloe, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture, said that a good many kind-hearted people had been good enough during the past week to extend to him their kindly-meant sympathy because he had not himself been promoted to the post of Minister of Agriculture. He wanted to explain to them that the headship of that Department was not, under present political conditions, open to a peer. While that fact had been made clear to him, and he recognised it and would do his duty accordingly, he wanted to emphasise that, if they were to have a continuous policy for the agricultural industry, they must try not to change Ministers of Agriculture quite so frequently in future as had been done in the past.

During the last ton years they had had ten Ministers of Agriculture and seven Parliamentary Secretaries.

Replying to an inquiry by a Press representative, Lord Bledisloe said that he was remaining in office for the present, at any rate.

OUTRAGE IN DONEGAL.

ROAD BRIDGE THROWN DOWN.

On the night of the 6th instant a bridge, which was in course of construction on a road near Glenties, was demolished, and some tools were stolen. The road is being made by relief work by the Local Government Board. A notice was posted on a tool box threatening a workman with death.

Eight of the hands were paid off recently for a fortnight, as the men are changed at the end of every fortnight to make room for new hands.

BOUNDARY FORECAST

"MERELY INTELLIGENT ANTICIPATION."

A MINISTER'S VIEW.

APART from any question of accuracy, there is no doubt that the forecast of the Boundary Commission's findings, published in London last Saturday, has excited considerable interest both in the Free State and in Northern Ireland.

Yesterday a deputation from the inhabitants of North-East Donegal waited on President Cosgrave regarding the report that part of the territory is to be transferred to Northern Ireland. No statement as to President Cosgrave's reply has been issued.

Since the Boundary Commission was formed President Cosgrave and his colleagues have been particularly guarded in all their references to its work, and it is not likely that, either singly or collectively, they would feel themselves free at this stage to put their information at the disposal of any section of citizens.

It is understood that the deputation was led by a Father O'Doherty, of Letterkenny, and was received by President Cosgrave, with whom were Mr. O'Higgins, Minister of Justice, and Mr. Blythe, Minister of Finance.

A MINISTER'S VIEW.

I am informed that there is some little pessimism even in official circles regarding the findings of the Commission, but there is a disposition to "say nothing for the present."

In conversation with a member of the Executive Council yesterday I learnt that the Government expects that the report will be forthcoming before the end of December, and "possibly within the next month."

Asked if he thought that the publication of the report would be followed by a general election in the Free State, the Minister replied that he "did not contemplate a general election as the result of the report."

He added that the latest forecast did not seem to be more than a piece of intelligent anticipation, based on information supplied, perhaps, by some person who had made a close study of the present frontier, and who was keeping in his mind different places which the Commissioners had touched during the Northern tour.

"NO COMMENT."

When the forecast was referred to Dr. McNeill for his views, he replied: "I have absolutely no comment to make."

Dr. McNeill will be in his place in the Dail to-morrow, when the House reassembles, and it is not improbable that either he or one of his colleagues will be asked to say if there is any truth in the story. I understand that copies of the report will be presented simultaneously to His Majesty's Government and the Government of the Free State. It is not necessary, it is stated, that a copy should at the same time be presented to the Government of Northern Ireland, as it was "neither a party to the Anglo-Irish Treaty nor to the Irish Boundary Commission."

LORD LEVERHULME'S ART TREASURES.

LOW PRICES AT SALE.

The sale of the art treasures of the late Lord Leverhulme, at The Bungalow, Rivington, Bolton, began yesterday afternoon, the auctioneers being Messrs. Knight, Frank and Rutley. Several hundreds of rare etchings and drawings were offered, but prices ruled low.

Twenty-six pictures of Windsor Castle, by Nash, sold for 320 guineas; a collection of 111 hand-coloured engravings from Nash's "Mansions of England" for 170 guineas. A landscape by Gainsborough sold for 90 guineas; Rossetti's "Magdalene with the Pot of Ointment" for 45 guineas, and a coloured drawing, "An Oriental Tournament," for 96 guineas.

SHELLS FIRED AT ARMY POWDER SHIP.

MISTAKEN FOR RUM-RUNNER.

PORTLAND, MAINE, Monday.

A coastguard patrol boat opened fire to-day on a suspected rum-runner, which proved to be an Army steamer laden with explosive powder. Two one-pound shells passed close to the Army craft before her signals were recognised.

The commander of the patrol boat, explaining his action, said that the circumstances looked very suspicious, as the vessel had cases piled on her deck and appeared to be running away from the coastguards. The Army steamer, not realising that she was being pursued, had veered away and put on steam.—(Reuter.)

CONVERSATION OF THE SERPENT.

DUTCH HERESY TRIAL.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.
THE HAGUE, Monday.

America has had its "monkey case," and Holland now has its "serpent case."

Dr. Van Geelkerken, Calvinist clergyman, has been summoned to appear before a special Synod of the Church to answer charges of having cast doubt on the conversational ability of the serpent in Genesis.

The Dutch preacher's sermon, in which he questioned the fact of the serpent's talkativeness, caused a sensation both in Press and Church circles. As a result he now faces the possibility of dismissal from the Church unless he appears before the Synod and subscribes to its fundamental beliefs.

TO ELECT CALIPH.

WORLD MOSLEMS MAY MEET AT MECCA.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.
BOMBAY, Monday.

Mecca is being suggested here as the probable meeting place, next March or April, for the election of the new Caliph by the Moslems.

Indian Mohammedans are strongly in favour of Mecca, a circumstance which is of considerable significance, in view of the fact that Indian Moslems are the moving spirits behind the proposal.

It is also believed that the Holy City is regarded as a suitable spot for the gathering by the Islamic world in general.

A delegation of Indian Moslems has already left for Egypt to gain the consent of Sultan Ibn Saoud to the project.

CONSCIENCE MONEY FROM IRELAND.

The War Office acknowledges the receipt of Treasury Notes and a Bank of Ireland note, to the value of £7, sent anonymously from Ireland, as conscience money for goods taken from the British Government.

LOCARNO CUP OF HOPE.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S PROPHECY.

"THE WATERS ARE FALLING."

PREMIER ON TRADE REVIVAL.

"I am satisfied that the accords of Locarno will be ratified; for no statesman dared to take the responsibility before history of dashing from our lips the Locarno cup of hope, and no nation dared face the load of obloquy which would follow the denial of the world's greatest need and profoundest hope."

Mr. Chamberlain made this prophecy at the Lord Mayor's banquet in London last night in proposing the toast of "The Ambassadors and Ministers."

He added that he and the German Ambassador had that night drunk of the loving cup. What they had done that evening, their nations might do to-morrow. They would work in the spirit of Locarno that the peace of the world might be kept, and that civilisation might recover from its wounds.

MR. BALDWIN'S HOPE.

Mr. Baldwin, replying for His Majesty's Ministers, said that they had done all they could to make peace throughout the world, and to induce those conditions at home which made for better trade. He believed that they were substantially nearer reaping the fruits of those efforts than seemed possible a year ago.

While their sustained efforts for peace abroad were at last overcoming the legacies of evil and suspicion, industrial peace at home was deliberately threatened. The speeches of too many of those who were considered responsible leaders smacked of the sword and battle-axe; but he was not dismayed.

"We are not submerged, nor within easy distance of going under. The waters are falling, and our spirits are rising. My faith in the common people of the country causes me to look forward with confidence," he added.

EARL BEATTY ON THE NAVY.

Defending the Admiralty against what he termed "the campaign of ill-informed criticism," which had made its task harder, Earl Beatty said that the Government's step in authorising, on economical grounds, some relaxation of the immediate readiness of the fleet for active service, rendered more important than ever the utmost efficiency of the Naval Staff.

Sir Samuel Hoare announced that the Air Force was giving a trial to Senor Gierda's remarkable new windmill 'planes.

PUBLIC PROSECUTOR DEFENDED.

Responding for the Bar, the Attorney-General referred to the Press attack on the Public Prosecutor for discontinuing the larceny charge against the young men who called themselves Fascisti. In justice to Sir Archibald Bodkin, the Attorney-General said that there had been no Cabinet consideration of the case, and no instructions were given to the Public Prosecutor, whose only reason for his action was that he was satisfied, as every competent lawyer must have been satisfied, that, on the evidence, there was no case to put to the jury.

During the reception preceding the banquet, the French and German Ambassadors shook hands and chatted together.

THE REICHSTAG'S DECISION.

BERLIN, Monday.

The main Committee of the Reichstag has been convoked for Thursday, in order to fix the date of the first meeting of the Reichstag, which will probably be November 19th or 23rd. The President of the Reichstag, Herr Loebe, is of the opinion that it will be possible to pass the Locarno Bill, without the necessity of dissolving the Reichstag.—(Reuter.)

MISSING CONVENT GIRL.

FOUND AS A NURSEMAID NEAR OXFORD.

The missing convent girl, Miss Denise Lucas Shadwell, whose whereabouts have been exercising Scotland Yard since Friday, was discovered yesterday in a situation as nursemaid at a country house at Bagley Wood, Kennington, near Oxford. Her parents were informed yesterday morning by a registry office that references had been written for by Mrs. Kirk, of Bagley Wood, who had taken her on trial, but who required further information concerning her qualifications and antecedents.

Her mother at once travelled to Oxford, and after finding her way to Bagley Wood, thanked Mrs. Kirk for her kindness to the girl, and took her back.

Interviewed before her mother's arrival yesterday, Miss Shadwell, whose only disguise had been to put up her hair, said that she saw an advertisement in a French paper before she left France a fortnight ago, and noted the Bagley Wood address. When she arrived in London to stay with her aunt she found the round of visits and dances somewhat inane, and wanted to make her own way in the world. When she decided to run away she gathered some luggage together, left notes telling her mother and sister that she was going to a situation, and boarded a taxi, asking for the train to Oxford, as she did not know London. At Oxford she took a 'bus to Kennington, and then walked to Bagley Wood, where she made a favourable impression on Mrs. Kirk, and said that she would be glad to be taken on trial, and then she gave an agency address for references, and this proved her undoing, as the directress of the agency recognized in Mrs. Kirk's letter of inquiry the missing girl, and at once informed Mrs. Shadwell.

Miss Shadwell had become, meanwhile, one of the household at Bagley Wood, and had taken very well to the baby. Although many things betrayed her lack of experinece, she was at once a success. As a member of the family, she walked into Oxford on Sunday, and seeing by the placards that a convent girl was missing, she bought a paper to see if it were any one that she knew, and was surprised to see a photograph of, and a description of, herself. She hastened back to her new home and said nothing, and declared yesterday morning that while she knew her hiding place must be discovered, she had hoped to establish herself and be allowed to stay there.

SHORT-LIVED POSSESSION.

SLIGO HOUSE BOUGHT AND BURNT THE SAME DAY.

A house, the property of the late Captain Thomas H. Williams, situated at Oakfield, a short distance from Sligo, was offered for sale by Mr. T. Brien, auctioneer, Sligo, on Saturday last. The property was purchased by Mr. Laurence Henry, of Keadue, Co. Roscommon, for £1,245. He did not, however, enjoy possession of his newly-acquired property for long, as the house was burnt to the ground that night.

After being carried away by a fox at Thorntondale, North Yorkshire, a turkey was found later strutting about a wood, having, it is supposed, put its captor to flight after a fight.

DUBLIN RAIDS.

TWO FILMS SEIZED BY ARMED MEN.

OFFICIAL KIDNAPPED.

Three raids took place in the Dublin district yesterday. Two films were seized by armed men—"Ypres" being taken from the Masterpiece Picture House, in Talbot street, Dublin, in the afternoon, and the Prince of Wales's film from the Kingstown in the evening.

During the afternoon a raid was made on the offices of the Legion of ex-Service Men at 38 Kildare street, where some books and documents were seized. It is presumed that the object of this raid was to ascertain the names of those who had volunteered to sell Flanders poppies on Armistice Day.

Earlier in the day a party of armed men took Mr. Patrick Sheehan, a member of the Free State Prisons Board, from his home in the Sandymount district, carried him some distance in a motor car, and having threatened him with death if an improvement was not shown in the treatment of prisoners in the jails, liberated him.

THE YPRES FILM.

SEVEN REELS SEIZED.

Shortly before the first presentation in Ireland of the war film, "Ypres," was about to commence in the Masterpiece Cinema, Talbot street, Dublin, yesterday afternoon, a party of young men, some of whom were armed, entered the cinema and seized seven of the eight reels of the film.

The eighth reel was in the projecting machine ready to be shown, and escaped the notice of the raiders.

The party, which numbered about seven, purchased their tickets in the usual way, and in this manner attracted no attention until they were seen rushing down from the operator's room, carrying the reels of film. A number of attendants ran after them and succeeded in arresting one of the raiders and in depriving him of his revolver. The others escaped in a motor car which had been drawn up outside the cinema.

The police were immediately informed, and when they arrived the prisoner was handed over to them.

James Lee (22), Kimmage Cottages, Dublin, was later brought up at the Dublin District Court before Mr. Little, and, after formal evidence of arrest had been given, was remanded in custody for a week.

The manager of the theatre, Mr. Farrell, refunded the money to those who had purchased tickets and closed the house.

The house was re-opened at 6.30 p.m., when a new film had been obtained.

A fresh copy of "Ypres" has been ordered from London, and it is expected that it will be presented at the Masterpiece Cinema to-morrow night.

FILM SEIZED IN KINGSTOWN.

The Prince of Wales's Tour film was taken from the Kingstown Picture House last night by armed and masked men.

At about 8 p.m. three men paid for admission. They entered the darkened hall, and a moment or two later appeared in the operating room with masks on their faces and revolvers in their hands. The two operators, John Henry and Christopher Drummond were working the lamp, and the raiders demanded the film of the Prince of Wales's tour. Having got possession of it they disappeared down the stairs and got out by the back door.

The incident was over in five minutes and before Mr. J. Toner, the manager, could be made aware that anything was wrong.

The Prince of Wales's tour film was rented to the Kingstown Picture House by the firm which rented the war picture "Ypres" to the Masterpiece Cinema Theatre, Dublin.

EX-SERVICE MEN'S OFFICES RAIDED.

While the raid at the Masterpiece Cinema was in progress another party of five armed men entered the offices of the Legion of ex-Servicemen, 38 Kildare street, and "held up" a number of clerks. A thorough search of the offices was then made, and two books—one a postage book and the other a correspondents' register—were taken away, together with a list of local representatives throughout the country.

It is presumed that the object of the raid was to obtain the names of those who had volunteered to sell poppies on Armistice Day. There was no reference to Armistice Day, however, in the documents which were taken away.

It is also stated that a number of shops in the city which were selling Flanders Poppies were entered.

"KIDNAPPED."

ARMED MEN AND PRISONS BOARD OFFICIAL.

Three armed men yesterday morning entered the house of Mr. Patrick Sheehan, a member of the Irish Free State Prisons Board, at 69 Sandymount avenue, Dublin, forced him to go with them in a motor car, and having threatened him with "drastic measures" if the political prisoners did not receive better treatment, they set him free.

The armed men had stopped and seized a motor car, in which a Mr. Poole, of Minevea, Church avenue, Irishtown, was driving to Dublin, and had ordered him to drive to Sandymount avenue. Shortly after nine o'clock they rang the front door bell at Mr. Sheehan's house. Two of them went past the maid, who opened the door, entered the room where Mr. Sheehan was at breakfast with his wife and family, and ordered him to "come on out." Mr. Sheehan refused to go out, and continued reading a newspaper. One of the two men—a tall, athletic looking man—put a revolver to Mr. Sheehan's ribs and said that if he did not come out it would be worse for him. Mr. Sheehan still refused to leave the house, but told the men that he would consider the matter after breakfast.

The maid, in the meantime, left the room in order to call for help, but one of the armed men threatened to blow her brains out, and compelled her to go back.

After some discussion the leader of the armed men gave Mrs. Sheehan his word of honour that he would not harm her husband if he went with them quietly. He added that they wanted only to speak to him for a few minutes. While this was going on the third man in the hall threatened the maid and asked where her master kept his gun and his confidential papers. When she answered that she did not know, the armed man sent her back into the room. The man then searched the room, and flung the contents of the various drawers on the floor.

The leader of the armed men asked Mr. Sheehan for his confidential papers, but failed to get them.

Mr. Sheehan, in the end, consented to go with the men. On entering the motor car he saw a fourth armed man guarding Mr. Poole, but this man disappeared when the car started.

Mr. Poole was ordered to drive towards Merrion road, and on the way the leader of the armed men said to Mr. Sheehan:—

"My orders are that drastic measures will be taken against you if the harsh treatment of the prisoners in the jails is not stopped."

Mr. Sheehan replied that the prisoners were well treated, the warning was renewed, and at Merrion road the car was stopped and he was ordered out, and told to bear in mind what had been said.

A little further along Merrion road the armed men got out of Mr. Poole's car, and went away without a word.

The facts were reported to the police, but as yet no person has been arrested.

It may be recalled that when Mr. Sheehan was Secretary to the Department of Justice, in March, 1923, his house in Marlborough road was raided. On another occasion shots were fired into his house, and in 1922 his house at Chapelizod was burnt.

The Prince of Wales hopes to be in the hunting field again to-day. He will return to St. James Palace in time to broadcast his Armistice Day appeal.

WIRELESS IN THE FREE STATE.

A STRANGE POSITION.

ABSENCE OF HIGH-POWER STATIONS.

BIG UNPROTECTED COAST LINE.

Nothing that has happened in recent times has so excited users of wireless sets or brought home to the Dublin public more forcibly the everyday service which wireless telegraphy is rendering to mankind than the rescue of the steamer Pencisely in Dublin Bay on Sunday morning, with her complement of 29 lives.

While it adds another to the life-saving records of the wireless invention, this happening at Dublin's very threshold is not without its painful rebuke as to the shortcomings of the City and the Port in the matter of wireless. It was left to two enthusiastic amateur wireless operators to pick up the soul-stricken cry broadcast from a steamer only twenty miles out of Dublin's Port.

DANGEROUS COAST LINE.

STATIONS DISMANTLED.

A gentleman who has had experience as a wireless operator in all parts of the world, stated to an Irish Times reporter yesterday that Ireland is almost unique in the matter of wireless stations. With a coastline that is feared by master mariners who sail the seven seas, there are only two wireless stations—at Malin Head and Valentia—on the Free State Coast to which they can turn for help or guidance. Prior to the Treaty of 1921 there were numerous stations working—the two already named, with Bunbeg, Ballybunion, Crookhaven, and Cork Harbour. There were also D.F. (direction finding) stations at Carnsore Point and at Queenstown, and also one at Larne.

In addition, Naval stations were fitted with wireless apparatus, and were of very material help to the traffic at sea. For instance, the Naval station at Kingstown issued directions to all vessels as to weather and navigation conditions. All these stations were available for emergency work and effectively watched the coasts of Ireland. When the transition of Government took place all these stations were handed over to the Free State, and the majority were dismantled. What a serious matter this is for shipping has been demonstrated by the occurrence of the week-end in Dublin Bay.

LOCAL REGULATIONS.

The Dublin Port Board, the gentleman pointed out, insisted on all kinds of facilities on ships for use in the event of their getting into difficulties, while, on the other hand, they themselves took no steps to assist ships by the erection of wireless stations. Every ship of 1,500 tons registered in the Port of Dublin is obliged to carry wireless, and yet, should she get into difficulties a few miles outside the port, she is compelled to depend on the nearest wireless station, which happens to be Liverpool, 120 miles across the Irish Sea. That fact spoke for itself, and the case of the ss. Pencisely bore it out.

The Irish coast line under existing conditions is absolutely unprovided with wireless facilities, a thing not found anywhere else. The coast line of the Baltic, Jutland, and on down the French shore is a network of wireless stations. The south coast of England has also a large number, naval and commercial. In Canada the authorities are very insistent on the provision of stations to help shipping. Along the 700 miles of the Gulf of St. Laurence, through a country as bleak and as sparsely populated as the West Coast of Ireland, there are no less than 14 stations from the Straits of Bellisle to Quebec.

SHORT-SIGHTED POLICY.

Apart from the advantage to shipping it was pointed out that the absence of high power wireless stations was short-sighted from the point of view of revenue-earning capacity. Valentia had a short range. Originally it was of the utmost importance to ships, both eastward and westward bound, which availed themselves of the position of the station as Europe's most westerly point to send messages. Many thousands of words a day passed through the station, and the revenue thus derived was at the not inconsiderable rate of sixpence a word. Now Valentia, with its 600 miles radius, is overshadowed by Devizes, in England, with its high-power station of 2,000 miles radius. Transatlantic shipping can pick up the English station, and conduct business while still 1,500 miles outside the reach of Valentia. The latter depends for its activities in a commercial way on the local shipping.

As an instance of what the loss might mean it was stated that one day might see 20,000 words pass over Valentia's head to Devizes. With a station on the Kerry coast of a similar high-power capacity Valentia, because of its happy location, would get a very material portion of this business, as the international ruling on the matter is that ships communicate with the nearest station. That would mean that messages would be picked up at Valentia and sent overland, just as at present they are picked up at and sent overland from Devizes. The volume of business which is transacted at sea by means of wireless is daily increasing to enormous dimensions, so that there is the loss of possible revenue to a considerable extent while the present policy is maintained.

THE RESCUE OF THE PENCISELY.

AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

Regarding the rescue of the steamer Pencisely, which was in distress off the Dublin coast during the storm on Saturday last, and the wireless S.O.S. signals from which were picked up by amateur wireless operators in Dublin early on Sunday morning and communicated to the Port authorities, the following official statement was issued in Dublin yesterday:—

"In connection with the damage to the ss. Pencisely during the storm of Saturday night and Sunday morning, which resulted in her being in serious danger off the Northern shores of Dublin Bay, we understand that everything that could be done in the way of notifying her dangerous position and securing assistance for her was done by the section of the Department of Industry and Commerce concerned with marine affairs.

"By arrangement with the Post Office, distress messages sent out by wireless from ships in difficulties anywhere off the Irish coasts are telephoned during the day time to the Department's offices and at night to certain officers at their private residences. On the morning of Sunday, the 8th instant, the S.O.S. messages sent out by the ss. Pencisely, which was then in serious difficulties off Lambay Island, were received by the Department's officer from the wireless stations at Valentia, Fishguard and Liverpool. They were telegraphed by the stations to the Dublin Post Office, who telephoned them to the private residence of the Department's official. The first message came to hand at 1.30 a.m., and thereafter, up to 5.20 p.m. on Sunday afternoon, the officer was in constant touch with the wireless stations, and with the lifeboats, Coast Life Saving Station, Lighthouse Station and Harbour offices in Dublin Bay in a position to render assistance or to supply information.

"On receipt of the S.O.S. call at 1.30 a.m., the No. 1 man of the Coast Life Saving Station at Skerries was instructed to call out his crew and to post a sharp look-out, and the Civic Guard and the No. 1 man at Skerries were instructed to inform the coxswain of the lifeboat there. Similarly Howth was communicated with, and the Civic Guards were asked to notify the lifeboat and to assist in collecting her crew. The Berthing Master of the Dublin Port and Docks Board at the South Wall was communicated with, and it was learned that the tug Majestic was being sent out as soon as the crew could be got together. Messages were then sent through the Post Office to the wireless stations to the effect that the S.O.S. messages had been received and that help was being sent. Touch was maintained with the various stations all through the day, and at 4 p.m. the Department learned from the lighthouse keeper at the Bailey Lighthouse that the Pencisely was passing the lighthouse at that hour in tow, and at 5.20 p.m. a message came to hand from Fishguard intimating that the vessel was being towed into Dublin Bay.

"Through the telephone installation connecting some 50 coast life saving stations and 20 lifeboat stations with the public telephone service, the Department of Industry and Commerce is in a position to receive information at the earliest moment when a vessel is found in distress close to the shore and to notify these stations to call their crews together and to stand by to render assistance if required, whenever, as in the case of the ss. Pencisely, an S.O.S. call is intercepted by one of the wireless stations from a ship in danger close to the Free State coasts."

BELFAST HOUSING.

LOAN OF £250,000 ASKED.

CITIZENS PURCHASING THEIR OWN HOUSES.

Dr. G. Bryan, inspector, conducted a public inquiry in the City Hall, Belfast, yesterday, into an application by the Corporation for sanction to a loan of £250,000 for the purpose of making advances under the Small Dwellings Acquisition Acts. There was no public interest in the proceedings, only officials of the Corporation being in attendance, along with Alderman Duff and Councillor Watters. There was no opposition.

Mr. John M'Cormick, Town Solicitor, gave figures, which, he said, were startling in the sense that they showed growing public interest in the acquisition of houses. He mentioned that the entire amount sanctioned by the old Local Government Board and the Home Ministry, Northern Ireland, up to date was £365,000, and of this amount there had been advanced to borrowers the sum of £331,410, which left a balance in hands, £33,590. For the purpose of that inquiry he was assuming that the loan would be sanctioned, and that would add £250,000, which would bring up the total sum available to £283,590 for the purpose of the Act. Up to the present time applications by borrowers had been sanctioned, but not paid, in 244 cases, the sum amounting in these cases to £122,505. These cases were actually going through; the titles were being investigated and documents examined, and in the course of about two months would be completed.

Of applications approved by the Law Committee, but not yet passed by the Ministry, there were 186, and they represented a sum of £95,190. In addition, 52 other cases had come in within the last fortnight, and they were in the hands of the valuer, but had not reached the Committee, and it was estimated the sum involved in these cases would be £26,000. This, then, gave a total of £243,695, and if that was deducted from the total figure it would leave a sum of £39,895. The effect of that would be that at the present rate of progress this would very speedily be absorbed. The Law Committee were quite sensible of this, and they asked the Corporation for sanction to a loan of half a million, but the Finance Committee recommended a loan of only a quarter million, so that in two months' time the Corporation would either have to close down or come there again for more money.

Mr. R. G. Geale, City Treasurer, presented a statement as to the finances of the Corporation, and explained that the value of municipal properties and undertakings exceeded substantially the total indebtedness of the Corporation. A sum of £1,174,000 was standing at the credit of the Corporation sinking funds.

Replying to the Inspector, Mr. M'Cormick said that none of the 858 houses purchased were Corporation houses. In his view, the administration of the Acts had been very satisfactory. In only two or three instances had they to take possession of houses and sell them. There had been no burden on the rates, and they did not anticipate any loss.

Closing the proceedings, Dr. Bryan said that he was glad to be assured that the housing operations of the Corporation had been attended with such success, and that 858 people had become the owners of their own houses, and that there was no burden on the rates.

A GOVERNMENT ORDER.

NO ARMISTICE DAY LEAVE FOR CIVIL SERVANTS.

Irish ex-Service men who are working in the Irish Free State Civil Service may be absent from the Armistice Day ceremony at St. Stephen's Green to-morrow morning.

Heads of the various departments of the Civil Service received official communications some time ago, in which it was laid down that "leave cannot be granted to Civil Servants to attend any function."

On November 11th, 1924, leave to attend the ceremony at College Green was unstintingly given. Civil servants came to their offices in the morning and "signed on" as usual. It was but a formality to go to the chief and ask for his permission to be absent for two or three hours; there were no refusals. Everybody went to College Green.

The matter is to be raised in the Dail, but, as it happens, the Armistice ceremony will be over when the House meets.

In England the procedure is different. Civil Servants are granted leave from 10 a.m. until the afternoon. No hour of return is specified. Usually the great crowds prevent men from returning for several hours.

THE COUNTY ARMAGH VACANCY.

DATE OF POLLING FIXED.

Nominations for the Parliamentary vacancy in the County Armagh, created by the elevation of the Right Hon. Richard Best, K.C., the Northern Attorney-General, to the office of Lord Justice of Appeal in the Northern Judiciary, have been fixed for the 17th inst., and the polling will take place on the 25th inst.

The official Unionist candidate is Mr. J. C. Davison, barrister-at-law, and Mr. W. R. Todd is contesting the seat as a representative of the Unbought Tenants Association.

HAVOC OF THE STORM.

GREAT DESTRUCTION AT GREYSTONES.

The storm on Sunday caused much damage along the north strand at Greystones, Co. Wicklow. The northern end of the roadway was destroyed and the entrance to Rosetta Fort was swept away, together with the strong retaining wall around the fort. The sea at this point has penetrated almost to the railway. The cottages suffered severely. Three of them collapsed, and their occupants lost most of their possessions. A stretch of about fifty yards of the road retaining wall was carried away, and where there is no wall the road is collapsing. Mr. Pim, Peace Commissioner, visited the district yesterday and promised to make representations to the Government with a view to their assisting the homeless.

THE SHANNON FLOODS.

Thousands of acres of land along the Shannon, below and above Athlone, are under water, as a result of the floods following the recent rains. The fields adjoining the Shannon are like huge lakes. They are covered with water to a depth of from four to eight feet. Many houses are threatened, and by-roads are submerged. The road leading to Oonown, a thickly populated district, is two feet deep with water.

FRENCH COMMUNISTS IMPRISONED.

INCITING SOLDIERS TO INSUBORDINATION.

PARIS, Monday.

The Correctional Tribunal to-day sentenced the Communist, Monmauceau, secretary of the Unitary General Confederation of Labour; M. Bellenger, manager of the Humanite, and three other Communists to eight months' imprisonment and a fine of one thousand francs for inciting soldiers to insubordination.

Two other Communists were sentenced to four months' imprisonment and one thousand francs fine.—(Reuter.)

LATE NEWS.

THE GUILDHALL SPEECHES.

GROUND FOR HOPE.

The Times, commenting in a leading article upon the speeches delivered at the Lord Mayor of London's banquet last night, observes:—Mr. Baldwin said yesterday that he had recognised that the demand at the last election was for a National Government. The period of simplified politics, characterised by a belief in panaceas and illusions, has been followed by a period of, perhaps, excessive pessimism, and the Prime Minister and his colleagues yesterday justified their claim to be a National Government at this crisis of our fortunes by the very moderation of their language, by their sedulous avoidance of any temptation to make play with exaggerated hopes. It is moderation of this kind that inspires confidence, and when Mr. Baldwin declared emphatically that we are not being submerged, but that "the waters are falling and our spirits rising," he spoke, not as a party man, but as a national leader keenly aware of the gravity of the dangers from which now at last we are beginning to escape. He was able seriously and certainly to affirm that there is ground for hope, and that there is room for constructive action in so much of the future as we can practically foresee.

The dawning confidence which the Prime Minister expresses is largely based on the Government's considerable achievement in international affairs. "In foreign affairs," Mr. Baldwin said very significantly, "we have learned at last the lesson of the war. We have fashioned a machinery, unheard of in 1914, for the settlement of international disputes," and he paid in this connection a warm and well-deserved tribute to Mr. Austen Chamberlain for the remarkable work he had done at Locarno. Mr. Chamberlain himself was careful not to describe the achievement in too glowing detail; for his anxieties are still upon him, and he has yet to bring this unprecedented agreement of the nation to the point of formal signature.

Mr. Baldwin spoke hopefully of the Dominions, who are showing a greater sympathy with our domestic problems, as we are slowing with theirs. He saw encouraging signs in India of the growth of a broader view and a clearer sense of political responsibility. There is a new sensitiveness, a broader mutual understanding, within the Empire. Reason and sound instinct are beginning to overcome the bewilderment and confusion caused by the increased rapidity of inter-communication in trade and in ideas. This recovery, perhaps, expresses a change of temper throughout the world. Locarno seems to be a hopeful symptom of such a tendency. There is real ground for the kind of sober hope that inspires patient and constructive effort.

WAR SIGNS IN CHINA.

TROUBLE ON A LARGE SCALE.

The Peking Correspondent of The Times sent the following despatch yesterday:—According to Chinese reports the negotiations between Chang Tso Lin and Feng Yu Hsiang have reached a deadlock, and hostilities are imminent. There is a persistent rumour that the Fengtien (Chang's) forces are retiring from Hsuchow at the junction of the Tientsin-Pukow and Lunghai railways. This shortening of the front suggests a concentration in the Chihli Province in preparation for contingencies. In this region Chang Tso Lin has put a large force at Jehol—about 120 miles north of Peking—and is bringing all available troops inside the great wall from Manchuria.

Feng Yu Hsiang's forces are quartered in the Metropolitan area, and are showing much activity. So many obviously fabricated reports are current that it is impossible to separate fact from fiction, but it is becoming increasingly difficult to avoid the conclusion that trouble on a large scale is brewing.

FRENCH FINANCE.

The Daily Chronicle, referring to French finance and the plans for raising new revenue, says:—The paradox of the whole position is that France should be in many ways the most prosperous country in Europe, with a favourable trade balance and no unemployment, yet she cannot make her Budget balance. On paper she appears to be a very heavily taxed country, but when we compare the Treasury receipts with the aggregate national income, her taxation is seen to be light compared with ours. The explanation is that the French legislate for heavy taxes, but fail to collect them. The most hopeful element in the situation is that all classes and all parties are at length appreciating the fact that inflation, if the easiest form of taxation, is also the most disastrous, and that heroic measures must be taken to stop it.

CANADA'S POLITICAL FUTURE.

The Daily Telegraph, dealing with Canada's political problem, says:—Now that Mr. Mackenzie King has come to his final decisions, the strange constitutional position which has been brought about by the general election in Canada, has at least been given a definite outline. After long consultation with his Ministerial colleagues, half of whom, like himself, met misfortune at the polls, and after the fullest discussion of the matter with the Governor-General, the Liberal leader has decided not to resign, but to meet Parliament when it assembles on December 10th. The political future in the Dominion remains uncertain, and it is much to be hoped that public opinion will find means in the course of the virtual interregnum that is now opening to express itself in a manner that will dispose of any doubt as to the direction in which the sympathies of the majority lie.

THE ULSTER LOAN.

In its City Notes column The Times says:—We learn that underwriters of the Ulster 4½ per Cent. Loan have not been required to take up any Stock. Dealings began in the scrip yesterday on the basis of about "par."

ENGLISH MAYORAL ELECTIONS.

HOW THE PROVINCES VOTED.

The election of Lord Mayors and Mayors for the ensuing year took place yesterday throughout England and Wales. Of a total of 331 elected in the provinces, there are 146 Conservatives, 3 Liberal-Unionists, 113 Liberals, 26 Labour, 2 Socialist, and 20 Independents, while in twenty-one cases the politics are not stated. There are six women Mayors. Elections also took place in the twenty-eight London boroughs. The Lord Mayor of London is Sir William R. Pryke.

DIVORCED SIXTY WOMEN.

CAIRO, Monday.

Issaoui Sherif Bey appeared at the Tantah Assize Court to-day charged with marrying sixty women during the past fifteen years, and subsequently divorcing them with forged documents.

DUBLIN WIRELESS EXHIBITION.

To-morrow afternoon at 2.30 Mr. J. J. Walsh, Minister for Posts and Telegraphs, will open the Dublin Wireless Exhibition at the Mansion House. The stands all have been taken weeks ago by manufacturers. During the exhibition there will be a continuous broadcasting programme from Daventry and other stations, and the Marconi Public Address system will be demonstrated for the first time in Ireland.

The exhibition will last until Saturday, and will be open from 11 a.m. daily, except on Wednesday, when the hour of opening will be 2.30 p.m.

OILFIELDS FIRE: EIGHT KILLED.

MOSCOW, Monday.

Eight men have been killed and thirteen injured in a fire in the Grosny oilfields. The fire was caused by an explosion in gas pipes.—(Reuter.)

NEW DEAN OF BRISTOL.

The King has been pleased to approve the appointment of the Rev. Canon Henry Lawe Corry Vully De Candole, M.A., Canon of Westminster, and Rector of St. John the Evangelist, Westminster, to the Deanery of Bristol, vacant by the appointment of the Very Rev. Edward Arthur Burroughs, M.A., D.D., to the Bishopric of Ripon.

IRELAND'S DEAD.

SPONTANEOUS NATIONAL TRIBUTE.

FRENCH ACT OF HOMAGE.

To-morrow is Armistice Day. Seven years ago the last shot was fired, the tarpaulins were spread over the great guns for the last time, and the bayonets of our soldiers sheathed. Home, then, to fireside and families, with ever a thought for the comrades who found a sleeping-place in foreign fields "that are for ever Ireland." The memory of those who died is yearly perpetuated, when here and there in Ireland their friends gather together to think, for a short time, at least, of the gallant dead, and pray for the lasting peace for which they laid down their lives.

Here in Ireland conditions have changed, but the memory of our soldiers remains, and to-morrow, all over the country, simple Services and ceremonies will be held to celebrate their sacrifice.

Dublin, Cork, Belfast, Limerick, Galway, Derry and Waterford—every town will pay its tribute; villages, too; for "it is hard to believe," as General Hickie said the other day, "that any single family had not a relative fighting on the side of the Allies."

THE COUNTRY'S TRIBUTE.

PROGRAMME FOR TO-MORROW

Dublin ex-Servicemen have arranged to-morrow's programme as follows:—

At 9 a.m. a special Mass will be celebrated in the Pro-Cathedral, Marlborough street, at which all ex-Servicemen are invited to attend. Those who do not attend are requested to assemble at Beresford place at 9.30 a.m. After the Church Service ex-Servicemen will parade in Marlborough street, under General Hammond, and will march via Eden quay to Butt Bridge, where they will be joined by those assembled at Beresford place, and proceed to the temporary Cenotaph via Pearse street, Westland Row, Lower Merrion street, Merrion square North, Merrion square East, Lower Fitzwilliam street, Lower Baggot street, Pembroke street, Fitzwilliam square, Leeson street to Stephen's Green South. On the way they will be joined in Pearse street by the 6th Lancers, the Old Comrades' Association and a party from Trinity College, and at Westland Row Station by contingents from Kingstown and Blackrock. Ex-Servicemen from Rathmines and Rathfarnham district will march via Portobello Bridge, Charlemont Mall, Charlemont place and Harcourt street to Earlsfort terrace. Ex-Servicemen from Inchicore, Bluebell and Palmerstown will march via Kevin street and Cuffe street to Stephen's Green South.

The ceremony will begin with the unveiling of the cross at 10.58 a.m. The Last Post will be sounded, after which a solemn two minutes' silence will be observed. The Reveille will then be sounded.

After the ceremony the public assembled in Stephen's Green East (i.e., between Earlsfort terrace and Shelbourne Hotel) will be requested to turn about and march to the left round St. Stephen's Green. The ex-Servicemen assembled in St. Stephen's Green South will then march past and salute the Cenotaph, followed by those assembled in Leeson street and Earlsfort terrace.

The public are earnestly requested to co-operate with the officials of the British Legion in carrying out this programme.

CHRIST CHURCH SERVICES.

A solemn Service will be held in Christ Church Cathedral at 10.45 a.m. After the shortened Litany, the two minutes' silence will be observed, followed by special prayers and the celebration of Holy Communion. Offerings will be invited in response to Earl Haig's appeal for the British Legion (Ireland, Southern Area), a fund which has done a great work for the relief of distressed and disabled ex-Service men, and the widows and orphans of those who gave their lives in the great war.

Ex-Service men whose residence or place of business is in the precincts of the North Wall or South Wall will "fall in" at 9.30 a.m. outside the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company's Hotel, North Wall.

TRINITY COLLEGE OBSERVANCE.

No arts lectures will be delivered between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Armistice Day, and the front gate of the College will be closed between 9.30 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. No one will be allowed to enter or leave the College by that entrance during these hours.

The occasion will be observed in the College by the tolling of the great bell eleven times. "After that," says the Provost (the Most Rev. Dr. Bernard), "I trust that all work, speech and movement will cease for two minutes. The Chapel will be open as usual, and some may desire to spend these quiet minutes there. But, in any case, I hope that we shall not fail, one and all, to concentrate our thoughts in complete silence and stillness upon the memory of our dead."

BARRISTERS' TRIBUTE.

The two minutes' silence will be observed in the High Courts, Dublin Castle, when wreaths will be placed underneath the mural tablet to the memory of members of the Irish Bar who fell in the great war.

THE BELFAST CEREMONY.

On behalf of the people of Northern Ireland, the Governor (the Duke of Abercorn) will lay a wreath on the Belfast Memorial. He will also attend a Remembrance Day Service at Hillsborough, Co. Down.

MANY CHURCH SERVICES.

Among the special Church Services to be held in Dublin and district to-morrow are the following:—

St. George's.—10.45 a.m., Service of Remembrance and Holy Communion. A Service will be held at 8.15 p.m., to which ex-Servicemen are cordially invited. The preacher will be the Rev. R. C. Madden, M.A., Chaplain to the National Army at the Curragh. Mr. Madden was formerly a chaplain to the British Forces.

St. Kevin's.—10.45 a.m., Morning Prayer. 8 p.m., Remembrance Day Service; Rev. R. Bird.

St. Paul's.—10.45 a.m., Holy Communion. 8 p.m., Service of Remembrance.

Magdalen Church.—10.45 a.m., Holy Communion.

St. Stephen's.—10.45 a.m., Holy Communion.

Clontarf Parish Church.—10.45 a.m., Remembrance Service. 8 p.m., Memorial Service; the Rev. Canon Connell.

St. John's, Monkstown.—8 a.m., Holy Communion. 10.45, Memorial Service.

Lusk Parish Church.—10.45 a.m., Remembrance Service.

St. Mary's, Navan.—11 a.m., Remembrance Service.

membrance Service, 7 p.m., Service of Thanksgiving.

All Saints, Blackrock.—Remembrance Service, 10.30 a.m.

Lord Granard, Chairman of the British Legion in Longford, subsequently addressed the members of the branch in their clubroom and presented two full-sized framed portraits of Their Majesties King George V. and Queen Mary to the club, and added "that the King and Queen, at his request, were very graciously pleased to affix their autograph signatures at the foot of each portrait. They had much pleasure in presenting them to the members to beautify their club."

REMEMBRANCE SUNDAY SERVICES.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES.

Remembrance Sunday was observed in Longford by the attendance of a large party of ex-Service men at St. Mel's Cathedral, Longford, where Mass was celebrated. Lord Granard, K.P., was in command of the parade, and was accompanied by Major Wilson-Slator, Captain N. Mayne, and Captain H. Boyers. The men wore Flanders poppies and war medals. An impressive sermon was preached by the Very Rev. P. Gray, Adm. A large congregation was present in the aisles, including the widows and orphans of the men who died in the Great War. After Mass the men marched to the Memorial Cross in the town, where the two minutes' silence was observed.

Athlone ex-Service men paraded at their club premises on Sunday and marched to St. Mary's Church, where the Rev. J. Pinkman celebrated Mass. Subsequently the two minutes' silence was observed at the Market square. There was also a parade to St. Mary's Protestant Church.

Admiral Waller and Major Farrell were among the officers present at the special Mass in Kells for those who died in the Great War.

Ex-Service men of all denominations paraded at the Market square, Dungannon, and marched to their respective places of worship. Included in the procession were the fathers, mothers and widows of dead soldiers wearing their relatives' war medals.

At Navan on Sunday last a parade of ex-Service men took place. Led by Brigadier-General Hammond, Major Lord Dunsany and other officers, the men marched through the town and attended Mass. After the Service the parade marched to the Market square, where the two minutes' silence was observed.

Remembrance Day was observed in Balbriggan, when a church parade was held at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, where Mass was celebrated by the Rev. W. Murphy, C.C. Some hundreds of ex-Service men assembled under the command of Captain George Hamlet and marched to the church, headed by Bachelor's Walk Band, Dublin, under the conductorship of Mr. F. Gleeson.

During the Mass the band rendered some sacred music. At the conclusion of the Service the Very Rev. J. Hickey, P.P., gave Benediction.

Twenty-three wreaths were placed on the various Derry war memorials on Sunday last.

There was an impressive Service at the Protestant Cathedral, which was crowded out, though special seating was provided. The 1st Battalion the Royal Sussex Regiment, with their band, were present at the Service, and the Commanding Officer, Colonel Bond, D.S.O., C.M.G., placed a wreath at the memorial tablet and window in memory of the fallen. The offertory was in aid of St. Dunstan's Hospital for Blinded Soldiers.

KILRUSH SERVICES.

Remembrance Sunday was observed at Kilrush, Co. Clare, by the holding of special Services in both Churches.

FRENCH HOMAGE TO BRITISH DEAD.

SLOWING DOWN OF THE BLUE TRAIN.

The King, who will be present at the Armistice Day celebration at the Cenotaph on Wednesday, will leave town after luncheon that day to visit Lord Iveagh at Elvedon Hall. At the end of the week His Majesty will go on to York Cottage, Sandringham, and the Queen will leave London to join him there.

CANADA'S THANKSGIVING DAY.

OTTAWA, Monday.

Thanksgiving Day was celebrated throughout Canada to-day as a general holiday, all business being suspended. Special Services of thanksgiving were held in all the Churches following on a bountiful harvest, and the war veterans and other organisations paid a tribute in fitting ceremonies to the memory of the men who fell in the Great War. This being the national holiday, Armistice Day will not be a holiday, though there will be the usual cessation of work for the two minutes at the scheduled Empire hour.—(Reuter.)

THE BLUE TRAIN TRIBUTE.

Thanks to the sympathetic consideration of the French Government, the seventh anniversary of the Armistice is to be the birthday of a daily act of homage to the British dead who sleep in France. The Blue Train, running daily to the South of France, has come to be regarded as, perhaps, the finest train on the railways of the world. It was felt that this fine train might do a fine thing in keeping with our national spirit. We raise our hats as we pass the Cenotaph; why should not the Blue Train slow down as it passes the cemetery at Etaples, where our sleeping heroes lie? The slowing down of the train as it passes within sight of ten thousand British graves would be a reverent act of homage to those who made their happiness possible. The suggestion of the Blue Train tribute was made by the editor of the Children's Newspaper to the International Sleeping Car Company, who promptly arranged to give effect to it on Armistice Day, and have further arranged with the authorities of the French Railways to slow down the Blue Train daily as it passes Etaples.

FAREWELL OF GENERAL PRIMO DE RIVERA.

MADRID, Monday.

General Primo de Rivera, who has handed over the High Commissionership in Morocco to General Sanjurjo in order to be free to return to Madrid and resume his political duties, bade farewell to the Spanish Army and Navy in Morocco in an Order of the Day, issued at Tetuan yesterday.

In the following passage General Primo de Rivera refers to the future of the Military Directory in Spain:—"The day that the King decides upon such a course a new Government will come into being which will watch over the tranquillity and prosperity of the country. This Government would, in the nature of things, be a more normal and a more civilian body than the Directory, though it would be guided by the same principles. It will also put a check upon the maleficent activities of those ill-disposed persons who, actuated by motives of jealousy or lawless ambition, might be tempted to jeopardise the great work accomplished by Spain."

The President of the Directory also expressed his intention, as soon as he got to Madrid, of examining and giving effect to the many recommendations for awards and decorations made in connection with the recent operations.—(Reuter.)

PROBLEM OF THE MILK YIELD.

FREE STATE LOSING MILLIONS.

WINTER DAIRYING ADVOCATED.

Mr. Denis Hegarty, General Secretary of the Irish Creamery Managers' Association, gave an address at the weekly meeting of the Dublin Rotary Club yesterday on the all-important subject of Irish dairying.

The lecturer declared that we are behind other countries, principally on three important points:—

(1) Our comparatively small average milk yield per cow;

(2) Insufficient standardisation of our produce; and

(3) Our inability to adopt winter dairying to any great extent.

The salient fact was that our dairy cows did not, on an average, produce more than 420 gallons of milk each per annum, whereas in Denmark and in America the yield was 600 to 700 gallons.

In the Free State alone there are over a million cows, and therefore an increase of 50 per cent. in the yield would mean an additional 210,000,000 gallons per annum.

As most of this would be converted into butter, he estimated its value at 9d. per gallon, or over £7,500,000 per annum added to the farmers' revenue. Such an increase in the national income was well within the region of practicability.

It had been done in other countries; and even in Ireland, thanks in a great measure to the milk recording associations, an improvement was gradually being effected.

UNPROFITABLE COWS.

THE PROPER HANDLING OF MILK.

Proceeding, Mr. Hegarty said that there are now in the Saorstat not a few districts in which all the herds are producing an average of over 600 gallons per head, and in many individual farms 700 gallons and upwards. This had been accomplished with a comparatively trifling additional expenditure in feeding; for the good milch cow will not consume very much more than a bad one.

Farmers were keeping a large number of cows that were utterly unprofitable. An ample supply of rich and clean milk was an essential of infant health and nutrition. There must be better facilities provided for the conveyance of milk over long distances. For this purpose it would be necessary to provide refrigerating vans on the railways; and, whether the milk was supplied by the individual farmer or the creameries, there must be organisation among the producers, so as to ensure that the milk was properly handled at the farm, that it was delivered daily at the sending stations at a fixed hour, and that, in order to secure the lowest cost of transit, the refrigerated vans should be used to their full capacity, and the milk should be delivered to the consumer with the least possible day.

PASTEURISING.

Pasteurising was not necessary where milk was produced under absolutely clean conditions, but, as such conditions did not prevail generally, it was at present, unfortunately, a necessity.

An increased consumption of milk, as in America, where its value was taught in the schools, in the Press and in the cinemas, would greatly benefit the population from a health point of view. He did not think that under present conditions, and with present costs of production, there could be any reduction in the price paid to the producer of milk. Any such reduction would be detrimental to the interests of the consumer, as it would certainly bring about a scarcity in the supply.

COW-TESTING.

Even at present prices many farmers had either sold all or reduced the number of their dairy cows. Dairying was not at present remunerative to the farmers, and it could only be made so by greatly increased production, which could be brought about by a more extensive adoption of the cow-testing system, the elimination of a large number of unprofitable cows by better breeding, selection and feeding, and by retaining cows that yield a good quantity. Something could also be done by economy in distribution.

On the question of quality, Mr. Hegarty said that the present legal standard of 11.5 per cent. total solids (8.5 per cent. non-fatty solids and 3 per cent. fat) could not be regarded as a high one, when it was considered that the average percentage of fat throughout the year was not less than 3.5.

THE SALE OF MILK.

But while milk which was barely of the legal standard must be regarded as comparatively poor, any increase in that standard might cause serious hardship, owing to the fact that where the farmer has all his cows calving during one month of the year the milk sometimes fell even below 3 per cent., and, therefore, the defence, which was sometimes set up in the courts, that the milk was not tampered with, may be a perfectly honest one.

At the same time, it was possible for the farmer to regulate the calving of his cows in such a manner that the percentage of fat would not fall even as low as 3 per cent.; and, therefore, if he was selling milk for consumption as such, the defence that he sold it as it came from the cow was not one that should be entertained.

In America milk was sold on a guaranteed fat percentage, sometimes as high as 3.6 being guaranteed. It was to be hoped that a similar system would soon be adopted—as it was already by the creameries—by the more enterprising milk sellers in this country, and that eventually all milk would be sold on a guaranteed standard of quality and purity. Under such a system the producer of rich milk would receive the reward merited by his greater skill in the breeding and selection of his cows and his careful feeding and the regulation of the times of calving.

ABSENCE OF STANDARDISATION.

The absence of standardisation had not alone affected the quality of our products, but it had hampered the strenuous efforts that had been made to improve our market. It had long been recognised that we could not hold our grip on the British markets unless we could give the buyer an absolute guarantee of quality from an impartial authority. Grading or selection of butter for export had already raised the standard and value and secured the position of most of our competitors in the British market. The Creamery Managers' Association, unaided by the State, was spending several hundreds of pounds annually in obtaining all possible marketing intelligence for the creameries, keeping them posted daily on the fluctuations and the various factors that influence prices, thus enabling them to meet the buyer on almost equal terms; but without a recognised standard of quality guaranteed by the Government, this information, though useful, could not achieve all that was to be desired; for, while the buyer in Great Britain knows that the greater portion of Irish creamery butter is as good as he can obtain anywhere else in the world, he knows also that without a Government guarantee of quality he runs greater risk than he does in the purchase of Danish or New Zealand butter, or the butter of any other country which had adopted a system of grading or selection.

WINTER DAIRYING.

Our inability, so far, to produce milk to any appreciable extent in winter, continued Mr. Hegarty, is undoubtedly a serious drawback. It is a disadvantage to the producer in the sale of butter, inasmuch as we are unable to supply the British market for more than seven or eight months of the year, whereas Danes are able to supply butter throughout the whole year, and thus keep an unbroken connection with their customers. The establishment of winter dairying to-day is a difficult proposition, and it is not surprising that many regard it as hopeless.

In conclusion, Mr. Hegarty said that he doubted if the remuneration offered by the Agricultural Department to technical officers was such as was likely to attract men who were equipped with the ability, tact and energy necessary for the achievement of the desired results.

ECONOMY NECESSARY.

Economy in the public services was always necessary, but in the case of those who had the supervision of cow-testing, etc., where the qualifications involved knowledge acquired only by long study and training, it might be carried too far. If funds are not available it would be better to limit the number of officials than to reduce the salaries.

ELIMINATION OF "SCRUB" BULLS.

Mr. Fonso Carton, moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Hegarty, testified to the high value and the excellence of the market information which the Association supplied, the chief credit for which was due to Mr. Hegarty. Winter dairying, he said, was of the utmost importance to the farming industry, and he hoped that it would be undertaken with a determination to make it a success. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. W. J. Grey, seconding, said that there was no doubt that the small milk production of the cows in Ireland could be remedied. From a herd of eighteen cows which he owned he got from each an average of a thousand gallons per annum. If he was able to do that, surely dairy farmers could do it. The Department of Industry ought to eliminate "scrub" bulls, and draw a line between beef bulls and dairy bulls, and encourage farmers to keep the proper description of bulls.

PRINCE RUPPRECHT AS MONARCH.

BAVARIAN CABINET'S REBUFF.

BERLIN, Monday.

The Frankfurter Zeitung, on "unimpeachable authority," discloses that a couple of weeks ago Count von Soden, Chief of the Cabinet of the former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, and General Moehl, former Commander of the Bavarian Reichswehr Division, visited members of the Bavarian Government and asked them what attitude they would adopt if Prince Rupprecht were to proclaim himself King of Bavaria. The time had come to act, they said, and various organisations formed by General Moehl were ready.

The Bavarian Government promptly gave Prince Rupprecht's advisers to understand that the proposed step by the monarch would be regarded as an attempt at revolution, and would be opposed by every means. It was also pointed out that such a "Putsch" as that contemplated would inevitably mean the loss of the Palatinate.

Prince Rupprecht's agents thereupon retired and informed their master that the time was not yet ripe for the restoration of the Bavarian Monarchy.

The Vorwaerts, commenting on this news, describes Prince Rupprecht's action as "high treason against the Republican Constitution and against the unity of the Reich," and demands that he should be tried on this charge, together with his so-called Cabinet and the leaders of the Monarchist organisations in Bavaria.

Other newspapers either do not refer to the affair at all or describe it as of no importance whatever, as they consider that the Monarchist question in Bavaria is disposed of for a long time to come.

UNEDUCATED YOUTH.

REFORM NEEDED IN PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

At a meeting of the Engineering and Scientific Association of Ireland last night at University College, Dublin, Mr. W. McMillan read a paper on the necessity for technical instruction.

"Whatever may be the cause, we have to face the fact that 75 per cent. of the lads entering industrial life in Dublin are unable to pass the simple qualifying examination necessary to enter the technical schools," said Mr. W. McMillan. He declared that, before technical education could become a real live feeder for industry, reform in primary education must be tackled, root and branch.

All was not well with primary and technical education in the Irish Free State, and whether a remedy was to be supplied by legislation, by amending existing schemes, by putting on increased responsibilities, or otherwise, was a matter of detail.

ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL.

Mr. McMillan went on to say that the true causes of poor attendances at school were indifference, ignorance, self-interest, and hostility to authority. Only a master in mathematics could calculate the days lost to school attendance by an elder child kept at home to mind the baby or run errands for mother. Desperate diseases demanded drastic remedies. He believed that primary education, as they had and were experiencing it, with its concomitant factors, was a disease in a desperate state and required radical treatment. Were they able to properly diagnose the disease and prepared to face the appropriate treatment, whatever that treatment might be? Should the answer be an affirmative one, all might yet be well with technical instruction, and following that they might hopefully visualise a normal permanent state of national prosperity.

If, on the other hand, they were satisfied to tinker, on a patent medicine basis, with this problem, as in the past, then, in his opinion, that national prosperity they all so much coveted would become vested in the industry of industrial funeral undertakers.

Messrs. G. E. Shanahan, E. Joynt, R. N. Tweedy, Irvine and others took part in a discussion on the paper.

Mr. S. Robinson presided.

INCREASED NUMBERS IN TECHNICAL SCHOOLS.

Mr. T. P. Gill, who was unable to be present, conveyed his views on technical education in the Irish Free State to the meeting in the course of a letter to the Secretary to the Association, Mr. A. E. Porte, M.I.E.E.

Happily, the condition of technical instruction at this moment in Ireland, Mr. Gill wrote, is such as to offer the greatest encouragement to those who wish to advance it. The position is outstanding and unique: it is that all over Ireland, from Cork to Belfast, the numbers seeking admission to the technical schools are greater than ever in their history. Committees nearly everywhere are turning away would-be students because the schools are not large enough to hold them. This, as you know, was the tale of the growth of technical instruction in Ireland year after year since its inception until the interruptions of wars and revolutions. It has recovered from those interruptions, with the result I have mentioned. I know no better sign of the country just now than this fact, and certainly it is the unanswerable testimony of the reality of technical instruction. These young men and women thronging the doors of the technical schools literally clamouring for admission are under no legal compulsion to attend; they are there because they have seen and actually experienced in the case of their friends and of themselves the real value of the teaching to them in their battle of life.

Let me add that the system has cherished a true national sympathy for all that is Irish and of tradition, and an unfailing all-Ireland outlook. Our Technical Instruction Association has remained an all-Ireland body with a Northern Vice-President, and I look forward, as its recently-made President, to our next annual Congress being attended by representatives of the Northern as well as the Southern Committees, irrespective of any boundary.

DONEGAL FISH SUPPLIES.

CONSIGNMENTS COMING FROM SCOTLAND.

The Donegal Mental Hospital Committee yesterday passed a resolution, which was proposed by the Vice-Chairman, Mr. J. F. O'Donnell, and seconded by Mr. R. Holmes—"That this Committee request the county Treaty delegates to visit the Ministry of Fisheries, and make representations, with view to obtaining at least one trawler to supply the Donegal public institutions with fish from their own seaboard. The present supplies come from Scotland."

DUBLIN FISHERIES.

MORE TO BE SPENT ON CONSERVATION.

INCREASED GRANT WANTED.

The amount spent on conservation of fisheries in the Dublin district was wholly inadequate, said Dr. R. R. Leeper, Chairman, at the monthly meeting of the Dublin Board of Conservators yesterday, when a draft estimate for the coming year was considered.

The estimate was presented by the Clerk to the Board (Mr. B. J. Newcombe) in view of the requirement of the new Fisheries Act that the Board shall strike a rate on the fisheries in the district, which are now exempt from assessment with the poor rate. The estimate showed on the receipts side £789, including £120 brought forward, a Government grand equivalent to that received in the present year, and the same amount from rates as in the present year, as well as anticipated receipts from licence duties. The estimate of expenditure, on virtually the same basis as in the present year, was £667, which would leave, roughly, the same balance as was brought in on the receipts side.

INCREASED EXPENDITURE.

The Chairman said that the expenditure would have to be increased in the coming year. The amount spent on conservation of the fisheries in the district in recent years was wholly inadequate. The Board was responsible for fisheries on the Liffey from Ringsend to Poulaphouca, and other fisheries as well, and it needed a proper staff of bailiffs.

It was decided to increase the budget on the expenditure side, and the Clerk was directed to inquire whether an increased grant from the Government could be expected. The framing of the rate to be levied was deferred till next month. It was also decided to look into the valuation of fisheries at present rated, with a view to increase, if necessary, and also to inquire what properties, in addition to those already valued, should be valued for the purposes of a fisheries rate.

In response to a resolution passed at the last meeting, the Department of Fisheries informed the Board that the number of conservators could not be increased before the next triennial election.

THE BRAY WEIR.

The report submitted from the Board's bailiff stated, inter alia, that during recent floods numbers of salmon were observed below the weir at Bray. They were endeavouring to pass up the river, and many were killed in making the attempt to jump the weir.

The Chairman said that the Bray weir was an old chestnut at that Board. Bray Council did not seem to mind about it, and why the riparian owners let a valuable fishery be destroyed by the existence of the dam he could not understand. All that was necessary was the construction of a fish-pass, which could be opened at flood times to let the salmon up the river to spawn.

Mr. A. E. Woodnut said that the water was taken for the Bray electrical supply, and the channel was dry for a great part of the year.

The Clerk read past correspondence on the matter, which began with a letter from Bray Urban Council forwarding complaints by fishermen that fish could not get up the river. To that the Clerk had replied that the Urban Council was taken the water for its electricity station, diverting it from the bed.

Mr. H. D. Pack-Beresford said that it would only cost £50 to put a fish-pass there.

The Clerk—But there is no one to do it.

The Chairman—We cannot do it, anyhow.

Mr. P. C. Fagan—The Fisheries Department might well consider it.

The Clerk said that the Department was fully aware of the whole thing.

It was decided to send a copy of the bailiff's report to the Department.

WIFE AND CHILDREN HUNGRY.

PRISONER'S PLEA IN "HOLD-UP" CASE.

"I went home to-night and had two children lying in bed hungry without any supper and no fire in the house after working all week. I took the gun out with the intention of getting them their supper, as you would do yourself, and, of course, I got caught."

This was the statement made by James Melaney, of King's Court (off Lancaster street), when he was arrested on Saturday at 8.15 p.m., on a charge of assaulting with intent to rob (when armed with a dangerous and offensive weapon) Alexander Taylor, postmaster, 131a Donegall street, Belfast, on Saturday.

In a second statement in the police barracks, he said—"I, James Melaney, being on active service in the Great War, and also being a prisoner of war, knowing what the pain of hunger is, could not see my wife and children hungry, and went out with the intention of getting them their supper."

Mr. J. Graham said that he had been retained on the prisoner's behalf by some people in the street in which he resided. He asked to see the "offensive and dangerous weapon."

Detective-Sergeant Brown produced a toy revolver, broken in two.

Mr. Graham—Is not that a toy revolver? It is.

Such as is bought for children at Christmas? Yes.

Mr. Graham said that the accused was a married man with a wife and two children, one aged four years and the other a few months. He was wounded on active service, was a prisoner of war for ten months, and he produced a certificate from the King congratulating him on his release.

The accused was remanded.

YOUNG MARRIED COUPLE ESTRANGED.

JUDGE'S ADVICE TO PARENTS.

Mr. Arthur Stanley Ainsley, a quantity surveyor, of Harrow Weald, who recently was the unsuccessful plaintiff in an action against his wife's parents on an allegation that they enticed away and harboured her, was, in the Divorce Court, London, yesterday, the respondent to a petition by his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Aline Ainsley, for a judicial separation on the ground of alleged cruelty. This he denied, and alleged condonation.

Giving evidence Mr. Ainsley said that he still loved his wife and wanted to live with her.

Asked by the judge if there was no possibility of their coming together, the respondent replied that "if they had half an hour together all would be settled."

Discussing the petition, the judge said that those young people had never given themselves a chance of living together. Those who had control of the pair should see that they got that chance, so that those miserable incidents might come to an end.

BELFAST SALVAGE ACTION.

In the King's Bench Division, Admiralty side, Belfast, yesterday, before Mr. Justice Wilson, Mr. E. Warnock (instructed by Messrs. M'Kinty and Wright) applied on behalf of the plaintiffs for an order for the discovery of documents and to fix the date of trial before a judge and nautical assessor in the action of the owners, master, and crew of the steam drifter Lull v. the owners of the steamship Glencona.

Counsel explained that the action was for salvage services in the Irish Sea on 3rd July last.

The Judge granted the order sought, and also allowed Mr. E. J. M'Kean (instructed by Messrs. Carson and M'Dowell) a cross-order for discovery on the part of the defendants.

Mr. Warnock stated that they hoped to have the date fixed for the 9th or 10th December.

LIVE STOCK BREEDING.

As a result of the recent inspection of bulls in Co. Clare, 141 were rejected out of 573 shown, and the Department of Agriculture have intimated that at future inspections the standard will be higher.

IRELAND'S FUTURE.

MR. BLYTHE HOPEFUL.

After the Cumann na nGaedheal demonstration in Clonmel on Sunday, the Ministers were entertained to dinner at the Ormond Hotel. The Mayor (Mr. James Riedy) presided.

The toast of "the Free State" was given by the Mayor, and responded to by Mr. Conn O'Neill.

"Our Guests" was responded to by Mr. Blythe, Mr. Burke, and Mr. L. D'Alton.

Mr. Blythe said:—I think it was almost a miraculous circumstance that the Truce came at the right moment. There is no doubt that the country was put to the pin of its collar towards the latter end of the Anglo-Irish war, and if the Truce had not come when it did come it would be hard for anyone to say what would have happened to the country. I believe all of us would feel that the country, after a long night of oppression and a long night of government from outside, was starting a new career, with the smile of God upon her.

I think that the incidental circumstance of the Irregular trouble and the suffering and depression brought upon the country should not alter our minds as to what is in store for this country. I believe this country was just on the verge of extinction nationally. I believe that another generation of English rule would have extinguished the spirit of nationality. National feeling was weakening, the national language was dying, and our people were becoming like English people.

Within a generation of final extinction this country was almost miraculously raised up and given freedom, and I have the firm belief that there is a great future before us; that this country will, in the modern world, as in the ancient world, come to have a high name and be a country of which all its citizens and all her sons in other lands will feel proud, and will in our day have something of that extraordinary pride and almost boastfulness with which in times past the citizens of Rome boasted of their citizenship.

I think we have hard work before us; I think we have difficulties before us, and I hope that some of that same spirit of enthusiasm and co-operation that we had in the struggle against the British will be revived and be applied to the daily tasks that lie before the nation, which has now her freedom—a nation which has to make its own destiny. I believe there is great ability amongst our people. We see it in other lands, people capable of great enthusiasm and great sacrifice, and I feel confident—I feel absolutely confident—that, in spite of difficulties and handicaps, great things will be done by our people, not in the remote future, but in our own day.

A vote of thanks to the Mayor was moved by Mr. Burke and seconded by Mr. Blythe.

"END OF THE ICE AGE."

SOME LOCAL EVIDENCES.

"The End of the Ice Age" was the title of a paper which Dr. L. B. Smyth, of the Geological Department, Trinity College, Dublin, and President of the Dublin University Experimental Science Association, read last night at the annual meeting of the Association.

Dr. Smyth first gave proofs that there was an ice age in this country, and then referred to the difference between valley glaciers, as occurring in the Alps, and ice sheets covering the whole country, as in Greenland. North-West Europe, he said, was once covered with an ice sheet, and the melting of this ice sheet must have returned water to the sea, which raised its level perhaps from 50 to 100 feet. The water, running off, produced channels in places where they could not have been formed if the ice had been present. These were called dry gaps when they contained no modern river, and were a most convincing proof of the former presence of an ice sheet.

With the melting of the ice the land rose, showing that the weight of the ice had depressed it. This was proved by former foreshore lines, now high above the sea level, and higher near the centre of the original ice sheet than near the margin, showing that the centre of the original ice sheet was more depressed. The curious valleys, known as cirques, were characteristic of mountainous regions once glaciated. These were scoops in the hillside, with a steep cliff at the head. Lough Bray, at the head of Glencar, was an example of this, on a small scale. The scoops were eaten out of the hills by glaciers. Snowden showed a mountain in which the scoops had nearly met, producing sharp ridges between them. The Matterhorn was an extreme case, where three great scoops had met, forming a pinnacle.

Dr. Bayley presided at the lecture, and there was a large attendance.

The thanks of the audience were conveyed to the lecturer by Professor Joly and Mr. A. W. Stelford, of the National Museum.

"CAVALRY SQUADRON" OF STOLEN HORSES.

FOOTING THE BILL IN CORK.

At Cork Circuit Court yesterday, Judge Kenny continued the hearing of compensation claims under the Damage of Property Act and awards were made in respect of provisions, groceries, wines, commandeered horses, killed or injured; trees cut down, demesne walls damaged during the irregular régime in the South.

The principal claims were two by Edward Magner, Ballincollig—namely, £300 for the horse, Daddy Long Legs, and the mare, Nancy, taken by irregulars, and £200 for meat and other provisions requisitioned.

On the first claim the Judge gave a decree for £170, and £167 on the second claim.

In the course of the evidence it was stated that the provisions were commandeered by a "cavalry squadron" formed of the many horses taken from different people in the neighbourhood and of the bill for provisions £50 was for supplying Republican Police, £168 for military, £39 for "cavalry squadron," all in Ballincollig Barracks in the autumn of 1922.

BELFAST ARSON CHARGE.

HUSBAND AND WIFE RETURNED FOR TRIAL.

Charles Franklin and his wife, Bettina Franklin, charged in the Belfast Police Court yesterday with maliciously setting fire to the dwellinghouse of Hugh Cooper, 128 Great Victoria street, Belfast, on Saturday evening last, were returned for trial, bail being fixed in two sureties of £50 each. Sergeant Shaw gave evidence of visiting Cooper's house. The curtains were burned down and lying in ashes on the floor. An eiderdown quilt was folded up and laid on the bottom of the bed. A hole was burned in it about the size of the palm of a hand, and a match (produced), half-burned, was sticking in it. He would say that there were five separate and distinct fires in the room. He subsequently arrested the accused at Fitzroy avenue. Both said: "It is a false charge," and also: "The gas likely caught on; Mrs. Cooper was always saying to watch the gas." The female prisoner said: "She is a bad, spiteful woman." On the morning of the 8th November witness searched the prisoner's belongings, and found a bottle of Eau de Cologne—a highly inflammable substance. Mr. Franklin said that his wife brought a supply from London with her.

Mrs. Cooper said that she gave the accused notice to leave on Saturday last, and when they were just going out to the taxi she smelt something burning. She rushed upstairs and found the room on fire. The duchess set on the top of the dresser was burning in three places, as if some inflammable substance had been poured on it. Before Mrs. Franklin left she came to the kitchen for a drink and took a box of matches.

Mrs. Helen Markson, another lodger, stated that after Mrs. Franklin had received notice to quit she said to witness that she felt like going down and giving Mrs. Cooper "a bash on the face."

The accused were returned for trial, as stated.

CENSORSHIP IN ITALY.

DOUBTS ABOUT THE "PLOT."

WILD STORIES NOW DISCREDITED.

From "The Times" Correspondent.

ROME, Monday.

The alarming report of the existence of a widespread conspiracy to effect the overthrow of the present Government and the dark insinuations in regard to its international ramifications, which were originated by the discovery of the attempt to be made on the life of Signor Mussolini, and published by the Government Press, have suddenly been cut short.

The Press Bureau of the Presidency of the Council has issued strict orders that, in order that the development of the police inquiries should not be prejudiced, no news on the subject, which has not been communicated by the Stefani Agency, is to be published.

In view of the wild assertions, in which some newspapers have been indulging, this restriction is not altogether undesirable. But it is to be hoped that the public will not continue to be kept in the dark about this mysterious business.

The obvious improbability of many of the assertions made has already resulted in doubt being cast on the whole affair.

KILLED IN TIGER'S CAGE.

INQUEST ON WOMAN KEEPER.

The Coroner's inquiry yesterday at Manchester into the death of Eliza Ann Lambert, the West Gorton widow, aged 52, head keeper in the lion house at Belle Vue, did not establish beyond conjecture the actual way in which she was killed while cleaning out the lions' house. Mrs. Lambert was found lying half in the tiger's den and half in its front cage. Straw from the tiger's bed covered the dead body when it was found, and the officials surmised that the beast, following primitive instinct, was dragging the woman to its lair when it was disturbed.

Evidence was given that Mrs. Lambert had omitted to close the sliding gate separating the den from the outer cage.

The cage gate, said Mrs. Lambert's foster son, who helped her with the cleaning, was worked by a lever; she had often worked it. Her charges included lions, tigers, leopards, hyenas, and several kinds of wild dog and cat. For all these beasts she had a pet name. He last saw Mrs. Lambert alive at ten o'clock on Sunday morning, when she said: "I am going to the lion house to clean it out. Come along as soon as possible." When he went along the back of the cage half an hour later he got no answer. He went round to the front, and he said: "There I saw Mrs. Lambert inside the cage lying on the floor, half in the den and half in the cage."

TIGER SEEMED "DONE UP."

The Coroner—Where was the tiger?

Witness—In the sleeping den. He was quiet, and seemed done up. The witness added that Mrs. Lambert had apparently been dragged several yards into the den. To his knowledge she had never before gone into the cage without closing the sliding door. Witness gave the alarm, and tried to beat off the tiger with iron bars.

Another keeper, named Clarke, who helped the previous witness, said that his impression was that the woman had been struck from behind, as she had a big gash in the neck.

Mr. Duthie, Secretary of Belle Vue, said that the gates were in proper working order. "I think," he added, "Mrs. Lambert had omitted to close the slide; the pin was hanging loose."

The Coroner, returning a verdict of accidental death, said that there was only one possible explanation of how the tiger got close to Mrs. Lambert. She must have omitted to close the slide. "It is impossible to get away from the human element," he observed. "Things we have been in the habit of doing as a matter of caution we suddenly omit to do. I therefore feel it incumbent upon me to recommend that there should always be two people present in risky work of this kind. The work is safe so long as the slide in the cages is closed, but there should be a second person to make certain that this is done."

THE RELIEF OF DERRY.

MEMORIAL TO CAPTAIN BROWNING.

The Londonderry Corporation's Sub-Committee, which was appointed in connection with the erection, at Shipquay Gate, of a memorial tablet to Captain Browning, whose ship, the Mountjoy, broke the boom in 1689, and brought relief to the beleaguered garrison of Derry, has accepted the design submitted by Mr. R. Cecil Thomas, sculptor, of Queen's Gate, London. The design includes a bronze relief memorial tablet, with a correctly detailed model of an armed merchantman, under sail, of 1689, with the lettering in the character of the period.

The inscription reads:—"Near this spot was landed the body of Michael Browning, master of the ship, Mountjoy, of Londonderry, killed in action at the breaking of the boom, July 28, 1689, while leading the van of the relieving squadron against the forces of James II. and Louis XIV." The tablet will be unveiled by the Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, Vice-Admiral of Ulster.

POOR LAW COMMISSION.

PREPARATION OF EVIDENCE IN CORK.

With the object of preparing evidence for submission to the Poor Law Commission, a committee appointed by the Cork County Council for that purpose met at the Courthouse yesterday. The members in attendance were:—Dr. Magner and Messrs. T. J. Murphy, T.D.; J. Daly, T.D.; P. J. Bradley, D. Hinchin, E. O'Neill, C. Bailey, P. H. Barry, and D. Lucey. A number of Board of Health and Public Assistance officials were also present.

The proceedings were private, but a report dealing with the activities of the committee will be submitted to the next meeting of the Council.

PROMISSORY NOTE CHARGE.

MULLINGAR FARMER ACQUITTED.

Before Judge Wakely, at Mullingar, Denis McDermott, Brotenstown, Mullingar (farmer) pleaded not guilty to a charge of fraudulently inducing John Kiernan, Hopestown, to execute a valuable security—viz., a promissory note for £50, in the National Bank, on 19th March, and also with having, by means of false pretences, intended to defraud.

Kiernan said that he signed a £50 promissory note for the defendant, and when it fell due the latter asked him to sign a renewal form. This was done on the stump of a tree in the fields, and whilst signing a blot of ink fell on the form on the name Kiernan, and defendant said it was spoiled, and he (defendant), having a second form, Kiernan signed it.

Defendant was also examined on oath, as well as Mr. Knox, the manager, and Mr. Evans, sub-manager, National Bank, and at the close of the case, Mr. Dowdall said the State would never have attempted to place this serious charge against his client only they (the State) had assumed they could show that defendant got money on the second £50 note. The evidence now showed that no such thing had occurred, that there had, in fact, been two £50 bills, and that these were renewed when due, and that on more than one occasion previously Kiernan had signed notes for McDermott. He (Mr. Dowdall) confidently left his client's case and injured character in the jury's hands.

The jury found accused not guilty, and he was discharged.

U.S. MARKETS.

IRREGULAR CLOSING OF STOCKS.

(Reuter's Telegrams.)

NEW YORK, Monday.

Stocks opened heavy. Brisk bidding for Equipments, Oils, Railroads, Tobaccos, and Merchandise issues partially overcame the early depression, due to apprehension over the money rates and a violent decline in cotton futures. Brown Shoe advanced 8 points, Baldwin Locomotives 6, and Sears Roebuck, Pacific Oil, and New York Dock 5. In the late trading selling broke out again in Motors, U.S. Steel Common, and high-priced shares, but Oil Stocks were supported. The Chrysler Motor lost 7, General Electric and Dupont 6, and American Can and Hudson Motor 4. Radio Corporation was heavily sold and Nash Motors dropped 20 points. The market closed irregular. Government Bonds and Railroad Bonds irregular. The day's sales totalled 2,510,000 shares. Money on call closed firm at 5 p.c. bid and 5¼ p.c asked. Business done during the day ranged from 4¾ to 5 p.c., with the ruling rate 4¾ p.c. The last loan was made at 5 p.c. Sterling exchange irregular. Silver ⅛c. higher at 69½.

The September earnings of 195 railroads reporting to the Inter-State Commerce Commission shows the following:—Operating revenue, 565,450,000 dollars, an increase of 24,400,000 dollars over last year; operating income, 134,580,000 dollars, an increase of 17,870,000 dollars from last year.

TO ROUND-UP THE REBELS.

BIG FRENCH MOVE IN SYRIA TO-DAY.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
From Our Own Correspondent.

DAMASCUS, Monday.

With two regiments of cavalry on their way to Syria, the French are preparing a big encircling movement against the main rebel groups. Altogether some three to four thousand cavalry will be employed in this action to-morrow.

This information was given your Correspondent by a French member of the Syrian Government. The French will use cavalry and machine gun battalions, in the hope of smashing the main force of the rebels within a week.

The greatest satisfaction is expressed everywhere that M. Jouvenel, the editor of Le Matin, has been named new High Commissioner of Syria. Although the affairs of Damascus are at a standstill, there is an attempt to revive business, and practically all the bazaars are opening.

A NIGHT ATTACK.

Sunday.

Damascus experienced another night of terror when the rebels attacked the Eastern gate at the end of the Street Called Straight. Beginning at three in the morning, a small group, apparently acting as a decoy to draw the French into a big ambush outside the city, tried to storm the machine gun posts, and were met with a sharp fire.

The battle continued for an hour. No sooner was the first rattle of machine guns heard than the Moslems' chant arose in various parts of the city. This fanatical long-drawn cry is blood curdling.

Amidst the machine gun-firing and the chanting, the barking of thousands of stray dogs and the crowing of roosters lent a comic touch to the terrifying hour.

The French machine gunners drove off the rebels, who retired as dawn approached.

Thousands more Christians are leaving the city, and there are fights for places on the infrequent trains. Altogether about 25,000 have left Damascus, and of these 15,000 have taken refuge in Beirut.

COTTON CONDITION REPORT.

WASHINGTON, November 9.

The Crop Reporting Board of the United States Department of Agriculture in its tenth cotton report, issued to-day, forecasts a total production of 15,386,000, equivalent to 500lb. bales. Production was 13,618,751, equivalent to 500lb. bales, in 1924, 10,139,671 bales in 1923, 9,762,069 bales in 1922, 7,953,641 bales in 1921, and 13,439,603 bales in 1920, the average production for the five years being 10,982,947 bales.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Monday.

WHEAT opened irregular, ⅛c. up to unchanged. Some advances in the early dealings, due to bullish weekly foreign statistics, firmer Liverpool cables, and covering, were followed by reactions, owing to the favourable weather for threshing, good Argentine reports, a bearish private estimate of the Argentine crop, and a slow demand for export and by outsiders. The market closed irregular and unchanged to 1½c. down. Spot easier.

CONNAUGHT

Bails Estreated.—When a young man, Charles McTiernan, Gort, Carrick-on-Shannon, failed to turn up at the Carrick-on-Shannon District Court yesterday, on a charge, as alleged, of the larceny of a bicycle, the property of M. Brennan, railway employé, on 8th September last, Justice Rice, on the application of Superintendent Molloy, issued a Bench warrant and ordered that the sureties be estreated. Later, the youth was arrested, and placed under heavier bails to appear at the District Court.

Revenue Commissioners' Attitude.—At the Carrick-on-Shannon District Court yesterday, the Revenue Commissioners prosecuted the local Choral and Operatic Society for failing to pay tax on a recent production of "Maritana." The defence was that the production was educational, and the case was previously adjourned by order of Justice Kenny, with a recommendation that the proceedings be withdrawn. Mr. George Lynch, State Solicitor, said that the Commissioners ordered the proceedings to be gone on with, and Mr. Rice, after hearing the facts, recommended the withdrawal of the prosecution. Mr. Pettit, for the defence, said that if the Commissioners turned down the views of two justices, he would appeal the case, if brought again, to Judge Devitt's Circuit Court.

LEINSTER

Destruction of Pike.—So effective has the award of 6d. per tail been that the Fishery Conservators, at their meeting in Navan, had before them certificates for the destruction of 90 pike for the month. The pike interfere with the salmon, and the conservators grant awards for their destruction, as well as for the destruction of cormorants.

Rise in Egg Prices.—As the result of the formation of a branch of the Irish Poultry-Keepers' Association in Thomastown, the price of eggs advanced in one week from 1s 9d. to 2s. 6d. per doz.

Fall in Pigs.—At Callan pig market yesterday fat pigs realised only 91s. per cwt., a drop of 7s. within a fortnight. One hundred and twenty fat pigs were purchased.

MUNSTER.

Cork Burglary.—The licensed premises of Mr. John Hoare, Faulkner's lane, Cork, were broken into on last Sunday night and £20 worth of goods stolen.

Snow in Donegal.—There was heavy snow on the hills surrounding Donegal Town yesterday morning. The weather is very wintry.

Two Brothers Drowned.—The body of James Daly, the ex-Irish Guardsman, who, with his brother Joseph, was drowned while crossing the Ballyshannon River in a boat three weeks ago, was recovered on last Sunday on Tullin Strand, three miles from where the double drowning fatality took place.

Death of Mr. Charles Culleton.—The death took place at the Mercy Home, Cork, yesterday, of Mr. Charles F. Culleton, who was one of the founders of the Irish National Assurance Company, of which he was a director. He leaves a widow and young family.

Tralee Rates.—Tralee Urban Council have struck a rate of 19s. 5d. in the £, exclusive of a domestic water rate of 1s. in the £. The town rate comes to 12s. 10d. in the £, an increase of 6d. over last year's rate, and the poor rate is 6s. 7d. in the £ as against 4s. 8d. last year, an increase of 1s. 11d. in the £. The Clerk stated that the County Council demand this year was £5,703 11s., as against £3,881 19s. 2d. last year. That accounted for the increase in the poor rate this year.

MacCurtain Street Barrack Site Sold.—The sale has been completed of the former Royal Irish Constabulary barracks in MacCurtain street, Cork, which was destroyed by fire during the "Black and Tan" trouble. The site, it is believed, has been acquired by the Government, and will be utilised for the purpose of a Civic Guard Barracks.

Cork Harbour Board yesterday decided to close the Monkstown, Aghada, Ringaskiddy and Currabinny piers, formerly used by river steamers of the Cork, Blackrock and Passage Railway.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

New Lord Justice.—The Right Hon. Lord Justice Best made his first appearance at a trial as Lord of Appeal in the Northern High Court yesterday, when he sat with Lord Justice Andrews, and heard a new trial motion.

Fate of Old Age Pensioner.—Terence McCaffrey, Carrickapolus, Brookeborough, the old age pensioner who was missing since last Friday evening, was found dead on last Sunday in a field near his home.

Adulterated Butter.—In the Belfast Police Court, Samuel Fleming, Ballyleggan, County Antrim, was summoned for having sold butter certified by the public analyst to have been adulterated with 14.3 per cent. of water. Evidence was given by Inspector M'Keown as to securing a sample of the butter. Mr. John Graham (for the defence) said that the butter was made in very warm weather when the water could not be fully pressed out. A fine of £3 and costs was inflicted.

Youthful Burglar Sentenced.—At Londonderry Petty Sessions yesterday, Alexander Curley (18) was charged with breaking and entering the house of Mr. Alex. C. Leinster, Glenard, Clooney, and stealing razors, handkerchiefs, golf balls, etc., value £3 4s. The evidence was that while Mr. Leinster was at the seaside in August, and his house shut up, it was broken into, two panes being broken and one taken out. The drawers in the different rooms were ransacked and the articles mentioned in the charge stolen. Defendant pleaded guilty to larceny. The magistrates sentenced the defendant to two months' imprisonment.

Child Scalded to Death.—A verdict of accidental death was returned at the inquest at Larne yesterday touching the death of Thomas M'Neill (3½), who was scalded by boiling water at 39 Herbert avenue, Larne. The mother's evidence showed that the little fellow attempted to light a piece of paper at the fire, and, burning his fingers, he fell back into the bucket of boiling water. The Coroner (Dr. J. J. Adams) referred to the danger to which young children were exposed by unscreened fires and boiling water.

Scramble for Loaves.—There was an extraordinary scene outside the Picture House, Belfast, yesterday, when 500 loaves of bread were distributed to ex-Servicemen or their dependants. Police kept the crowd in order. There were four half-sovereigns hidden in the loaves, and the fortunate possessors of bread treasured them carefully, hoping that luck was in their way. The chief film at the Picture House last night was entitled "Bread." Mr. Robert Boyd, the Secretary of the Ulster Ex-Servicemen's Association; Captain Savage, Captain J. M'Crea, and Messrs. J. Morgan, R. Dixon, R. Hull, J. Major, with Mr. J. Boughton (manager of the Picture House), assisted in the distribution.

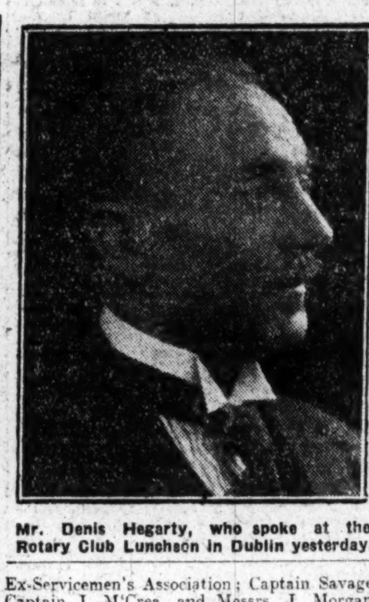

Flax Water in River.—In the Northern Chancery Division, Belfast, yesterday, consents were entered in six actions brought by Sir Francis Macnaghten, Dundarane, County Antrim. The consents provided that perpetual injunctions should issue against the respective defendants from causing or permitting to flow into the river Bush, or streams or inlets to said river, water in which flax has been steeped, or other foul or deleterious matter, so as to pollute the water and injure the fish in such streams or river, and that the respective defendants should pay to the plaintiff his costs of the action.

Sports for Belfast Schools.—The Education Committee of the Belfast Corporation has appointed the following committee to arrange the necessary details for introducing the recreation scheme into schools under their charge:—Alderman J. A. Duff (chairman), Councillor S. Donald Cheyne (vice-chairman), Alderman Mrs. M'Mordie, O.B.E.; Miss M'Cready, Rev. D. D. Boyle, Mr. R. A. Burke, D.L.; Councillor Martin Hopkins, Councillor Major Hall-Thompson, Councillor Midgley, and Mr. W. W. Robertson. As a result of several social dances organised by the chairman and vice-chairman, the first series of silver cups and other challenge trophies have been acquired for school football, hockey, swimming, Swedish drill, etc., competitions.

Use of a Pistol.—A boy named Robert Hannan, of Abbey place, Omagh, was charged at Omagh with discharging firearms on the public road and also with assaulting Samuel M'Farland, Mullaghmore, by discharging a pistol at him. It was alleged that Hannan fired a pellet out of the pistol at M'Farland and struck him on the eye. M'Farland had to be medically treated and was off work since. The pistol had been purchased in England. There were previous complaints against Hannan. The Chairman (Captain Gosselin) said that the defendant had done his best by his blackguardism to put the other boy's eye out. He warned the defendant that if he came back he would be flogged, and adjourned the cases for six months.

The Ubiquitous Farm Labourer.—At Omagh Revision Court yesterday Mr. W. E. Orr, Unionist solicitor, said that one of the greatest difficulties with which the Unionist Party was faced in the country was the duplicate voters. Farm servants from the Free State came into the county and moved about from place to place, with the result that they got on the register at half a dozen places. It was quite impossible to follow the movements of these migratory labourers and the register was stuffed with them. Mr. A. E. Donnelly, solicitor, challenged Mr. Orr's statement, and said that the Unionist Party were apparently of the opinion that farm labourers should not encumber the face of the earth and had no rights whatever. Mr. Orr denied that the Unionist Party wanted to deprive them of their rights, but they should not be on the register for more than one place. Mr. Fleming, the Unionist agent, stated that he knew of the same farm labourers being on the register in various places.

The steamer Baradine has arrived at Fremantle with 1,300 immigrants.

Lung Troubles

COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS.

For any weakness of throat or chest or any tendency to tuberculosis; for a troublesome cough, bronchitis, or any chest affection, the standard approved treatment is a course of Angier's Emulsion. It heals and strengthens the lungs, promotes appetite, greatly improves digestion, and exerts a pronounced tonic, invigorating influence upon the general health. Angier's is the most palatable of all emulsions, and it agrees perfectly with delicate, sensitive stomachs.

R.D.S. MUSICAL RECITAL.

THE SNOW STRING QUARTET.

If Royal Dublin Society members have heard the Snow Quartet before it can only have been so long ago that the quartet now must be accounted as newcomers. Miss Jessie Snow is leader. Mr. Ernest Tomlinson, who is not a stranger to these recitals—was it with the Wessely Quartet that he used to come?—is the viola player, and the other members are Mr. Kenneth Skeaping and Mr. Edward J. Robinson.

A posthumous fragment by Schubert—an allegro assai movement—was included in the programme with the Elgar quartet in E minor, opus 83, and Beethoven's quartet known as "The Harp" quartet. The Schubert fragment was played very sweetly; taking it at the rapid pace indicated, the performers made the music dancing and dainty.

The playing of the Beethoven quartet was not up to the standard that has been set by string quartets at these recitals in recent years. In vigorous passages the tone was rough, and the performers failed to draw magic from the more delicate passages. Either the work had not been rehearsed quite up to the point of performance or there was lack of a guiding mind to direct the playing into a convincing scheme. It may be that the quartet had concentrated their attention on the Elgar work. If they played it better than they played the Beethoven, it is unfortunate that the present writer was not there to hear it and note the fact to their credit. To have missed it was, in any event, a loss, for the Elgar quartet is hardly ever played here, and the Snow Quartet deserved thanks for bringing it.

The Society, it would seem, is going to be in difficulty about accommodation. The new Members' Hall at Ballsbridge was crowded again for yesterday's recital. For a time, all the space for standing, as well as all the seating, was occupied. Such a concourse tested the ventilation thoroughly, and happily it was found perfect—much better than it was in the Leinster House Lecture Theatre. Indeed, all the arrangements are excellent, except, for the present, the limitation to one small doorway for getting in and out.

SIR JOHN LAVERY'S ART.

Art lovers will be grateful to Mr. John Cunningham, of the Kildare Galleries, Kildare street, Dublin, for giving them an early opportunity of seeing the latest development of the art of Sir John Lavery, R.A. Sir John, in his recent exhibition in the Leicester Galleries, London, showed a number of his latest portraits in oils. He broke away from conventional portraiture, in that the subjects were shown in the ordinary surroundings of their own homes.

One of the most interesting of these is that of the Governor-General of the Irish Free State, Mr. T. M. Healy, in the drawing-room of the Viceregal Lodge, Phœnix Park. The artist's skill is lavished on the painting of the room, while His Excellency, seated on a couch in a characteristic pose, hardly catches the eye at first. The sun pours through the three large windows overlooking the park, and its strength and warmth fill the whole picture. The walls are a rich red, against which the windows and the snatches of landscape outside, as well as draperies and the furniture, stand out with pleasing effect. Miss Healy is seated on another couch, and two indistinguishable figures appear at the far end of the room. It is a picture that takes some little time to grow on one, but then it is particularly satisfying.

Close to Sir John Lavery's work is a fine example of the landscape painting of the late Walter Osborne, which is but one of the many interesting pictures with which Mr. Cunningham has filled his galleries.

MR. BLYTHE AND THE BOUNDARY

Our report of the Cumann na nGaedheal meeting at Clonmel on Sunday attributed to Mr. Ernest Blythe, Minister of Finance, a reference to the Boundary Commission's report which was made by Mr. Seamus Burke, Minister for Local Government. The mistake arose through the Telegraph Department's failure to deliver a page of our reporter's message from Clonmel.

DUBLIN THEATRES.

VARIETY AT THEATRE ROYAL.

Large audiences at the Theatre Royal, Dublin, last night, thoroughly enjoyed the excellent programme which has been provided for this week. That inimitable comedian, Fred Bentley, presented a burlesque matrimonial sketch, which kept the house in continual laughter. He was assisted by Mabel Lambeth, Florence Harvey and Stanley I'. I. It was a brilliant piece of acting, and of witty dialogue. Bentley is an exceedingly diverting artist.

Daisy Wood, who is also a favourite with Dublin theatre-goers, had some new songs, particularly the bathing song, with which she made good play. She displayed neat dancing, and her vivacious manner was very attractive. A vocalist with a banjo, whose professional name is Torrani, is the possessor of a voice of many qualities, which surprise and puzzle, while at the same time they please his hearers. James Hunter gave an amusing series of short stories. Maggie Dickinson, an Australian dancer, supported by Syd Culver, Ernest Hine, and a bevy of young girl dancers, gave a good show. The Flying Winskills are a combination of daring and clever aerial acrobats. The Four Christies gave a display of grace, strength and beauty in their classical statuary scena, and Adrienne Peel contributed several excellently rendered songs.

OLYMPIA THEATRE.

"Coloured Lights," a revue in seven scenes, was presented by Will Garland in the Olympia Theatre last night. "Plantation Pastimes," introduced popular songs, which were sung with vigour. Several dances were executed with agility, and the choruses were strong in volume. The male sextette contributed a selection of instrumental work, which, with choral work in tasteful scenery, was an effective combination. The coloured artistes fulfilled their parts with enthusiasm. W. Garland and John Mounsey appeared as comedians, and, helped by Andy Clarke, added to the amusement. Jasper White, Rosie Johnson, Ella Minto, Stella Dawson, E. Loftus, and Hilda Brown were also in the programme, which included a jazz band.

ABBEY THEATRE.

At the Abbey Theatre this week "An Imaginary Conversation," by Mr. Conal O'Riordan, serves as an indifferent curtain-raiser to Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion." The tragedy and triumphs of the Christians of the Colosseum are the text of Shaw's sermon; its language is comedy—true, unmixed, and Shavian.

It is a pity that "Androcles," as it was played last night, is not produced more frequently in the Abbey Theatre. Virtually every one of the theatre's company finds a place in the cast, and at least half a dozen last night distinguished themselves in a performance of absorbing interest. Mr. Eric Gorman, by his finished and restrained Androcles, has brought himself definitely into the number of the Abbey stars. Miss Eileen Crowe's Lavinia was human, dignified and feminine. She touched a note of real tragedy in the speech to the captain of the prisoners' guard (Mr. P. J. Carolan). Mr. Tom Moran's Ferrovius was another outstanding feature in a production remarkable for the high standard of the acting. From the roar to the lashing of the tail Mr. John Breen's lion was a lovable brute.

Others who played leading parts were Mr. F. J. McCormack, the Emperor, and Mr. M. J. Dolan, the unfortunate Spintho; Mr. Arthur Shields, Miss Maureen Delany, and Mr. John Stephenson.

"WIRELESS" IN THE PORT OF DUBLIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—May I, as a seaman, express through your columns the profound astonishment I felt at reading in your paper of the difficulties experienced by the master of the ss. Pencisely in establishing communication with the Dublin port authorities on Saturday night? The fact that a vessel in distress off Howth could communicate with Dublin only through the medium of Fishguard, reflects anything but credit upon the authorities, and would be laughable were it not for the serious issues involved. Were Nelson in his intended position on Howth Head, the entire business might have been attributed to his having one eye blind, in which case the onus could have been shifted to the shoulders of the Admiralty. As, however, the famous Admiral is at present facing a courtmartial on the grave charge of obstructing the traffic in Sackville street, he cannot, in common fairness, be held accountable for that in the Bay.

I am afraid that we must seek refuge in the truth, and confess that we are sadly behind the times. May I suggest that the best form of repentance would be a good "hustle"?—Yours, etc.,

W. C. O'BRIEN, Chief Officer,
B.I.S.N. Company.

MISSIONARY NOTES.

FROM OUR CHURCH OF IRELAND CORRESPONDENT.

At the recent valedictory meetings of the Church Missionary Society farewells were taken of about one hundred returning missionaries and forty-five new recruits, one of whom came from Ireland, and was nearly kept back through lack of funds.

At a Conference of Missionaries, held under the auspices of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, at High Leigh the general discussion centred on "Relations between the British and other Races: How the Church can Help." Among other phenomena dealt with was that of race-antagonism, due partly to politics and to vague talk about self-determination, the general opinion being that it is not wholly unreasonable or bad, but should be guided into right channels in order to help "to educate into generous activity new and great nations."

In view of the fact that the Australian aboriginals are one of the most backward races in the world, the ordination of James Noble, a native of North Queensland, born and reared in the bush, is an event of special interest.

Miss Kirkpatrick, c/o S.P.G. Office, 15 Tufton street, Westminster, London, S.W. 1, will be glad to hear from anyone who will undertake to send a magazine, newspaper, or review regularly to lonely missionaries overseas, whose names she will supply.

Twelve candidates have been accepted by the Standing Committee of S.P.G. for missionary work in Zululand, Bombay, Cape Town, Lahore, Chota Nagpur, Perth, Shantung, Madagascar, and Singapore.

A "Gift Day" for the support of Harold's Cross "own missionary" will be held in the Parochial Hall, Leinster road, Dublin, on Friday, 27th inst. The Rev. T. R. Brunskill, Incumbent of St. Mary's, Drogheda, will open the proceedings at 3.30, and addresses will be given by Miss J. E. Chadwick (Uganda).

The Hull City Council yesterday appointed Dr. John Devine, Doctor of Medicine and Barrister-at-Law, as the City Coroner.

The Joy of Life is Health

¶ To enjoy robust health it is essential to take a few simple precautions. When one is ill the joy of health is appreciated—but why allow ill-health when ordinary care in dietary assists Nature?

¶ Fish is an essential to health in body and mind—this is a fact so well known that emphasis seems unnecessary.

STOMACH ACIDITY RUINS HEALTH

When acid conditions of the stomach cause indigestion after every meal there's only one thing to be done, and that is to neutralise this harmful acidity and leave the digestive organs free to carry out their work as nature intended—quickly and without pain. To neutralise stomach acidity and prevent fermentation there's nothing to equal 'Bisurated' Magnesia, the world-famed remedy which gives instant relief even in the most distressing cases. 'Bisurated' Magnesia is known and recommended by doctors everywhere, and used in many of the biggest hospitals for patients whose recovery is impeded by stomach acidity. Your chemist sells 'Bisurated' Magnesia in powder form at 1s. 3d. a package or tablet form, price 1s. 1d.; all it need cost you to put an end to health-wrecking acidity.

KILLED BY FALLING TREE.

While David Park, aged sixty, labourer, of Carrigans, Donegal, employed by Colonel McClintock, of Dunmore, was sawing a tree, yesterday, it fell on him, fracturing his spine, and causing serious injury to his head. He was taken to the Londonderry Infirmary, where he died.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

GREAT TOM PLATE.

BOX HILL'S NARROW VERDICT.

A VETERAN WINS.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

LINCOLN, Monday Night.

A very poor attendance marked the racing here to-day, but in point of fact it did not turn out so badly. Although it was cold there was bright sunshine throughout the greater part of the afternoon, and the racing was very fair. The betting was absurdly light; indeed, it is doubtful whether there has been a meeting this year where there was such general weakness all round, and in the amount of money wagered it would hardly have compared with an average point-to-point meeting. In the opening selling plate nominal odds were laid on Mr. Cottrill's horse, Hanging Fire, and he justified them by winning in a canter by a couple of lengths from Breslane.

There was an equally easy victory in the other selling race for Front Row. This son of Great Sport and Queen of the Ballet used to belong to Lady Wavertree, who weeded him out at the end of his two-year-old days. He is now in a North of England stable, and he was not a little fancied this afternoon. He won running away by a couple of lengths from Bramble Berry, with Foreign Legion, who had slipped up early in the race and nearly come down, third.

There was a considerable amount of confidence behind Granada in the Blankney Nursery, but well though she ran she had to strike her flag to the Maud Musk filly, who was receiving 10lb., and who joined Granada two furlongs from home. After that point she had no difficulty in beating Basil Jarvis's filly by three parts of a length. This pair were out clear by themselves, and Sonia Carol was third on sufferance from La Bourse, who started second favourite.

What betting there was during the course of the afternoon took place over the Great Tom Plate, and here Sun God II., a three-year-old owned by Mr. Macomber, who won the Cesarewitch and the Cambridgeshire with Forseti and Masked Marvel, was always favourite. He showed good speed for about five furlongs, but here he was headed by Box Hill and Dignity. There was a fine finish between this pair of which Box Hill just got the better by a short head. Three lengths off El Cacique was third. Dignity ran more generously than he has seemed to in his recent races. Ruysdael made a bold show here for five furlongs, but after that he died away.

Ripolin's Win.

With so many horses to choose from in the Brownlow Maiden T.Y.O. Plate, it was obvious that Mr. Lambton had the race at his mercy. He elected to send Ripolin and Lord Derby's gelding was installed favourite. He went to the front when they had gone half-way, but he had to go all out to resist the challenge of Phalisma, and beat the filly by a neck in a very close finish, in which Livtofite was only beaten half a length for second place.

That remarkable eleven-year-old horse, Dudley, won his first race in England under the Rules of Racing when he took the Doddington Plate, the last race of the afternoon, by a length from Concession. In spite of his years there seems no limit to the powers of accomplishment of Dudley.

It is not a very thrilling programme that is fixed for this afternoon. There is not likely to be a big field for the Lincoln Autumn Handicap, in which I choose one of the bottom weights, NEVERMORE, to beat Linkman and Night Guard, who look the best of the others. LIPPA has shown some stamina in his last race, and should be good enough to win the Chaplin Nursery, while in the Welbeck Three-year-old Handicap I choose GRAND MARINER to win.

Won by a length; a length and a half. Flume Lady was fourth and Arravale last.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

The chief prize in to-day's programme, the Autumn Handicap, is of no greater value than 300 sovs., and an acceptance of fourteen only left Fodder with less than 2st. to concede to Belah, who is on the minimum; but Fodder has since been struck out. The Carholme mile and a half is not a favourable one for weight-giving, and if Belah reproduces the Alexandra Park form with Paddy and The Monk he will give trouble. Jort has done poorly this season. Linkman was held fairly safely by Fodder on their Doncaster form, but must now be considered in it. Night Guard has a chance on some of his form, but he failed behind Broken Faith recently, and Blanchefleur II. is to be preferred here. Argo is nicely weighted, but he would probably be more formidable were there a few hurdles to be negotiated. Betty's Fancy will look after Tivoli Girl for one, but on the book she has no better chance than Night Guard. Nevermore, who has run but twice this season, was an easy winner at Catterick Bridge the last time out, but he had not much to do under a light weight. However, Walters's stable has been in nice form of late, and this one may cause a surprise. Actius is afforded a chance with the weight he is allotted, and a reproduction of his Stockton form may render him the danger to Nevermore. Selections:—

CHELTENHAM.

BACKERS' BAD DAY.

ELSON WINS IN A BIG FIELD.

The first day of the Cheltenham fixture, under National Hunt Rules, was favoured with brilliant weather, and a very well-balanced card produced some interesting racing. The course was in excellent order and runners were plentiful. Golden Victory was made favourite for the Selling Steeplechase, but neither he nor anything else had a chance with Boomerang after the turn for home, and Barthropp's horse won, pulling up, by eight lengths. There was almost as easy a victory in the Southam Selling Hurdle, for which a huge field of twenty-one faced the starter, Windcote making all the running and winning easily by five lengths from Victor Noir and Successor.

Another big field faced the starter for the Cheltenham Handicap Steeplechase, and a very fine race resulted with, however, not much grist to the backers' mill, although it was rumoured afterwards that the Kinnersley people had a good race by the success of Elson, which belongs to Mr. F. Lambert. Ground Scout, ridden by Mr. Harry Brown, was favourite, and ran prominently, but after Jackeroo had done nearly all the donkey work Elson came late on the scene, and outjumping Dare All, won comfortably. Winnall ran well without ever being dangerous, but Kinawley did not reproduce the Hawthorn Hill dash.

There was a field of eighteen for the Amateur Riders' Hurdle, which fell to Mr. Deterding on his own horse, Drumkirk, who, after lying handy all the way round, had the pull of them all over the last two hurdles. Golden Fizz came with a burst at the end, but although he deprived Perisheen of second honours he had no chance with the winner, who cost a lot of money when brought over from Ireland.

In all probability Lady Bramshot would have won the Cotswold Steeplechase if she had stood up, as she was in front and going well when she fell at the last fence after making all the running. This mishap left Chicot with a nice lead of Bed Rock, and Chicot won easily.

The last race, the Rosehill Maiden Hurdle, proved another sad blow for backers, as Count Spaghetti was easily beaten by Mountain Blue.

1.30—CLEEVE SELLING STEEPLECHASE of 110 sovs. Second receives 5 sovs. About 2 m. 100 yds.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

Horatius has joined Dale's string at Seaford.

A. Burns has been engaged to ride Clonespoe in the Liverpool Autumn Cup on Friday.

Parkanesk will be ridden in the Grand Sefton Steeplechase at Liverpool on Thursday by his former owner, Mr. S. H. Dennis.

Lord Astor has so far this season won £35,548 in stakes, Mr. S. B. Joel £33,189, and the Aga Khan £32,954.

A. Taylor, the Manton trainer, has turned out the winners of 49 races, worth £56,021; F. Darling, 36 races, worth £43,613; and R. C. Dawson, 35 races, worth £35,355. W. Earl and R. Day also have trained the winners of over £30,000, and Messrs. H. S. Persse and P. P. Gilpin have won for their patrons £19,659 and £13,976, respectively.

The Oxford captain has awarded Blues to J. V. Richardson (Uppingham and Brasenose), D. Drysdale (Heriot's School and Brasenose), and D. F. Landale (Eton and Balliol).

The scratching of Conquistador out of the Liverpool Autumn Cup will create some surprise, as he was Lord Derby's only acceptance for the race. The stable can, however, be represented by Lord Wolverton's Palma Bay.

Clonespoe, who ran very well in the Newbury Autumn Handicap on Saturday, is expected to run in the Liverpool Autumn Cup on Friday next, with A. Burns in the saddle. Verdict runs with Beary up.

The following are non-runners at Lincoln to-day:—Hainton Selling Plate—Maritime and Syke Lane. Lincoln Autumn Handicap—Tivoli Girl. Doubtful runner:—Lincoln Autumn Handicap—Corolet.

RUGBY.

HARLEQUINS AND NEWPORT DISPUTE.

MATCHES TO BE DISCONTINUED.

The Press Association is officially informed by Mr. A. D. Stoop, the Hon. Secretary of the Harlequins F.C., that, at the conclusion of the game between the Harlequins and Newport at Twickenham on Saturday, the Committee of the Harlequins Club decided to discontinue the fixture with the Newport Athletic Club.

After the match, Mr. Stoop, who acted as touch judge during the game, returned to his home in Hampshire. In the course of a telephonic conversation with the Press Association yesterday, he stated that he did not wish to discuss the matter; but he said that the reason that future fixtures between the two clubs had been cancelled by the Harlequins was owing to the general tactics of the Newport forwards in the match in question.

A player who took part in the match said that it was not a particularly pleasant game. Feeling ran a little high at times; but the match was spoiled, not on account of any excessive roughness, but by the different interpretation which Newport, in common with most other Welsh clubs, place upon the rules. Playing among each other Welsh clubs do things which, when they meet a London team, are entirely foreign to the best traditions of the game. In the match in question there was a lot of off-side play; but the chief grievance of the Harlequins was concerning the obstructive methods of Newport. In the line-outs the Harlequin players were frequently held back by the jersey; their scrum half was obstructed nearly all through the game; and on at least one occasion a Harlequin forward was tripped as he was running through to follow up a dribble by a Newport player lying on the ground.

Interviewed by a Press Association representative regarding the match, Mr. F. C. Potter Irwin, the referee, said: "Whatever the Harlequins do is a matter of their own domestic policy. I do not think it would be right for me to say anything, for two reasons. The first is that it does not come within my province; and, in the second place, as a Vice-President of the Rugby Union, I have to be careful in case anything I should say might be misconstrued. In the circumstances I prefer not to say anything at all about the matter."

Harold Davies, the Newport captain, interviewed at Oxford yesterday on the question of the Harlequins' decision, said that there was certainly no foul play on either side. There was some haphazard play by both sides, because the referee let things go. Some of the players did not know where they were because of his off-side decisions. The Harlequins were equal offenders, and the only difference was that Newport were penalised in good positions.

SCOTTISH INTERNATIONAL TRIAL

SOUTH v. NORTH.

The following team has been selected to represent the South of Scotland against the North of Scotland at Hawick on Saturday, November 21st—C. H. Farmer (Hawick); J. Goodfellow (Langholm), J. Bisland (Selkirk), J. Hume (Kelso), and J. W. Hay (Gala); F. A. Gardiner (Dumfries) and Ian Campbell (Selkirk); D. S. Davies (Hawick) (captain), J. Allen (Melrose), G. Cairns (Hawick), K. H. Ferguson (Gala), J. Graham (Kelso), W. Moffatt (Hawick), J. W. McCaig (Gala), and P. D. Smith (Kelso). The only player selected from the South-West team of Saturday last is F. A. Gardiner, the old Cambridge and London-Scottish player, who will play at stand-off half.

INTER-CITY HOSPITALS MATCH.

DUBLIN v. LONDON.

Should all the players selected be available the match between Dublin Hospitals and London Hospitals in the College Park this afternoon should be as attractive a game as has been played in Dublin this season. The London side includes English, Irish and Scottish international players, and the Dublin team, if not so formidable on paper, should be capable of putting up a strong game, if not actually pulling it off, as they did in London last season. The match is timed to start at 3 o'clock. Teams:—

DUBLIN HOSPITALS.
Full-back—A. P. Atkins (Dental);
Seven-eighth—E. W. Bingham (Dun's);
Three-quarters—D. J. Cussen (Baggot Street), C. T. Nunns (Dun's), J. Murphy-O'Connor (Coombe), C. E. McCaldin (Adelaide);

ULSTER GUN DOG LEAGUE.

SPANIEL FIELD TRIALS.

The second annual Spaniel field trial meeting, promoted by the Ulster Gun Dog League, will be held at Castle Dillon, Armagh, on Tuesday, 24th inst. These are the only trials run in Ireland solely devoted to all breeds of retrieving Spaniels, and the Ulster Gun Dog League look to Irish sportsmen to support them. Owners in the Free State of sporting Spaniels trained to the gun, who would like to enter, should communicate with the Acting Hon. Secretary, Dr. W. J. Dawson, Newtownhamilton, Co. Armagh, who will supply entry forms and all information re hotels, etc. Entries close on 17th inst.

WARD UNION HOUNDS.

The heavy rain of Friday night and Saturday morning was the main cause of a very small field gathering for the meet at Oldtown, an old-time venue on the outskirts of the Saturday country. Those who came out, however, were well rewarded. The enlargement was made at "The Murruagh," and from the outset the pace was hot, the going good and the country perfect. Getting well away on a good scent along the river valley, through Westphalstown, the pack quickly caused an otherwise erratic deer to straighten his course at Wyanstown. Setting out across the Naul road by Brown's Cross, they raced away by Graille churchyard and Cottrellstown, across the point-to-point course under Spring Hill to Knocklyon and Adamstown, before bearing to the left across the Lazy Bush road by Kane's Furze into Nutstown. After a momentary view by Nutstown Cross, the hunt continued in a direct line to Charistown, and before favouring the left again the pack crossed the road by Ram's Cross into the Milching Banks, and hunted down over the Cornstown Brook into Cornstown. Here the chase resumed the familiar line of the previous Saturday's hunt from Cornstown, via Johnstown and the old "Peter Simple" racecourse, to Palmerstown, before running up to their deer at Rapley. After an ineffectual attempt at capture, the hunt carried on through Robertstown to Donaghmore before bringing their quarry finally to bay in the Broadmeadow River, after a good hunt of one hour and fifteen minutes, which quite compensated everyone for the discomforts of the weather or the river.

SMITH v. DAVIS.

Smith was in wonderful form during yesterday afternoon's session of his 18,000 match with Davis at Newcastle. He had five complete innings, and returned the splendid average of 150. Davis, who is in receipt of 6,000 points had only one break, 150; while Smith contributed 220, 71, 176, 157, and 232 (unfinished). Interval scores:—Davis (rec. 6,000), 11,300; Smith (in play), 9,751.

Smith had the best of the play at night. His chief breaks were 304, 77, 261, 70 and 128; while Davis's best runs were 126 and 303 (unfinished). Closing scores:—Davis (rec. 6,000) (in play), 11,947; Smith, 10,475.

NEWMAN v. STEVENSON.

Yesterday afternoon's proceedings at Thurston's Hall, London, in the 18,000 match between Newman and Stevenson were marked by Stevenson's highest break of the season—namely, 468. Stevenson, who is receiving 4,000, had the best break in the first half-hour's play, as he made 151 against 135 by the champion. Shortly afterwards came 89, and the big break mentioned by the receiver of points, and Newman's replies were 276 and 295 (unfinished), the latter break including thirty-four close cannons. Interval scores:—Stevenson (rec. 4,000), 11,516; Newman (in play), 9,751.

Newman again outplayed Stevenson at night, carrying his unfinished break to 325. His other runs were 214, 150, and 339 (unfinished). Stevenson's runs were 143, 216, 70 and 55. Closing scores:—Stevenson (rec. 4,000) 12,004; Newman (in play), 10,501.

THE STANDARDISED BALL.

(PRESS ASSOCIATION FOREIGN TELEGRAM.)
BOSTON, MASS.

Mr. William Norman Boase, the Chairman of the Championship Committee of the Royal and Ancient Club of Great Britain, on arrival on the Scythia, said that he did not view favourably the standardised golf ball sponsored by the United States Golf Association. Mr. Boase, who is chairman of the Scottish Flax Spinners and Manufacturers' Association, and a director of a Dundee company, is in this country on business, and he will also visit the Canadian North-West.

PAT DOYLE TO VISIT IRELAND.

(PRESS ASSOCIATION FOREIGN TELEGRAM.)
NEW YORK.

Pat Doyle, the Elmsford, New York, professional, will shortly visit Ireland, at the request of Sir Stanley Cochrane, to engage in matches with British and Irish professionals, and also to play on Sir Stanley's course at Bray, County Wicklow. According to Doyle, Sir Stanley has for some time had an idea of taking to the United States a team of professionals, the intention being to take on a team of leading professionals in America.

GOLF CLUBS' LEGISLATION.

Lord Lurgan, presiding at the annual meeting of the Golf Clubs' Protection Association, at Princes' Hotel, Jermyn street, London, W., yesterday afternoon, said that he had had practical experience, and knowledge of the good that had already arisen where Artisan Golf Clubs had been in operation. In clubs he was connected with they were taking an interest in Artisan Clubs, and they were arranging spring and autumn meetings between the artisans and the ordinary members.

Mr. T. Byes, who was a member of a clubs' deputation to the Home Secretary a few days ago, drew a connection between statements by the Home Secretary and the attitude of Sir Herbert Nield, K.C., M.P., and he remarked that they were in for a fight for their liberties in the matter. He understood that there was going to be an inquiry into the position of clubs together. That was a matter they ought to look closely at in order that they might see that their interests were not injured.

CHESS.

MEETING OF LEINSTER CHESS UNION.

An important meeting of the Leinster Chess Union was held last night at 20 Lincoln place, Dublin, Professor W. E. Thrift presiding. The following clubs sent delegates:—Dublin—T. G. Cranston. Sackville—H. N. Bowesman and P. W. Whelan. Blackrock—R. T. Varian and E. Russell. Dublin University—W. E. Thrift and G. Stewart. University College—L. P. Younglas. Army—Major J. P. M. Cotter. Rathmines—M. Freestone.

Professor Thrift was unanimously elected to the office of President of the Union, and Mr. H. N. Bowesman to that of Hon. Secretary. Messrs. T. G. Cranston and H. N. Bowesman were chosen as delegates to the Council of the Irish Chess Union.

Entries for the Armstrong Cup were considered and accepted. The competing clubs this year are Dublin (holders), Sackville, Blackrock, National Army G.H.Q., Dublin University, and University College. Arrangements for the Leinster Championship were considered, and it was decided that all chess players desiring to compete must send in their entries by November 30 to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. H. N. Bowesman, 33 Tritonville road, Sandymount, from whom further particulars may be obtained. The coming chess tournament at the Colum Cille Feis will be held under the regulations of the Irish Chess Union.

BOXING.

NATIONAL SPORTING CLUB.

Mick Hill (Tooting), who recently contested the British bantam-weight championship, opposed Frank M'Alorum (Belfast) in a 15-round contest at 8st. 12lb. for £150 at the National Sporting Club, London, last night. The contest went the full distance, Hill gaining the verdict on points. Results:—

6-ROUND CONTEST—Mike Russell (Marylebone) beat Young Ryall (Ealing) on points.

10-ROUND CONTEST at 9st.—Colin M'Donald (Birmingham) beat Arthur Mills (Plymouth). The latter was disqualified for hitting his man while he was down in the sixth round.

10-ROUND CONTEST at Welter-weight.—Billy Adair (Bethnal Green) beat Walter Wythe (Watford). The latter retired at the end of the seventh round.

15-ROUND CONTEST.—Mick Hill (Tooting) beat Frank M'Alorum (Belfast) on points.

BOWLING.

BRITISH TOURISTS BEATEN.

LAUNCESTON, November 9.

The team of British bowlers touring Australia suffered another reverse to-day, the Northern Tasmanian Association team beating them by 147 shots to 136.

ATTACKED BY HORNETS.

LITTLE INDIAN GIRL STUNG TO DEATH.

Margaret Perera, 8, of Nawalapitiya, India, has been stung to death by hornets.

The girl was playing near a coconut tree when a coconut fell from the tree on to a hornets' nest. In her attempt to run away the little girl fell down and the entire swarm fastened upon her.

Hearing the child's screams, her grandmother hastened to the spot and took the girl indoors. The hornets followed and attacked them both.

The girl was taken to hospital in an unconscious condition, but as there was no remedy she was sent back home, where she died.

The Rev. C. E. M. Wilson, who has been appointed Vicar of Calverhall (Salop), is the famous old Cambridge University cricket "blue." He played against Oxford in 1895-6-7-8, and is one of the few cricketers who can bowl with either arm.

THE RUSSIAN MENACE

SECRET OF DEMAND FOR WORLD CONGRESS.

AMSTERDAM (by Mail).

The following is a summary of a statement issued by the International Federation of Trade Unions:—

It is interesting to note that the international organisations which, in the past, have some of them admitted the Russian unions as members, are now, after some practical experience, raising the question with remarkable unanimity whether it is advisable, or possible, to continue co-operation, in view of the unpractical ideas and hostile attitude of the Communists.

Thus, following on the recent discussion at the Food and Drink Workers' International Conference, the same question has been discussed at the annual meeting of the Central Committee of the International Co-operative Alliance. The point was also raised: If they were to be allowed to remain with the Federation, and what representation they should receive. Emphasis was made on the fact that the various Communist national parties did not cease to attack the co-operative societies in the various countries in Great Britain.

RUSSIA'S REPRESENTATION.

From an international standpoint, the second consideration is of particular interest—i.e., the question of the representation demanded by the Russians. As things stand to-day, the Russian co-operative societies of the different Republics affiliated with the U.S.S.R., instead of having joint representation as the Federation of the United Soviet Republics, have each their own representation—i.e., separate delegates for the Ukranian, the Georgian and all the other Republics of the Soviet Union, and so to-day the Russians, with 14 delegates in the Central Committee, are more strongly represented than, for instance, the British, seeing that the Scottish, Irish and other co-operative organisations in the British Empire are not separately represented. Thus there is a danger of the Russians outvoting all the others. When it is remembered that the Russian delegates have declared that they have actually 137 nations, all with national co-operative societies within Soviet Russia alone, one can easily imagine the amount of representation they would claim at a world congress of the trade unions. It is not difficult to understand why they keep hankering after a world congress.—(Reuter.)

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

TONE AND COMMENT.

DUBLIN QUIET.

GUINNESS AND COTTONS STRONG.

There was a quiet business, with a good many limited irregular price movements, on 'Change yesterday. Features of strength were supplied by Guinness Ord., Dublin United Tram Ord. and Pref., and English Sewing Cotton Ord. Shares. Big buying continued for Coats Ord. Shares, while notable adverse movements were recorded in Dublin Distillers Pref. and Courtauld Ord. Shares. The Funds, British and local, were, as a rule, well supported. Bank Stock and National Bank Shares both realised higher prices. Guinness established a fresh highest record level. Steady support was offered for J. Power and Son Pref. Shares. There was considerable inquiry for Great Southern Pref. Stock at enhanced quotations, but the other issues were quiet and dull. Dublin United Tram Ord. and Pref. advanced further, and the 3½ p.c. Debs. were bid for ineffectually unofficially up to 63 or more without effecting business.

Very heavy buying took place in Coats Shares, and absorbed large lots offered. Cotton Ord. was, however, the feature at a sharp rise, but with very little business done. Tobaccos were slightly firmer all day. Burke Ord. and Irish Times Pref. were bid for and improved. Dunlop Rubber Ord. were bid up to 24s. Parent Trust interim dividends were received.

LONDON QUIET.

UNITED HAVANAS RISING.

Business was again of a quiet scale in the London Stock Markets yesterday, the accumulation of orders over the week-end being small, and there were few outstanding features. United Havanas provided an exception, and another good business was put through at improving prices. A slightly harder tendency was manifest in the gilt-edged market, but prices were not altered to any extent where change occurred; however, it was generally in the favour of holders. Foreign Government Stocks experienced another quiet session, and prices were a trifle easier in places. A weaker tendency prevailed in the Home Railway Market, and several of the leading Ordinary issues went back. In Colonial and Foreign Railways, United Havanas again provided the feature, and the price rose further to 105 x.d. after a good business. A quiet tone ruled in the Rubber Market, and price movements were rather narrow. Taken as a whole the market was easier.

COATS IN HUNGARY.

The cotton factory erected in Hungary by Messrs. J. and P. Coats, the Paisley thread concern, has now been equipped with 10,000 doubling spindles and is in operation. It is next intended to further instal the spinning mill with 15,000 spindles for the production of fine yarns. The Coats' Hungarian concern was registered in 1924 in Budapest as the Britische-Ungarische Zwirnfabrik A.-G., with a capital of 400,000,000 kronen, the object of which was stated to be the manufacture of sewing thread. The Hungarian demand for sewing thread could probably have been supplied from other Continental mills belonging to Coats, but owing to the Government of that country deciding to establish a sewing thread industry in the country the Paisley concern was offered certain concessions. The alternative was to work these concessions, or run the risk of the erection of a tariff barrier and the refusal of import licences.

DIALA COTTON YIELD.

A Baghdad telegram states that further operations of the Diala Cotton Co. are still suspended owing to discord between the Government and the company on the interpretation of a concession. The company's demonstration plot of 571 acres of cotton has now proved a complete failure. The average yield is about 50lb. of lint cotton per acre, against 240lb. estimated in the company's prospectus. In spite of the use of quantities of nitrate of soda, the company's yield per acre is much less than that obtained by the ordinary Arab farmer. Business circles in Baghdad are very disappointed with the results.

CRESSINGTON STEAMSHIP.

Sir Basil E. Mayhew, the liquidator of the Cressington Steamship Company, in voluntary liquidation, is now in the position to make a final distribution to the shareholders, and notice is given of the declaration of a third and final return of capital at the rate of 11s. 11¼d. for every £1 share, making a total return of capital in the liquidation of 56s. 11¼d. for each £1 share. On production of share certificates for endorsement registered holders will receive cheques for the return. Since 1912 this company never paid less than 10 p.c. by way of dividend, and latterly this had been up to 20 p.c. Moreover, the shareholders received a special bonus last year in the shape of one share in the United British Steamships Company for very two shares held. They have, therefore, done remarkably well out of their investment.

LONDON MOVEMENTS.

The volume of business put through in the gilt-edged market yesterday was rather small, but a generally steady to firm tone prevailed. Among War Loans, the Fives, at 100, were ⅛ higher, but others were content to remain at their week-end levels. Sudan 5½ per cent. went forward to 108, or a point better, but Irish Land 2¾ per cent. lost a similar amount to 58.

A quiet tone prevailed in the Foreign Government Stock market, but, with the exception of Reconstruction Loans and Peruvians, prices were well held. Turkish 4 per cent. Unified were a good market, the final quotations of 16¼ being a point above the week-end figure. Among Reconstruction Loans, Greek Sevens shed ¼ to 91 x.d. German Sevens were unaltered, but the Threes eased ⅛ to ¼. Peruvian Pref. dropped back to 34½, or ½ lower on the day.

BRITISH RAILS EASIER.

A distinctly easier tendency ruled in the Home Rail market, and prices where altered were lower. Great Westerns dropped ½ to 87, while Midlands lost a full point to 75. North Eastern 5 per cent. Pref.-Ord., at 56½, were ½ lower, while the Def.-Ord., at 20, were ¼ down. Southern Pref.-Ord. shed ½ to 74½, but others were well held.

UNITED HAVANAS STRONG.

In the Colonial and Foreign Rail section, United Havanas Ord. again provided the feature. Another good business was transacted, and at the close of the day the quotation recorded a gain of 2 points to 105 x.d. Cordoba Centrals once again moved forward, the Ord. being ½ higher at 29, while the 2nd Pref., at 53, were a further point to the good. Argentines were the turn firmer, Buenos Ayres Western at 80½, and Centrals at 74½, both being ½ to the good. Antofagasta Ord. were a good spot, and here an increase of 1½ points was registered to 92. Entre Rois Ord. eased the turn to 52, but the 6 per cent. Cum. Pref., at 85 x.d., were 2 points up. Grand Trunks were steady and without change, but Canadain Pacifics, at 153, were a point lowe

RUBBERS EASIER.

A generally quiet tone prevailed in the Rubber share market, business being on a small scale. Price changes, however, were fairly numerous, but for the most part rather narrow. A number of recognised leaders were put forward a trifle, but the majority of alterations were in the downward direction. A quiet tone ruled in the commodity market. Spot rubber sold 3s. 11½d. per pound, while November fetched 3s. 11½d. to 3s. 11d. per pound. In the Share market, B.N.B.R. Trust went forward to 19s., or 6d. above the week-end level, while Anglo-Sumatra, at 104s., were 1s. 6d. to the good. Glenbervie gained 1s. 9d., and Damansara 9d., while Tandjong Malim and Telogoredjo were both 4½d. higher. Hong Kong Selangor put on 7½d. to 50s. 7½d., and Toergoredjo gained 6d. to 61s. 6d. Eastern Trust, on the other hand, dropped back to 31s. 1½d., or 1s. 1½d. lower, while Ledbury, at 60s., were 1s. 6d. down. Kapar Para shed 1s. 3d., and Manchester North Borneo 1s. 10½d., while Pegoh gave way rather heavily to 72s. 3d., or 2s. 9d. easier. Serdang Centrals dropped 1s. 9d., and Sapumalkande 1s. 7½d. to 47s., and 32s. 10½d. respectively. Pilmoor, at 55s. 7½d., were 1s. 3d. lower, while Tebrau, at 65s., were 1s. 9d. down. Abaco dropped 2s. to 75s., and Ratanui lost 1s. 3d. to 43s. 9d. There were a number of other alterations of smaller denomination.

OIL SHARES IRREGULAR

Firmness continued to characterise the Oil Share market during the early hours of yesterday, a fair amount of business having accumulated over the week-end. Later, however, an irregular tendency developed mainly as a result of professional operations in a few specialities, and more particularly in British Controlled and Mexican Eagles. The fight which is proceeding between two groups in regard to British Controlled Shares became even more pronounced yesterday, and while the group which is operating on the "bull tack" were making a hard struggle there can be little doubt that they had to take some very large lines of the shares. It was again the "bears" who came out victorious, the Common and Preferred Shares finally registering a decline of 9d. at 19s. 4½d. and 19s. 3d. respectively. Advices received over the week-end from America had little influence on the market in international counters. Royal Dutch came over higher, but Shells and Anglo-Americans were unchanged in New York on Saturday last. Anglo-Americans were dealt in ex the bonus of one new share in respect of every three held, the amount deducted in respect thereof being 24s. 6d. The shares left off at 3 1/32, and allowing for the deduction this price showed an improvement of 1/16. The new shares were quoted at about 1/16 below the old, the difference between the two classes being explained by the fact that the new shares have no voting rights.

TEA SHARES STEADY.

An irregular tendency prevailed in the Tea Share market yesterday, while the volume of business passing remained on a rather small scale. Price movements were fairly numerous, and the slight majority of alterations were in the upward direction.

INDUSTRIALS DISAPPOINTING.

A somewhat disappointing day is the best definition of yesterday's Industrial market. The volume of trading was well below the Monday average, and after early business had been disposed of a sagging tendency prevailed, relieved only by a show of strength in certain specialities. Dealings commenced in two recent issues. Hutchinsons, where applications for lines over 100 shares were curtailed 50 per cent., opened and held steady at par; United Dairies New 6 p.c. Pref. commanded a fair market on the basis of 3s. 9d. prem. Apart from Guinness, which rose 5 to 735, Brewery Stocks tended towards lower levels. Watney Deferred lost 3 to 288½ ex bonus, and some further profit-taking in Benskins caused a fall of 6d. to 41s. 6d. Wenlocks were not quite so good at 53s. 6d., and Ind Coopes barely steady at 71s. 3d. Interest centred in Whiskey issues. The news that Distillers were closing certain small branch establishments, due to a falling off in consumption, had an unsettling effect upon the shares. Opening at 60s., they were sold down to 55s., recovering later to 58s. 6d., a loss of 1s. 6d. on balance. Many shares changed hands. Glasgow Bonding shed 6d. to 25s. 6d. The recent sharp rise tempted out some Schweppes Deferred, which closed 1s. 3d. lower at 39s. 6d.

The Textile market is a sensitive one at the moment, and a demand for English Sewing Cottons found dealers in short supply. Spurting sharply from 3 1/16 to 3 3/16, they held firm to the close at the higher level, a gain of 1/16. Hoyles continued a rising market, 9d. up at 36s. 9d., but Dyers at 3 1/16 and Fine Spinners at 55s. 6d. were unchanged. Coats put on 3d. to 66s. 3d., although Calico Printers lost that amount to 37s. 9d. In the absence of support, Courtaulds proved a poor market throughout the day—sellers predominating in the late "street" dealings—with the result that they finished ⅛ lower at 7 5/16. Grouts at 3½ lost 1/16, but British Celanese and the Prefs., after having been better, closed without alteration at 9s. 3d. and 14s. 3d. respectively. American Cellulose were steady at 20½. Sellers of Hinde and Hardy could get no more than 48s. British Dyestuffs are being quietly bought. The rises were limited to another 3d. in both Ord. and Preferred to the respective levels of 6s. 3d. and 12s. 6d., helped by the news that the board are shortly to convene meetings for capital reconstruction and to deal with the Government share holding. Rayon issues were an uncertain market, the Preference giving way to 16s. 6d. and the Deferred to 4s. 6d. A considerable volume of business was transacted among the leading News shares.

In a broad sense Motors were idle, Dennis Bros. being the only issue singled out, and support lifted the price 1/16 to 3 5/16, few shares being in floating supply. Rovers, whose report is near at hand, lost 6d. to 9s. 6d. Dunlops enjoyed fair trading and touched 24s. in the early hours, finishing unaltered at 23s. 9d. Foodstuffs had a ragged appearance. Some selling of Liptons occurred, and a fall of 1/16 to ⅝ left them an uncertain spot. With the market in short supply an inquiry for Joseph Travers was responsible for a rise of ¼ to 2½. A growing public interest in Electrical descriptions kept this section cheerful, although no great changes occurred in the leaders. Wireless issues were never prominent, the Marconi group disclosing no material changes, although Canadians looked friendless at 6s. 6d. Quite a large turnover in Platt Bros. was recorded; buyers came in from the North, and at 35s. the net advance was 9d. Other movements in the Coal and Iron group were confined to rises of 3d. in such as Vickers Pref. and Guest-Keen, and 6d. in Consett Iron. Banking and Insurances moved within narrow limits. Little disturbed the placid Shipping section. P. and O. Def. changed hands several times at 255, and the quotation was lowered by 5 to that figure. Among recent issues British Visada commanded most attention, the Def. fluctuating from 6s. 6d. to 7s. 6d., the Preferred ranging between 9s. 4½d. and 8s. 6d.

DUBLIN PRICE CHANGES.

QUIET BUSINESS, BUT INTERESTING PRICE MOVEMENTS. GUINNESS, COTTONS AND DUBLIN TRAMS STRONG. COATS VERY BUSY. TOBACCOS AND DUNLOPS HARDER.

Government National Loan and Compensation Stocks were again dealt in to a limited extent at 95½.

In British Funds, Consols rose 1/16 to 54½, and War Loan 5 p.c. 1/16 to 100 1/16, after touching 100¼, but Irish Land 2¾ p.c. fell ¼ to 57¾, and Local Loans ⅞ to 64⅜, while Conversion 3½ p.c. repeated 75⅜, and Guaranteed Land 2¾ p.c. 56¾.

Among Banking securities, Bank Stock rose ½ to 270½, and Nationals ¼ to 20¾, but Hibernians fell 1/16 to 8¼, while Munsters and Leinsters repeated 7 1/16, and Royals 13.

As regards Breweries and Distilleries, Guinness Ord. opened ¼ higher at 73¼ for an odd lot, and then rose ½ further to 74, the highest point yet reached, and then eased ¼ to 73¾. Dublin Distillers Ord. rose 6d. to 16s. bid, but the Pref. fell back 7s. 6d. further to 42s. 6d., and Power Pref. repeated 11s. 6d.

In Railways, Great Southern fell ¼ to 17¼, and the Guaranteed repeated 39¼, while the Pref. rose 1 to 25¾, 26.

Dublin United Tram Ord. rose ¼ to 6, 6¼, and the Pref. ¼ to 7¼.

Dunlop Rubber Ord. were busy at 23s. 10½d., 24s.

Alliance Gas repeated 7 1/16.

In Bakery shares, Johnston Ord. eased 6d. further to 63s., and in Drapery shares Todd Burns were firm at 11s. 6d., Henry street Warehouse at 6s. 6d., and Walpole Bros. Debs. 85s.

Among Manufacturing shares, Coats Ord. were finally 3d. higher at 66s. 9d. Cottons moved up 3s. to 63s. for an odd lot. Courtaulds were realised at 146s. 6d., 146s. 3d., 146s., 145s. 9d., a fall of 1s. 3d. Bleachers were on offer. Bradford Dyers eased 3d. to 62s. 3d., and Spinners 3d. to 55s. 9d. Lesters were 1½d. better at 33s. 10½d. British-American Tobacco rose 3d. to 110s. 3d., and Imperials 1½d. to 105s. 10½d. Lever Bros. 7 p.c. Pref. were harder at 20s. 9d., 20s. 10½d. Dublin Brick Ord. again realised 8s. 6d. Goulding Pref. rose 4s. to 69s.

In Trading, etc., Burke Ord. rose 2s. 6d. to 72s. 6d., and the Debs. repeated 7¼. Dockrell Ord. were held for 15s. 6d. or 6d. over previous price. Kivuvu Rubber shares were wanted at 4s. 9d. J. G. Mooney and Co. Pref. rose 1s. 3d. to 76s. 3d., Chartered fell 3d. to 27s. 4½, Irish-American Oil Pref. fell 3d. to 20s. 6d., but Irish Times 2nd Pref. rose 3d. to 15s. 6d. x.d.

Other business done included Canadian Marconi shares at 6s. 9d., and Shell Transports at 92s.

LONDON MINING MARKET STEADY.

RENEWED DEMAND FOR TANKS.

Steadiness characterised most sections of the Stock Exchange yesterday, but business was not particularly brisk. The accumulation of public orders over the week-end was small, probably owing to the uncertainty of the French situation, this affecting, of course, the international counters. In the Mining market Kaffirs were somewhat undecided, a big demand for certain counters being offset by profit-taking sales. For instance, Goldfields, Modderfontein, New State Areas, and Union Corporation were all easier, though the last-named were finally rather buyers, in sympathy with the advance in San Francisco, while the Anglo-American group was helped by the satisfactory progress made by the subsidiaries. Apart from S.A. Townships, which moved up, Platinums were dullish, and "T.C.L." lost the turn. Rhodesians were not much in evidence, and Cam and Motor were without alteration. There was, however, a renewed demand for Tanks and Zams, both of which strengthened. De Beers, among Diamonds, were dullish, but Consolidated Diamonds and West African Diamonds were in demand and higher. The price of tin declined £2 to £281 2s. 6d. per ton, and the share market had a somewhat irregular appearance. Among the Eastern descriptions Tronoh remained rather dull, this being largely due to the complications arising out of the issue of new shares, which necessitated an enormous amount of clerical work. It was suggested that if the whole of the 50,000 new shares had been issued at par such complications would have been avoided, and the same result achieved. Coppers were steady under the lead of Rio Tinto, and Mount Lyell advanced on the announcement of a dividend of 1s. and bonus of 3d. per share. Russians and Canadians were idle, but in the Miscellaneous department San Francisco came into good demand on the excellent return for October. They closed below the best, but still showed a rise on the day. Closing prices:—

BELFAST

Belfast Exchange opened the week with moderate activity. War Loan changed hands at 99 15/16 and 100 1/16. Consols brought 54⅞ and 55⅛ for an odd amount. In Bank shares business was confined to transactions in Northern Bank "A" at 5⅛, and "B" shares at 2⅛. Belfast Harbour Stock (1953 issue) was done at 69⅛. In Railway stocks, Belfast and Co. Down Ord. was done at 23. Industrials were quiet. Some Bloomfield Bakery Prefs. were dealt in at 5⅛. J. and P. Coats Ord. were done at 65s. 1½d. Irish Distillery 6 p.c. Pref. repeated previous price, 7. Dunlop Rubbers brought 23s. 10½d. and 23s. 9d.

The Federal Reserve Bank has increased its discount rate from 3½ to 4 per cent., says a Reuter message from Boston

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOAN CONDITIONS COMFORTABLE.

Owing to the banks calling in funds less heavily than usual on a Monday, conditions in Lombard street were fairly comfortable yesterday. The moderate amount falling due at the bank was repaid, and in the open market borrowers were offered accommodation at 4 down to 3½ p.c. Weekly fixtures were continued at 3 p.c. Discount business was quiet, with rates showing little change. Three months' bills were generally quoted at 3 15/16 p.c., while the new Treasuries were changing hands around 3 15/16 p.c.

Both the spot and forward prices of silver rose 1/16d. to 32 1/16d. and 32 3/16d., per ounce respectively. The market price of gold remained at 84s. 11½d. per fine ounce. The Bank of England sold bar gold, valued at £101,000, and exported 10,000 sovereigns to the Straits Settlements.

The French exchange showed a slight improvement from the worst finally, but the latest quotation of 121.90 was fully 1¾ francs higher than before. Belgian francs were a shade better, and lire further recovered well, the quotation falling to little over 121½. Danish kroner were better, but the Norwegian currency depreciated rather sharply, and the exchanges of Spain, Austria, Greece and Rumania moved in our favour. The sterling dollar rate showed little change at a shade under 4.84 5/16. The Brazilian milreis was rather better, but Argentine and Uruguayan dollars were cheaper. Amongst Eastern exchanges the Calcutta rate improved to 1s. 6 1/16d., and the Shanghai quotation rose to 3s. 1½d., but the yen was flat at 1s. 8 3/16d.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL SALES.

At the wool sales at Sydney yesterday, 12,741 bales were offered, of which 12,373 were sold. Private sales totalled 161 bales. There was a good selection, and competition in all sections and values was good, but without material change. There were very full and satisfactory clearances. Cross-breds were keenly sought. Bradford being a strong buyer. Greasy merino realised 31d.

At the wool sales at Melbourne 7,741 bales were offered, practically all of which were sold. Competition was keen and general. The best features of last week's sales were maintained, all merinos being 5 to 7½ per cent. and best comebacks and lambs 5 per cent. above the October closing rates. Comebacks and crossbreds were very firm.

IRISH FAIRS.

BALLYBAY.—Pork on Friday rose to 100/- per cwt.; young pigs £3 to £4 per pair. On Saturday eggs were 3/3 per dozen, butter 1/3 to 1/4 per lb.; young fowl 3/- each, old hens 1/- to 1/6, and ducks 1/- each. Potatoes 3d. to 5d. per stone; grass seed 19/- per cwt.; oats 10d. per stone. Dropped calves 30/- each.

KOSCOMMON.—The foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in England had no appreciable effect on the cattle fair held here yesterday. There was a good supply of all classes of stock. Anything well finished was bought up rapidly after business opened at prices from 20/- to 30/- over those of Knockcroghery fairs. For unfinished stock there was a poor demand, but, on the whole, the general feeling was that the fair was satisfactory.

BALLINROBE GREAT SHEEP AND CATTLE FAIR. THURSDAY NEXT, 12th inst. —(Advt.)

PRODUCE AND FOOD MARKETS.

CATTLE.

LONDON (METROPOLITAN).—Entries of fat beasts showed a decrease of 355 head, compared with previous Monday. Owing to colder weather, a good demand prevailed, and prices 2d. per stone dearer. Devons quoted 7/4 to 7/8, shorthorns 7/2 to 7/6, and Irish 6/4 to 6/8. Sheep supplies were lighter, 323 less being penned. A much better trade resulted, and prices were advanced by 4d. per stone. Home and Midland counties wethers quoted 10/- to 10/8, ewes 5/8 to 6/4, and lambs 10/4 to 11/4, all per stone of 8lbs. to sink the offal. Total supplies—405 beasts 1,582 sheep and lambs.

NEWCASTLE.—Fewer cattle, but finished sorts well represented. Fewer sheep, but good demand. Prices—First quality cattle 13/- per st., others 12/-, and cows 10/- to 11/-. Hogs 1/1 to 1/3 per lb., young sheep 1/- to 1/2, and ewes 8d. to 10d. Fewer pigs; porkers 14/6 to 15/- per st.

BIRKENHEAD.—Supplies 1,989 cattle and 2,169 sheep and lambs. Cattle, in good supply, met a poor demand, except for choicest qualities. Best bullocks and heifers, being scarce, made 9½d. to 9¾d., secondary classes 8½d. to 8¾d., cows and bulls 5d. to 7d. A clearance was not effected. A larger supply of sheep and lambs met a steady trade at prices ranging from 14d. to 15d. for good lambs, and 9d. to 11d. for ewes, according to quality. At dressed beef section trade continued slow, sides making from 7½d. to 8½d. per lb.

HULL.—Brisk trade in all departments. Best beef 14/- per stone, seconds 13/-, cows 9/- to 12/-, small young sheep 1/2 per lb., ewes 10d. to 1/-, small pork 14/- per stone, large 12/6, bacon pigs 11/-. On offer 472 beasts, 2,254 sheep, 607 pigs.

MANCHESTER PIG.—Irish shipments week ended October 24th show marked improvement, totalling 1,892 against 1,034 the previous week, and 956 corresponding period last year. Dealers continue to conduct business with great difficulty under present conditions. Prices very irregular and nominal in character.

THE CLARE RAILWAYS.

SHAREHOLDERS' PROTEST.

At the general meetings of the West Clare and South Clare Railway Companies, held at the company's offices, Carlisle Building, D'Olier street, Dublin, the Chairman, Dr. W. Lombard Murphy, who presided, stated that the meetings were held in pursuance to the provisions of Section 18 of the Great Southern Railways Absorption (No. 4) Scheme prepared by the Railway Tribunal, to receive the accounts for the period ended 31st December, 1924, covering 14 months.

Referring to the absorption of the companies, he stated that the Boards, through counsel, represented to the Railway Tribunal the proprietors' position as holders of guaranteed shares carrying a guarantee of 4 per cent. per annum in perpetuity, and pointed out as strongly as possible that no security in the amalgamated company could equal theirs; but the Tribunal, after hearing all parties, decided that 4 per cent. Preference Stock of the Great Southern Railways Company should be allotted the guaranteed shareholders in substitution for the guaranteed shares. This decision was a very serious one for the shareholders, particularly in view of the failure of the Great Southern Company to pass an interim dividend on the 4 per cent. Pref. Stock last half-year. He moved the adoption of the report and accounts, which was seconded by Mr. Anderson and carried unanimously.

Arising out of a discussion, in which several shareholders joined, as to the position of holders of guaranteed shares prior to absorption, the following resolution was passed unanimously:—

"Whereas, under the Tramways (Ireland) Act of 1883, certain railways were established in Ireland, and the money for construction of the same was subscribed by the public on the security of the guarantee in perpetuity of the baronies as to dividend, etc., reinforced by the guarantee of the Imperial Treasury in respect of the dividend up to 2 per cent. thereof on the Guaranteed Share capital of the companies.

"By the Railways Act, 1924, passed by the Dail, that guaranteed payment of the dividends was revoked and certain specific payments as set out in a schedule to that Act were substituted for a period of ten years, and such payments were not in any way earmarked as for the benefit of the guaranteed shareholders.

"The Railway Tribunal, by whom 4 per cent. Preference Stock of the Great Southern Railways Company was allotted to the shareholders of the West Clare and South Clare Railway Companies, in exchange for their 4 per cent. Guaranteed Shares, admitted the right of the Guaranteed Shareholders to an equally-secured income on the substituted security, and, no doubt believing the 4 per cent. Preference Stock of the Great Southern Railways Company was fully secured, allotted same to the West Clare and South Clare shareholders in equivalent amounts; but in consequence of the Great Southern Railway Company not having paid the interim dividend on the 4 per cent. Preference Stock, the Baronially Guaranteed shareholders have been most inequitably deprived of their dividends, on the security of which, under an Act of the Imperial Parliament they were induced to subscribe their capital.

"In these circumstances we, the shareholders of the West Clare and South Clare Baronially Guaranteed Railway Companies, do hereby strongly protest against the injustice of the provisions of the Railways Act, 1924, and the decison of the Railway Tribunal, and we call upon the Government to alleviate the hardship imposed upon us by the operation of the Railways Act, 1924."

A vote of thanks to the Chairman concluded the proceedings.

NEWRY QUAYS AND ROADS.

SCHEMES FOR THE RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYMENT.

The question of whether the Albert Basin and Merchants' quay, Newry, should be laid down with square setts, at an estimated cost of £7,500, or whether the entire length of the quays should be laid down in concrete, was discussed by Newry Urban Council yesterday on a rescinding motion by Mr. W. Bell, J.P. Mr. Bell expressed himself in favour of the concreting, which, he said, would provide considerably greater work for the unemployed and give two-thirds more of a finished road.

A letter to the same effect was read from the Newry Ratepayers' Association, who protested strongly against spending £7,500 on "two small stretches" of the quay only.

On a division the motion was lost by 8 votes to 7.

The Chairman said that the result probably would be that the work (which ... before the Ministry of Finance awaiting sanction) would be held up indefinitely, as sett workers could not be got to turn out the setts rapidly enough.

With a view of taking advantage of the Ministry's increase in the grants for similar work in the 1927 financial year, the Surveyor was directed to prepare a comprehensive scheme of road improvement, to embrace all streets and roads in the urban district, and thus provide work for the unemployed and improve the town generally.

NEW NEWRY RECREATION GROUND.

The Council formally approved (subject to a grant of £131 being obtained from the Unemployment Fund) of enclosing and laying out a recreation ground on the Warrenpoint road, the land having been given, free of cost, by Mr. T. P. Willis, an ex-chairman of the Council. The total cost of the scheme is estimated at £330, exclusive of shelter or seating accommodation.

The business man is completely demoralising the theatre.—Sir Barry Jackson.
